HEW Charges Sex Bias In An All-Boy Choir

By RICHARD CABELLI
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An elementary school's all-boy choir whose singers have not yet matured into tenors and baritones is under fire from the federal government for discriminating against girls. The Office of Civil Rights in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare says the all-boy choir of fifth and sixth graders in Wethersfield, Conn., violates a rule barring single-sex choruses. The only justification for such a group would be "requirements based on vocal range and quality," the government says, but in this case the boys' voices are as high as the girls'.

HEW found itself at odds with President Ford in another recent controversy over sex discrimination. In that case, the department ruled that father-son and mother-daughter dinners held in Scottsdale, Ariz., schools were discriminatory. Ford ordered the ruling suspended and threatened to seek an amendment to the law if an HEW review upheld the original interpretation.

"This looks like a case of bureaucratic interference in a legitimate educational program," Rep. William Cotter, D-Conn., said Friday about the all-boy singing group. He said the ruling "may illustrate what happens when well-meaning but overzealous bureaucrats get hold of a good law and make it absurd." HEW said it is reviewing the matter.

Cotter had been contacted earlier by Vaughn Howland, director of elementary and secondary education for the Wethersfield school system. Howland said he was worried about the HEW ruling, but that the government had not threatened to cut off any federal funding. "We didn't want to be in a position of noncompliance," Howland said.

The school started its boys' choir to entice some youngsters who shied away from coeducational music groups. The choir meets after school and receives no money from the town. Cotter charged that the government's ruling in the Wethersfield case "goes beyond the intent of Congress" in Title IX regulations passed to give girls parity with their male schoolmates. He said that in this case "the regulations have succeeded in interfering with the system's music program without doing much for advancing the goals of nondiscrimination."

Although HEW has yet to deliver an ultimatum to Wethersfield schools, Howland has received wide-spread support for the choir. "I can't believe the federal government has gone this far," wrote Jeff Harrison, president of the Oklahoma University Men's Glee Club in a letter of support. "Don't knuckle under."

Ford Says Ole Miss Clincher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of President Ford say he has swung a majority of Mississippi's uncommitted delegates and can turn his attention from the GOP presidential nomination to the task of choosing a running mate. Ford returned to Washington Friday night after spending the day meeting with Mississippi delegates whose 30 votes at the Republican convention could give him the nomination.

Ford backers saw the trip as a chance for Ford to take Mississippi's delegates permanently away from challenger Ronald Reagan, whose stock among the conservative Dixie Republicans sank after he said he would name liberal Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., as his running mate.

Mississippi GOP leader Clarke Reed, who endorsed Ford after Reagan's Schweiker decision, said Ford's visit had accomplished its purpose and that it appears to him that Ford has won the majority of the Mississippi votes. He said the Mississippians have hopes of seeing their delegation "put Ford over the top" at the GOP convention.

Meanwhile, Ford obviously was concerned with showing that he is no longer concerned with the Reagan challenge but has turned his thoughts toward picking a running mate and campaigning against Democratic nominee Jimmy Carter.

Reagan was to spend the weekend resting in Northern California.

Ford told his Mississippi supporters during closed-door meetings that he would seek the advice of each of the 4,518 delegates and alternates to the GOP convention in choosing his running mate.

A Ford spokesman later said Ford didn't mean he would let the party convention pick the vice presidential nominee, explaining that Ford was "asking for views, but the final decision is going to be his."

And Ford told supporters in Jackson, Miss., that he plans to call Carter a liberal who embraces what he called a free-spending voting record of Congress.

"Any candidate who embraces that voting record is vulnerable and he must be held accountable," Ford said.

Judge Byrns Dismisses Joseph Recall Challenge

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Charles Joseph's challenge to election results which recalled him from office as Benton Harbor mayor was dismissed Friday in Berrien Circuit court because attorneys for both sides failed to appear for a pre-trial conference.

"This court can only conclude there is a lack of interest in the case by both sides," Judge Chester J. Byrns said in throwing the case out of court.

"Neither side has pursued the case seriously," the judge said. "I believe this court has been abused by both sides."

Benton Harbor voters will ballot Tuesday to fill the offices of mayor and three city commission seats that were recalled in an election May 18. Joseph's suit contested only his recall and Tuesday's election was scheduled regardless of that suit.

Also on Tuesday's ballot is a recall proposition on City Commissioner Helen Ford, an ally of Joseph's.

Byrns said the missing lawyers yesterday were Alvin Davidson, of Kalamazoo, representing Joseph, and Clinton Canaday III, of Lansing, representing the City of Benton Harbor, defendant in the case.

Byrns said the pre-trial hearing was scheduled for 10 a.m. and notices had been sent to both attorneys. Byrns dismissed the case at 11:45 a.m., saying "it's a complete waste of time of the staff and this court."

The hearing had been scheduled to act on motions that might arrive before the case went to court.

Byrns yesterday placed into the record a mailgram dated July 21 from a man identified as Alty. Archie B. Weston of Chicago. The mailgram stated Weston was taking over as Joseph's counsel and was licensed to practice in Michigan.

Byrns said he checked with the Michigan Bar association and there is no listing of an Archie B. Weston licensed to practice in Michigan.

Byrns noted during a previous hearing Joseph had requested a Chicago attorney to take over the case, and Byrns said Joseph could have any attorney he wanted — provided the attorney was licensed to practice in Michigan.

Byrns said no request for an adjournment was received yesterday.

Martin Athlete Gets 5-25 Years

By STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

ALLEGAN — Vincent Peckens, a 17-year-old Martin high school athlete charged with the rape and attempted murder of a 20-year-old Oshtemo woman, has been sentenced to a prison term of 5½ to 25 years.

The sentence was imposed in Allegan county circuit court yesterday by Judge George Corsiglia, according to Allegan Prosecuting Atty. Fred R. Hunter.

Peckens will be eligible for parole in about 3½ to four years, according to the Michigan Department of Corrections. He pleaded guilty on March 25 to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Hunter said Judge Corsiglia talked to Peckens "for a long time" before the sentence. According to Hunter, Corsiglia recommended Peckens not serve his time in a maximum security prison, that he get further psychiatric testing and evaluation and that he complete his high school education while in prison. Peckens would have been a senior at Martin, this year.

Hunter said Peckens gave no outward emotional reaction when sentenced. Hunter termed the case "a difficult one because everybody said he (Peckens) was a perfect young man except for this incident."

Peckens was accused of the June 12, 1975, rape and knifing of a 20-year-old Oshtemo woman at a gravel pit north of Oshtemo in southeast Allegan county. While free on bond he was a starting member of the Martin high school basketball team this past winter.

The 6-foot-3 youth, who is married, was taken into circuit court for trial after losing a legal battle to have the case handled in juvenile court. He was 16 at the time of the crime.

A charge of criminal sexual conduct of the first degree was dismissed against Peckens after he pleaded guilty to the assault charge.

Her Bout With Mugger Turns Into Interview

DETROIT (AP) — A would-be mugger with a knife chose a wire service reporter as his victim Friday. But he wound up empty-handed and was interviewed for a story. Associated Press reporter Holly Sims, 26, was walking to the store near her home when a young man on a bicycle rode up behind her and grabbed her shoulder bag. She held on and fell to the sidewalk while the bike-riding mugger dragged her along for several feet. The bike toppled over and when Ms. Sims struggled to her feet, the young man jabbed a knife to within a few feet of her stomach.

"Give me your purse or I'll cut you down," he told Ms. Sims. "I had never been mugged before and didn't know what to do. I swore," she said. Her assailant seemed stunned. The neckerchief fell from his face.

"He looked at me and then at his 10-speed bicycle," said Ms. Sims, who recalled later that the young man then complained that the fall had broken his bike. "You think you got problems. Look at me," said Ms. Sims, who suffered cuts on her right arm and back.

He dropped his knife, bent over his bicycle and said, "I didn't mean to run you down." When she asked her assailant why he had done it, he simply replied that he was sorry. She picked up the knife off the sidewalk and put it in her pocket. He made no motion to reclaim it.

She asked him if he worked and he replied, "I'm going into the Army Aug. 8. I can't find nothing to do around here." He said he hadn't found a job since he left high school two years ago. "That's why I'm going in," he told Ms. Sims.

The penitent mugger even mentioned a street in a neighborhood nearby when the reporter asked him where he lived. She asked him about the clash of youth gangs which has punctuated this long hot summer in Detroit, but he said he knew nothing about it and climbed back on his bicycle.

"If you see me in the street again will you cut me down?" Miss Sims asked. "No," he said, and cycled away.

Important Election For Benton Harbor

Michigan holds primary elections next Tuesday and they're important to every community in the state.

But the day has even more than usual significance for the City of Benton Harbor. Benton Harbor is holding a special election to fill out the membership of a city commission that has been unable to function since May 18. On that date, former Mayor Charles Joseph and three other members of his Clean Slate party were recalled by voters of the city.

Since the recall, the commission has been unable to muster at any one time all of the remaining five members required to establish a quorum that can do business.

Commissioner Helen Ford, a political ally of the ex-mayor, has been repeatedly absent since recall. And twice when she was present, another Clean Slater, Commissioner Alfred Williams, has been absent.

Political opponents have charged Mrs. Ford with intentionally stymieing the city commission's ability to do business. One result is that recall petitions have been filed against her, and her commission job will be on the line Tuesday.

Also to be decided will be contests for the four commission posts that were vacated by the May 18th recall.

There are several candidates. They represent widely differing points of view toward city government. Some are out for what government will do for them; others want to do something for government.

In the latter category is one candidate who deserves strong support from everyone who wants to get Benton Harbor back on the track of effective service and responsibility in local government. He is Joel Carben Patterson, a businessman who is a new-comer to politics.

He owns and operates an expanding grocery and variety store on Empire avenue. He is the father of four children in the Benton Harbor school system.

He's jumped into the political arena for two reasons: first, he wants a community where his children can become well educated in a secure environment; and, second, he wants a clean, orderly, safe town where his business can prosper.

He doesn't want anything for himself out of politics that won't benefit every other resident equally. He believes in letting professionals run the city and get the pay. The commission makes policy only, he believes. He wants time to run his business and supervise his children.

That's the kind of man Benton Harbor needs to lead its elected government. And as we did two weeks ago, we urge every Benton Harbor elector to get out Tuesday and cast a vote for Joel Patterson.

He can put some pride back in our old home town.

Would Have Been Worse Except For Ford Vetoes

Awash in red ink, the federal government has closed its books for fiscal 1976 with the largest deficit in the nation's history — $65.6 billion. By way of comprehending that mind-boggling figure, the deficit for fiscal 1975 was $43.6 billion.

It could have been worse, believe it or not. Back in January, estimates were that the deficit for the year ending last June 30 would be more than $10 billion higher than it turned out to be. Errors in calculating both revenues and spending reduced the loss somewhat.

Military spending took the sharpest decline from January estimates.

Defense appropriations, military assistance and veterans aid totaled $3.2 billion less than earlier estimates. The huge Department of Health, Education and Welfare continued its expansive ways exceeding January estimates by $1.1 billion, to a new high of $128.8 billion.

No meaningful budget estimates are available for the next fiscal year, which for the first time begins on Oct. 1. But if the $4 billion employment assistance bill passed over the President's veto is any indication, Congress will be well on the way toward creating another sea of inflationary red ink.

Why Don't They Just Say 'It's Gonna Rain'?

Good day, friends. There is a high accumulation of altocirrus clouds over the western areas today and it is possible we may have some showers tomorrow.

On the other hand, in the zone south of the alto-cirrus we have a disturbance characterized by increasing density which may result in the stratus-cumulus changing to nimbus, and if that should coincide with a west-east wind — which is entirely possible — then we may have rain tomorrow forenoon, followed by cloudy to partly cloudy weather in the afternoon.

The reports from regions in the path of this recipient disturbance indicate a falling barometer accompanied by slightly cooler to definitely cooler temperatures by the middle of the night.

Conversely, if these currently local disturbances are not pushed eastward by a sustained wind it is quite likely we shall have a clear, calm, warm day tomorrow typical of this beautiful season of the year, and pilots will find flying conditions ideal unless they encounter turbulences.

Directly to the north we have what is known among meteorologists as a status quo situation. This means the weather could change to one of several conditions unpredictably. So you may or may not have to sleep under blankets tonight. That's the way the weather lingo goes on TV.

Whatever happened to the old-time prognosticator who, at virtually no expense, gazed skyward, stuck a moistened finger in the air, said yes it was going to rain or no it wasn't — and, on average, was right 50 per cent of the time?

The Big Money Was On Mondale

WASHINGTON — Jimmy Carter's vice-presidential nominee, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, last ran for office in 1972.

The sources of his campaign financing are most curious for a man who has, according to the record and his public statements, consistently challenged special interests, and who has regularly proclaimed his support for the little man.

It is to be noted that he and his aides collected more than a half million dollars in that campaign, and that he outspent his opponent, then-Rep. Philip Hansen, by almost 80 per cent.

Mondale raised 15 times as much as his opponent — $60,000 to Hansen's $4,000 — in out-of-state donations — $101 and up. Mondale received 27 times as much money from special interest groups — $137,000 to Hansen's $5,000.

Mondale had two times as many big contributors as Hansen and collected almost twice as much money from big donors.

But if one looks at small donors, Hansen outdrew Mondale $121,000 to $105,000.

Mondale's chief financial support, of course, came from the big labor organizations, which donated close to $60,000 to his 1972 campaign.

The major union contributors included the national AFL-CIO, the Machinists, the Independent Teamsters, the Steelworkers, the United Auto Workers, the National Education Association. Mondale received significant financial support from dairy and co-op groups. He has also attracted some motion picture money.

Among Mondale's major 1972 contributions were $5,000 from the President of Ross Investment Company, $2,000 from the President of Giant Foods, $4,000 from the President of Control Data Corporation, $4,000 from the Chairman of the Board of Cummings Engine, $1,000 each from John Cowles and John Cowles Jr., the Chairman and President of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune, $1,000 from Louise H. Benton, Vice President of Encyclopedia Britannica, $1,000 from a general partner of Lazard-Freres, investment bankers, $500 from the chairman of the board of Lowes Corporation, $1,000 from the president of United Artists, $1,000 from the chairman of the board of National General, a theater conglomerate, $500 from an investment banker at Lehman Brothers, and $1,000 from Cyrus Eaton, $500 from Henry Luce II, vice president of Time, Inc.

Other than the absence of much in the way of financial support by big labor unions in Carter's race for the presidential nomination, the Carter and Mondale big giver lists show a striking degree of similarity. This points up Carter's suggestion, at the time he recommended Mondale for the Vice Presidency, that he and Mondale were very close together in their thinking.

What Mondale adds to the Carter ticket is hefty financial backing from the richest of the labor unions.

Though for the record, the presidential campaigns will be financed entirely from Federal government funds, as checked off on income tax returns. The revised law is so structured that independent agencies such as unions and other groups will be able to legally spend millions of dollars in promoting the president and vice president candidates of their choice, providing they do this carefully.

PROFONENT FOR JOHNSON'S PLAN

Editor,
Once again the "tug of war" between the judiciary and the corrections department is vigorously underway with philosophically varying schools of thought.

I am referring to your Herald-Palladium article of July 22, 1976 headlined "Judge Byrns Opposes Early Parole Plan." After digesting Judge Byrns' thoughts and proposals, I have come to the conclusion that I must be a proponent of Perry Johnson's remedy, being that of early release for low-risk, non-violent offenders, as his criteria of "character profile" seems valid and in the spirit of good solid common sense.

I contrarily can see Judge Byrns' concern as a judicial officer, for it is a part of his sworn duties to be not just a referee of the law, but a type of skillful criminal defendant counselor, weighing and tempering individual punishment with adequate treatment or rehabilitation. But in my view the theory of overcrowdedness and treatment are not conducive to each other, unless we try to cross the bridge of a double standard.

Certainly, a tempering point must be found whereby both the judiciary and corrections department can be satisfied and not suffer from an acute

"hamstring condition."

Indeed, from a common sense viewpoint the only imminently effective action is to reduce prison populations by whatever means necessary, short of complete genocide.

I can tell you as an inmate of Marquette prison for some nearly 4 years that Perry Johnson's repeated depiction of the alleged "powder keg" condition is no myth, but a terrifying, pervasive reality, the likes of which if exploded would make Mount Vesuvius seem like a firecracker.

The theory of more prison construction is collaterally effective towards countering the population explosion, however, the dilemma is there is not enough time, the prisons are not overcrowded 3 or 4 years from now, but now, today!

Dissent among the power ranks can only result in no viable solution, but rather the "little man" will pay the price in the end.

From my viewpoint, I can tell you all the irony of this situation. For years Johnson, corrections director, has been a proponent of probation for first offenders with non-violent crimes. He has pleaded with the judiciary of this state to mete out probation and deferred prosecutions whenever possible. The judiciary has not been responsive and today we have this monumental pressure cooker as a result.

The irony is the "character profile" set forth for early parole candidates is the same as the "character profile" set forth for probation. The irony being, would-be probationers are the element overcrowding the prisons. This non-probation attitude is responsible the last 4 or 5 years for the snowballing population.

Fifty-nine accident and first aid cases handled at Mercy hospital's emergency and receiving rooms this last Saturday and Sunday set an all-time record for the local institution. Since July 1, and up to and including Sunday, no less than 446 emergencies have been taken care of at Mercy.

A persistent rumor that visitors in the twin cities today included "Scarface" Al Caponi, Chicago's much vaunted and alleged rum runner and accused Cicero vice lord, could not be exactly corroborated. The report had it that Caponi and a party of friends motored over from Chicago last night and stopped at the Hotel Vincent in Benton Harbor. The Vincent management said that they had no guests registered under this name, so if Caponi is here, or was here, it was entirely incongruous.

Benton Harbor's Republican candidate for state senator, George S. Barnard, has two public buildings in his credit which friends of the local man say are about the best assets a candidate can have in a political race. The city's new Naval armory is one of Mr. Barnard's credit marks for legislative work in the lower house. The other is the state fish hatchery at Blue Creek, east of Millburg.

A company has been formed in St. Joseph to market a new breakfast food to be known as Nutrocrust. The food will be manufactured by the Twin City Milling company and will be advertised extensively both in the magazines and newspapers. H.L. Parrish is at the head of the enterprise which it is believed will develop into a large industry.

E. Durkee, who left here last December for Las Vegas, New Mexico, has returned home after an absence of seven months. Las Vegas is a city of 10,000 persons, part of whom are Americans. It is located on the Santa Fe railroad being over 1,500 feet above sea level. In conversation with the News Mr. Durkee said: "The place is rapidly filling up with boomers and capitalists and ere long what was once a desert will be a thriving city. My advice to young men with trades and professions is the same as Horace Greeley's, go west."

Republican leadership now consists of a kind of triumvirate which, rather as in the Roman precedent, succeeded upon the political death of Richard Nixon. Two of its principal members now approach Kansas City in a virtual dead heat, but the third member has been quietly vacationing at his ranch near Floresville, Tex.

John Connally has his critics within the Republican Party. His personality can be abrasive to some, and his positions cut across various orthodoxies. Nevertheless, both Ford and Reagan supporters have wondered aloud whether a Connally vice presidential nomination this year does not make a great deal of sense. In any case, Connally, at 59, will be a figure to conjure with after 1976.

Even those who dislike Connally do not question for a moment either his abilities as a campaigner or his talent for government.

In many ways, curiously, Connally reminds you of an earlier Republican maverick, Teddy Roosevelt. Much about Connally is conservative, but he bristles with ideas as a porcupine does with quills. Some of these ideas may not be altogether sound, but Connally is not wedded to them, and he does, like T.R., convey a sense of movement and of possibility.

One of his current projects, a nationwide movement to resist Communist inroads in the Mediterranean, may or may not have some effect, but it is the sort of thing that would have appealed to T.R. It cannot hurt, and it might stiffen spines in Rome. Not least, it gives Connally valuable lines to the electorally important Italo-American ethnic community.

Like Teddy Roosevelt, Connally is a strong American nationalist. Interestingly, both served with Cabinet rank in the Navy, T.R. as Assistant Secretary and Connally as Secretary. As a nationalist, Connally embodies as an American one of the decisive ideas in modern politics. Internationalism is absolutely dead, both in its Communist and its liberal-idealistic forms.

Connally has always favored a powerful national defense and he takes a hard-eyed view of Soviet intentions. He would not give up control of the Panama Canal. Shocking though the idea might be to the current State Department, Connally says he would go so far as to risk war with Panama in order to retain control of the canal.

On the record, Connally is not a "small government" man, but here some distinctions are necessary. The attitude of the American people seems to me ambivalent. The current anti-Washington mood reflects widespread disapproval of specific Federal actions, from busing to onerous regulations of all kinds. The public is not, however, Whiggish — it is not committed on principle to weak government. In pursuit of the goals of the Preamble to the Constitution, such as providing for the common defense, securing domestic tranquility, and so forth, strong and effective government would be very popular indeed.

Important Election For Benton Harbor

Michigan holds primary elections next Tuesday and they're important to every community in the state.

But the day has even more than usual significance for the City of Benton Harbor. Benton Harbor is holding a special election to fill out the membership of a city commission that has been unable to function since May 18. On that date, former Mayor Charles Joseph and three other members of his Clean Slate party were recalled by voters of the city.

Since the recall, the commission has been unable to muster at any one time all of the remaining five members required to establish a quorum that can do business.

Commissioner Helen Ford, a political ally of the ex-mayor, has been repeatedly absent since recall. And twice when she was present, another Clean Slate, Commissioner Alfred Williams, has been absent.

Political opponents have charged Mrs. Ford with intentionally stymieing the city commission's ability to do business. One result is that recall petitions have been filed against her, and her commission job will be on the line Tuesday.

Also to be decided will be contests for the four commission posts that were vacated by the May 18th recall.

There are several candidates. They represent widely differing points of view toward city government. Some are out for what government will do for them; others want to do something for government.

In the latter category is one candidate who deserves strong support from everyone who wants to get Benton Harbor back on the track of effective service and responsibility in local government. He is Joel Carben Patterson, a businessman who is a newcomer to politics.

He owns and operates an expanding grocery and variety store on Empire avenue. He is the father of four children in the Benton Harbor school system.

He's jumped into the political arena for two reasons: first, he wants a community where his children can become well educated in a secure environment; and, second, he wants a clean, orderly, safe town where his business can prosper.

He doesn't want anything for himself out of politics that won't benefit every other resident equally. He believes in letting professionals run the city and get the pay. The commission makes policy only, he believes. He wants time to run his business and supervise his children.

That's the kind of man Benton Harbor needs to lead its elected government. And as we did two weeks ago, we urge every Benton Harbor elector to get out Tuesday and cast a vote for Joel Patterson.

He can put some pride back in our old home town.

Would Have Been Worse Except For Ford Vetoes

Awash in red ink, the federal government has closed its books for fiscal 1976 with the largest deficit in the nation's history — $65.6 billion. By way of comprehending that mind-boggling figure, the deficit for fiscal 1975 was $43.6 billion.

It could have been worse, believe it or not. Back in January, estimates were that the deficit for the year ending last June 30 would be more than $10 billion higher than it turned out to be. Errors in calculating both revenues and spending reduced the loss somewhat.

Military spending took the sharpest decline from January estimates.

Defense appropriations, military assistance and veterans aid totaled $3.2 billion less than earlier estimates. The huge Department of Health, Education and Welfare continued its expansive ways by exceeding January estimates by $1.1 billion, to a new high of $128.8 billion.

No meaningful budget estimates are available for the next fiscal year, which for the first time begins on Oct. 1. But if the $4 billion employment assistance bill passed over the President's veto is any indication, Congress will be well on the way toward creating another sea of inflationary red ink.

Why Don't They Just Say 'It's Gonna Rain'?

Good day, friends. There is a high accumulation of alto-cirrus clouds over the western areas today and it is possible we may have some showers tomorrow.

On the other hand, in the zone south of the alto-cirrus we have a disturbance characterized by increasing density which may result in the stratus-cumulus changing to nimbus, and if that should coincide with a west-east-wind — which is entirely possible — then we may have rain tomorrow forenoon, followed by cloudy to partly cloudy weather in the afternoon.

The reports from regions in the path of this recipient disturbance indicate a falling barometer accompanied by slightly cooler to definitely cooler temperatures by the middle of the night.

Conversely, if these currently local disturbances are not pushed eastward by a sustained wind it is quite likely we shall have a clear, calm, warm day tomorrow typical of this beautiful season of the year, and pilots will find flying conditions ideal unless they encounter turbulences.

Directly to the north we have what is known among meteorologists as a status quo situation. This means the weather could change to one of several conditions unpredictably. So you may or may not have to sleep under blankets tonight. That's the way the weather lingo goes on TV.

Whatever happened to the old-time prognosticator who, at virtually no expense, gazed skyward, stuck a moistened finger in the air, said yes it was going to rain or no it wasn't — and, on average, was right 50 per cent of the time?

The Big Money Was On Mondale

WASHINGTON — Jimmy Carter's vice-presidential nominee, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, last ran for office in 1972. The sources of his campaign financing are most curious for a man who has, according to the record and his public statements, consistently challenged special interests, and who has regularly proclaimed his support for the little man.

It is to be noted that he and his aides collected more than a half million dollars in that campaign, and that he outspent his opponent, then-Rep. Philip Hansen, by almost 80 per cent.

Mondale raised 15 times as much as his opponent — $66,000 to Hansen's $4,000 — in out-of-state donations — $101 and up. Mondale received 27 times as much money from special interest groups — $137,000 to Hansen's $5,000.

GRAND HAVEN — A U.S. Coast Guard seaman stationed at St. Joseph, and cited for heroism for a June, 1975, rescue near Bridgman, will be guest of honor at the Grand Haven Coast Guard festival here the weekend of Aug. 7.

Boatswain's Mate Second Class Patrick M. Marquardt, 23, Edgewood, Pa., will participate in the community's observance of the 18th anniversary of the Coast Guard.

In April of this year, Marquardt was awarded the Coast Guard Commendation Medal for his part in the June, 1975, Lake Michigan rescue of five people near Bridgman.

The five were in a wave-tossed boat that Marquardt and another seaman were unable to get a line to.

Marquardt swam to the boat, fitted three children with life jackets and towed them ashore and then assisted the parents ashore, the Coast Guard has said.

Marquardt entered the service in October, 1972, and is due to be discharged this October. He plans to stay in Michigan to attend Central Michigan university.

A Rose Is A Rose...
But George Roses Differ

There is more than one George Rose in the Coloma and Watervliet area. In fact, there are at least three more. The George Rose whose address is Route 2, Box 140, Coloma, placed a responsibility for debts disclaimer advertisement in The Herald-Palladium this week.

At least two of the other George Roses — and their wives — got some feedback from the notice. They asked The Herald-Palladium to explain they had not placed the ad.

They are George Rose, Sr., president of Rose Die Casting Co. in Watervliet, and his son, George P. Rose, vice president of the firm. These two George Roses live side by side on M-140, Route 2, Watervliet. Their die casting plant is located at 40 Elm street in Watervliet city.

There's a third George Rose in that same family, but he isn't of an age for financial responsibility. He is George P. Rose, Jr., grandson of George Sr. and son of George P. He is 9 and lives at home with his parents.

Berrien Board Is Upheld
On Dissolution Of NYC

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

A hearing officer has cleared Berrien county's board of commissioners of a grievance filed by former employees of the Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC), according to the director of Berrien's CETA program.

Weldon Burden, Comprehensive Employment Training Act director, said the grievance filed by the eight employees claimed the board had no right to dissolve the county's NYC program and transfer employees to the county's Youth Service and Assistance Bureau (YSAB).

Burden said the hearing officer, Malcolm House, director of industrial relations for Clark Equipment Co. in Buchanan, ruled the county "was within its authority and entirely proper" in disbanding the program and transferring employees. House was selected by Burden to serve as hearing officer.

Burden said he, too, had earlier denied the grievance after an investigation. He said the grievance was filed with his office because NYC had been funded by CETA.

Burden said two of the eight NYC employees were hired to work in the YSAB, but the other six could not be hired because they didn't meet the criteria under administrative rules of probate court, which has the responsibility for juveniles.

Included in those not hired was Ocie Mitchell, former NYC director. Burden said the eight can now appeal the hearing officer's decision to the federal Department of Labor if they are not satisfied.

Those who filed the grievance were Mitchell, Carl Brown, Janice Davis, Morris Thompson, Les Diekema, Janet Young, Patricia Wilson, and Peggy Reed. Thompson and Diekema were hired by YSAB.

NYC was an agency which coordinated a summer jobs program for disadvantaged youth, who usually worked for governmental and non-profit agencies, while YSAB was originated to work with juvenile offenders before they reach court.

Commissioners at the time NYC was disbanded said the transfer of CETA funds to YSAB was the only way to keep both programs going, explaining both programs could have expired were they not consolidated.

Their Goal: Save Our Church

CHICAGO — "Save our church building" is the rallying cry this summer for more than 12,000 4-H junior leaders throughout the State of Indiana.

A white frame church now on land adjacent to the Indiana 4-H Center near West Lafayette has been donated to the center provided it is moved by fall.

Used by Hoosier junior leaders for the last 12 years, the building will be a much-needed addition to the developing 4-H center. So, with the approval of the Indiana 4-H Foundation, junior leaders have launched a drive to raise $12,000 to move the church.

4-H clubs throughout the state have been conducting fund-raising projects — bake sales, fish fries, car washes — to support the junior leaders' drive. With the added contributions of individuals, organizations, churches and businesses, $7,500 of the $12,000 goal had been raised by June 15.

Said Dr. R.L. Kohls, Purdue university's dean of agriculture and a Foundation board member, "Not one teenage member of the state 4-H Junior Leader Council expressed a moment's reservation about the eventual success of the mission. Their only concern was the best method of doing the job — not could the job be done."

These Indiana 4-H'ers demonstrate the self-confidence and enthusiasm typical of the young people nation-wide who assume leadership roles in 4-H.

4-H projects and activities supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service give boys and girls 9-19 opportunities to identify and understand the roles, attitudes, tasks and functions necessary for effective leadership.

Junior and teen leaders play an important part in strengthening and expanding local 4-H clubs. They encourage other 4-H'ers to assume leadership responsibilities. And, as they work with adults in leadership position, 4-H juniors and teens actively participate in program planning, development and implementation.

Since 1973 Reader's Digest has encouraged 4-H'ers through its sponsorship of awards in the national 4-H leadership program. Incentives include medals of honor to as many as four 4-H'ers per county and an expense-paid trip to the 55th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 28-Dec. 2 in Chicago, to one boy or girl in each state.

Nine $800 college scholarships go to national winners. Of these, the high-ranking boy and girl receive silver trays presented in the name of the President of the United States.

All winners are selected by the Extension Service. Awards are arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service committee.

International Eucharistic Congress Begins Sunday

First In U.S. In 50 Years

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — What may be the largest religious gathering in U.S. history, the 41st International Eucharistic Congress, takes place starting Sunday in Philadelphia, flooding the city with people and pagantry.

It's the first such affair in this country in 50 years.

A global Roman Catholic conclave of church leaders and laity, it is expected to draw more than a million people for an eight-day round of liturgies, performances, exhibits, parades and seminars.

A "spiritual Olympics," it has been called.

With events going on simultaneously at halls and arenas across the city, the program has a pattern something like a 10-ring circus.

But it's a festival of faith, focused on the bread and wine of the Christian eucharist, the reenactment of Christ's Last Supper, in which he is considered present, uniting God with humanity.

The word eucharist itself means "thanksgiving" — gratitude for the divine presence.

With that as the central motif, the congress branches out into a lavish and varied fare of drama, music, dance, discussions, art shows, processions, diverse national heritage liturgies, receptions and ceremonies.

"The congress will offer a complete representation of the universality and diversity of the church, of every group who makes up the people of God," says the Rev. Walter J. Conway, the congress executive secretary.

It also has its ecumenical dimensions, with participation scheduled by representatives of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches.

"The eucharist, however we celebrate it, is a real commitment to one another, and to the shared mission of the church in the world," says the Rev. Charles V. Devlin, secretary of a committee for interdenominational participation.

An estimated third of those attending are coming from overseas.

Pope Paul VI initially was expected to be among them, but word came recently that arthritis, making it hard for him to walk, prevented the trip. He'll be represented by his papal legate, Cardinal James Knox, formerly of Australia, now of the Vatican.

The series of world eucharistic congresses started 83 years ago in 1881 in Lille, France, intended to counterbalance society's rising secular tide of world political and scientific interests and conferences.

Only about 800 people — and two bishops — attended that first congress, but the numbers and eminent figures taking part have swelled with the years, with about 450 bishops and 50 cardinals, many from abroad, involved in the Philadelphia assembly.

The last such congress in this country was in Chicago in 1926. It attracted about a million people. While estimates for Philadelphia originally were two to three million, this has been scaled down without the Pope as a drawing card, but it's still expected to match or exceed the Chicago turnout.

Costs are estimated at around $1 million.

Its theme: "The Eucharist and the Hungers of the Human Family."

On each of the eight days, different aspects of the "hungers" will be stressed, including "hungers" for God, for bread, for justice, for spirit, for truth, for understanding, for peace and for Christ.

Invited notables, besides church figures, include President Ford and Princess Grace, formerly actress Grace Kelly of Philadelphia, and her husband, Prince Rainier, ruler of Monaco.

No. 250. The Linen Girdle

The Lord commanded Jeremiah to purchase a linen loincloth and to wear it, but not to wash it. He was not to allow a drop of water to touch it. Later, Jeremiah was commanded to take the girdle to the Euphrates River and to hide it in a hole in the rocks there. Jeremiah did as he was commanded.

Sometime later, Jeremiah was commanded to return to the river and retrieve the girdle he had hidden there. When he dug it up, he found it in tatters; it had been utterly ruined by mildew and rotting.

"Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem. This evil people, which refuse to hear my words, which walk in the imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods, to serve them, and to worship the, shall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing. # 'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Proud Of Mom And Dad

Dear Ann Landers: Could you possibly print this letter to my mom and dad? Sometimes I find it hard to express myself and this is an easy way to tell them.

Dear Mom and Dad: I just want to say thank you for all your years of helping me grow up. It took me a while to realize that I wasn't bad off when God gave me you two as parents. I took a look around at my friends' parents, and think I'll keep you.

Letting me learn by my own mistakes and teaching me to make decisions on my own was a good idea. You never forced me. The key words are trust and standing by to help. Without trust, no relationship can work. I grew up on my own time by my own methods. You let me think my own thoughts and allowed me to protest if I felt I was right. Many of my friends envy our relationship. They've told me so. I'm proud to have you two as parents, and I hope one day you will be proud of me.

— Guess Who

Dear Guess: Let 'em guess! No initials, no city, no indication revealing whether by a girl or boy. I hope thousands of parents will think it was authored by their sons or daughters. It would make their day!

No Prune Now

Dear Ann Landers: I thought I'd be on the last person on earth who would ever write to you until I read your reply to Missouri Aunt.

When I was 14 I had a slight complexion problem and was told that lying in the sun would help dry up my oily skin. It wasn't until I was 19 that I read in your column about how bad the sun was for the skin. After that no more sunbathing for me.

I'm 25 now with very nice skin, but I wonder if I am doomed to look like a prune at 40 because of the years that I baked in the sun. Can you put my mind at ease? — Plum Sorry

Dear Plum: If you stopped broiling your epidermis at age 19, you don't have to worry about looking like a prune at 40. Just stay out of the sun from now on, doll, and it'll be peaches and cream long after your sun-worshipping sisters have

Heir Apparent

Dear Ann Landers: Please respond to my question using good taste as the criterion rather than morality — "old" or "new."

What type of wedding would be best for a pregnant bride? Also, what type of dress would be appropriate? — Her Mother

Dear Mother: You don't say how far along the bride is. If her condition is not apparent you can have any kind of wedding you want and the bride can wear anything she wishes.

If, however, her pregnancy is obvious, I suggest a loose-fitting, tent-style garment and a family - and - close - friends - only wedding. (P.S. You might instruct the photographer to concentrate on head shots of the bride and groom.)

Dear Ann Landers: I read an item in the paper yesterday proving that tired clichés are more than a collection of words.

The two clichés that came to mind were "death and taxes" and "over my dead body."

Vivian Kellems, who spent most of her life fighting the Internal Revenue Service, said repeatedly, the only way the government would collect taxes from her would be "over my dead body."

That feisty woman died last year and I just read that the IRS collected $25,000 from her estate in back taxes. Does this suggest anything to you, Ann Landers? — A Reader

Dear Reader: Yes. Another cliché: "You can't fight city hall."

$700 Grant For Library

WATERVLIET — Watervliet public library has received a $700 grant to be utilized over a two-year period from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek.

Wanda McLain, Watervliet librarian, said the grant will be used for further education of staff by attending workshops and for the purchasing of reference materials.

Kellogg Foundation president, Dr. Russell G. Mawby, said, "The grant to the Watervliet library is one of approximately 450 similar awards being made to public and academic — college, university, and community college — libraries throughout the state to utilize existing informational networking to improve service for all Michigan library patrons."

The foundation is providing over $1,500,000 in grants for the total statewide informational network program which will tie Michigan's libraries to the state's regional library system centers, the state library consortium with the national cataloging service of the Ohio college library center of Columbus, Ohio.

"The voluntary integration of library services and the application of modern technology are promising means of adding to the kinds, quality and speed of information provided to library patrons," Dr. Mawby said. "The Kellogg Foundation is confident that when the network system is in place, first class service will be available to every citizen utilizing library resources."

Fernwood Schedule

Openings remain in two classes, wildlife art and teen's pottery, as well as a prairie walk at Fernwood Nature Center.

Wildlife art is a one-day workshop which will meet from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday, Aug. 2.

Rod Ruth, instructor, is presenting drawing and painting wildlife for several major publishing companies. He has illustrated science fiction magazines, short stories and text books.

Examples of his work will be available for students to examine while participating in an informal question and answer period. Students may bring samples of their own work for criticism and encouragement.

Helen Jenkins will instruct teen's pottery which will meet from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday for three consecutive weeks beginning Aug. 2.

Teens will work on hand building techniques. Those wishing more advanced instruction will begin or continue learning to use a potter's wheel. Practice in glaze mixing and more advanced methods of decoration will be included.

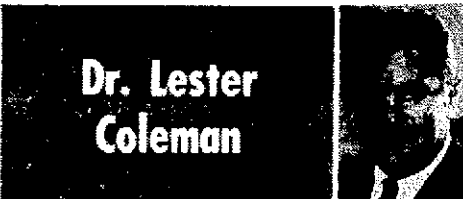

Max Medley, Fernwood's botanist, will lead the prairie walk Sunday, Aug. 8, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. A slide show is planned before the walk to help everyone understand and identify the young plants that will be seen on the walk.

Persons interested in the classes and prairie walk may contact Fernwood to register. Fernwood is located on Range Line road, south of Berrien Springs.

Free Films

NILES — Two free films will be shown Monday, Aug. 2, from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. at the Niles Community Library.

The public is invited. The films will include "Hong Kong — 4 Free Port," showing the conditions of the Chinese refugees living in Hong Kong. The second film, "Michelangelo," presents a Renaissance view of the artist's life and art.

Dr. Lester Coleman

Fifteen to twenty million people live in moderate to complete isolation, surrounded by a wall of silence, with little or no sympathy for the intensity of their problem and their dislocation from society.

The Federal Communications Commission is studying a system that will provide TV captions on television programs.

Setting up the programming device is complicated and in its early phases. When complete, it will open new horizons of enjoyment, participation and education to the deaf.

A special decoding device will make these captions visible only to those who want it. In no way will normal-hearing people be visually disturbed by the captions.

Despair and hope sometimes run parallel. When the pressure of despair becomes great enough, scientific attacks on the cause of despair open new avenues of hope.

Such is the pattern of the epidemic of teenage gonorrhea that is sweeping this country. Thousands of teenagers have this venereal disease without any evidence of symptoms.

Dr. Karen Hein has just completed a study on more than 3,000 sexually active adolescents, 12 to 16 years of age, who have been admitted to a New York City temporary detention center.

Dr. Hein and her co-worker, Dr. Milton I. Cohen, at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, say that they are particularly concerned about the potential complication of gonorrhea without symptoms because the absence of symptoms keeps the patient from presenting himself to the doctor.

The only hope that lies in this despairing study is that parents, educators and doctors will now combine their energies and talents to uncover hidden gonorrhea in young men and women and thus stop this epidemic.

The old expert was teaching his grandson, "Here is a night-mare hand. At least I still shudder when I remember it."

"What's nightmarish about it?" asked the 12-year-old. "You simply duck one heart and win the second. Then you cash four clubs and go after the diamonds. If they break you have ten tricks. If they don't you go down one unless the hearts are 6-2 and the ace of spades is in the hand with the short hearts."

"Unfortunately," said the old man, "I was over twenty and playing in a total point team match. I wanted to take the best play for three notrump and decided that diamonds were not likely to break; that hearts would be 5-3 or 4-4; that if I could get one spade trick home I would be sure of my contract and that if hearts broke 4-1 I would still bring home the bacon."

"So, I won the first heart; led a diamond to dummy at trick two and played a low spade. If East held the ace he would surely have ducked, but West took the trick, cashed four heart tricks and eventually won the match by a few points."

Police Find List Of Kidnap Victims

Pleads Guilty

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A Lansing postal clerk pleaded guilty Friday to federal charges of stealing cash from the mail.

Authorities said 23-year-old Kay Ann Parrish told U.S. Magistrate Steven Kurr she took money intended to pay traffic fines. She was freed on her own recognition. No sentencing date was set.

Court records did not show how much money was involved. Officials said the theft occurred Thursday.

Such a list had been described by some of the kidnaped youngsters.

Meanwhile, Alameda County Sheriff Tom Houchins said Friday that his office is not looking for any new suspects. He said he considers the investigation of the mass abduction over "unless any new information or leads turn up." But a deputy sheriff said later that authorities are pursuing leads on the possible involvement of a woman.

With Frederick N. Woods already in custody, authorities Friday found the paper bag at his family's estate in the Portola Valley, law enforcement sources said.

Authorities confirmed to The Associated Press that the list had been found. It was first reported by the Redwood City Tribune.

Woods, 24, was being kept at the Sacramento County jail. On Monday he is to be turned over to Madera County authorities for arraignment.

Authorities said earlier that a plan for delivering $5 million by airdrop to ransom the 26 children and their bus driver was also found at the Woods home, along with a written scenario for kidnapping a busload of children to be held for ransom.

The kidnapping took place July 15. The children told authorities their names were taken as they were moved one by one from the two vans in which they were transported. Then they were herded into a buried moving van at a Livermore rock quarry owned by Woods' father.

Driver Ed Ray and some of the older boys managed to dig out of the underground prison and free the children after about 17 hours there.

On Friday, three suspects were in custody — Woods, Richard Schoenfeld, 22, and his brother, James L. Schoenfeld, 24.

On the possibility of other suspects, Houchins said, "We are not looking for any new suspects and don't expect to issue additional arrest warrants unless further information indicates we should take that action."

But Deputy Sheriff Jack Baugh said later that a woman may have been involved. "We are still pursuing investigative leads relative to a female," Baugh said. The woman apparently was not involved in the abduction, but could have had "some complicity in the planning stages, either prior to the act or afterwards," he said.

PRECONCEIVED: Jeannie Barton, right, prospective juror not chosen in Los Angeles trial of William and Emily Harris, said one other prospective juror, later chosen for the panel, expressed preconceived notions about guilt of the Harrises before being chosen. She further claims presiding Judge Mark Brandler knew about it. Defense attorney Leonard Weinglass, left, moved for a mistrial and dismissal of all charges against the Harrises. (AP Wirephoto)

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As jurors deliberated the fate of William and Emily Harris, the defense claimed the judge failed to disclose allegations that one juror may have prejudged the Harrises and that others saw a man making "a paper gallows" during jury selection.

Chief defense attorney Leonard Weinglass demanded a mistrial and dismissal of the kidnapping, robbery and assault charges against the Symbionese Liberation Army members on grounds of judicial misconduct.

He contended Friday that Superior Court Judge Mark Brandler received complaints about the jury but did not tell attorneys about them.

Brandler rejected the motion to dismiss charges, but an emergency hearing on the mistrial motion was to resume today.

The charges against the Harrises stem from a night and day of violence May 16-17, 1974. An 11-count indictment accuses the Harrises of aiding and abetting Patricia Hearst in an attack on a sporting goods store and of kidnapping two men and stealing four cars as they later eluded police.

The newspaper heiress, now serving a term for a San Francisco bank robbery, is a codefendant but will be tried separately.

The judge tried to postpone testimony on the matter until after the verdict, but he changed his mind after the prosecutor agreed to a hearing.

Then, in the bullet-proof courtroom where the Harrises had stood trial, the defense called Jeannie Barton, a prospective juror who was not chosen to sit on the seven-woman, five-man panel.

She recalled hearing a juror talking about the case during jury selection. "He said something on the order of, 'It's already a foregone conclusion,' or, 'We already know the outcome of this.' It seemed he had a very definite opinion about it."

Police Find List Of Kidnap Victims

Pleads Guilty

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A Lansing postal clerk pleaded guilty Friday to federal charges of stealing cash from the mail.

Authorities said 23-year-old Kay Ann Parrish told U.S. Magistrate Steven Karr she took money intended to pay traffic fines. She was freed on her own recognition. No sentencing date was set.

Court records did not show how much money was involved. Officials said the theft occurred Thursday.

Such a list had been described by some of the kidnaped youngsters.

Meanwhile, Alameda County Sheriff Tom Houchins said Friday that his office is not looking for any new suspects. He said he considers the investigation of the mass abduction over "unless any new information or leads turn up." But a deputy sheriff said later that authorities are pursuing leads on the possible involvement of a woman.

With Frederick N. Woods already in custody, authorities Friday found the paper bag at his family's estate in the Portola Valley, law enforcement sources said.

Authorities confirmed to The Associated Press that the list had been found. It was first reported by the Redwood City Tribune.

Woods, 24, was being kept at the Sacramento County jail. On Monday he is to be turned over to Madera County authorities for arraignment.

Authorities said earlier that a plan for delivering $5 million by airdrop to ransom the 26 children and their bus driver was also found at the Woods home, along with a written scenario for kidnapping a busload of children to be held for ransom.

The kidnaping took place July 15. The children told authorities their names were taken as they were moved one by one from the two vans in which they were transported. Then they were herded into a buried moving van at a Livermore rock quarry owned by Woods' father.

Driver Ed Ray and some of the older boys managed to dig out of the underground prison and free the children after about 17 hours there.

On Friday, three suspects were in custody — Woods, Richard Schoenfeld, 22, and his brother, James L. Schoenfeld, 24.

On the possibility of other suspects, Houchins said, "We are not looking for any new suspects and don't expect to issue additional arrest warrants unless further information indicates we should take that action."

But Deputy Sheriff Jack Baugh said later that a woman may have been involved. "We are still pursuing investigative leads relative to a female," Baugh said. The woman apparently was not involved in the abduction, but could have had "some complicity in the planning stages, either prior to the act or afterwards," he said.

Criminals May Pay In Hard Cash

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Criminals may find themselves paying in hard cash as well as jail terms for their crimes under a new Michigan law signed Friday by Gov. William Milliken.

The measure allows crime victims in Michigan to apply for partial state reimbursement to cover medical costs and wage losses.

One feature of the measure allows a court to require a convict to reimburse the state — according to his or her ability — for the amount of the financial award the state gives to the victim.

The state will be eligible for federal aid in setting up the program, Milliken's office said.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Patrick McCollough, D-Deerborn, goes into effect Oct. 1, 1977. It is intended to help crime victims who are injured or unable to work because of a violent crime.

Victims can apply for limited state aid to recover medical expenses or lost wages under the law, which establishes a compensation board to consider and investigate claims and to grant awards.

Some analysts estimate the cost at $1 million to $2 million annually while others say the cost can't be determined until the system has operated for awhile.

Those eligible to apply for the aid are a victim of a crime in Michigan, a surviving relative, or a person who is dependent on the victim for support.

Awards are limited to the cost of medical expenses or loss of earnings, and cannot exceed $100 a week or $15,000 per crime.

One restriction in the bill raised the ire of some legislators and feminists groups.

That section exempts victims of crimes committed by relatives they reside with from getting the full awards.

One-Room School Closing

IONIA, Mich. (AP) — Because no one wanted to serve on its school board, one of Michigan's last one-room schools is being closed.

Ionia County's Intermediate School Board decided to dissolve the Knox school district this week because of the lack of board members. Knox will be annexed to the Portland school system.

Knox's problems began in June when two of the three school board members resigned during an organizational meeting. A special election held July 19 resulted in 14 blank ballots among the 21 cast. School officials said the remaining seven ballots were filled out improperly.

"All we can do is implement the law," said Supt. Thomas Ferguson as the Knox district was ordered dissolved.

"We have a classic instance of local control versus 'big government.' But the people didn't want the responsibility of local control," said Russell Gregory, another intermediate school board member.

UAW Hits GM's 'Icy' Stance

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers charged Friday that General Motors' "icy" stance on demands for wage improvements has made the chances for a contract settlement without a strike this fall remote.

"The atmosphere at the bargaining table is as icy as I've ever seen," said UAW Vice President Irving Bluestone after union and company bargainers locked horns over proposed revisions in the auto industry's long-standing wage formula for hourly workers.

"All we've received at the table is obstinacy and a harsh line," added Bluestone, head of the UAW's General Motors department.

However, GM's top bargainer, Vice President George B. Morris Jr., accused the union of exaggerating its conflict with the company.

"This is not the time for hysteria," said Morris, noting that talks on a new contract covering 390,000 GM workers began only 11 days ago and the current pact doesn't expire until Sept. 14.

The union also is bargaining with Ford, Chrysler and American Motors on new agreements covering an additional 290,000 workers.

State rules against trash dumping, tree cutting, road building and other activities on state-owned lands may be invalid under an Ingham County Circuit Court ruling, state officials said Friday.

A decision by Judge Jack Warren has thrown the enforcement of hundreds of rules made by the Department of Natural Resources to protect state land into question, said DNR waterways official Ed Eckart.

The DNR plans to appeal the ruling, which said the DNR could not make rules barring canoe liveries from state lands. Warren said the 1921 law which created the current DNR and allowed it to set rules was "impermissibly vague" to justify the livery rule.

But the decision, Eckart said, "spills over into a lot of different programs, beyond simply our concern for commercial canoe liveries. It puts in jeopardy every rule that we've ever written and attempted to enforce concerning the use and occupancy of state land."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Thomas Emery said Friday that if Warren's ruling is not challenged or is allowed to stand by other courts, rules promulgated under the 1921 statute would be, in effect, unenforceable.

"It's the basic statute," Emery said.

Rules pertaining to the use of state parks, however, are not threatened by the ruling since they were made under the authority of a different law.

Caan Has Surgery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor James Caan will spend the next few months hobbling around in a cast as the result of surgery to reconstruct ligaments in his right ankle that were originally injured while playing football as a teen-ager, a spokesman said.

Eckart said. Eleven per cent or 4.3 million acres of Michigan's land is state owned.

Eckart said if the ruling stands, the legislature would have to quickly amend the 1921 law, or write entirely new legislation that is more specific about what powers the DNR has.

The section of the 1921 law which Warren found to be vague said the DNR "shall make rules for the protection of lands and property under its control against wrongful use or occupancy as will insure the intent of carrying out this act, to protect the same from depredation and to preserve such lands and protect them from molestation, spoliation, destruction or any other improper use or occupancy."

Sand Miners Must Restore Dunes Under New State Law

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Beginning April 1, sand mining companies must restore Michigan's lakeshore dunes to their original condition after mining operations are finished. Under a law signed Friday by Gov. William Milliken, dune miners will also have to get permits before mining and must file environmental impact statements.

The law specifies that the Department of Natural Resources will be able to ban dune mining in areas it determines are too fragile.

Rep. Dennis Cawthorne, R-Manistee, sponsor of the legislation, said that up until now, Michigan has been one of 15 states in the country with no regulations on sand dune mining. About 4.5 million tons of sand are mined in Michigan annually.

The new law applies only to the dune area within 1.5 miles of the lake shorelands. Currently, Cawthorne said, there are about six mining operators working in approximately 10 areas along Lake Michigan.

The measure's most important feature, Cawthorne said, is the one requiring restoration of mined areas mandatory.

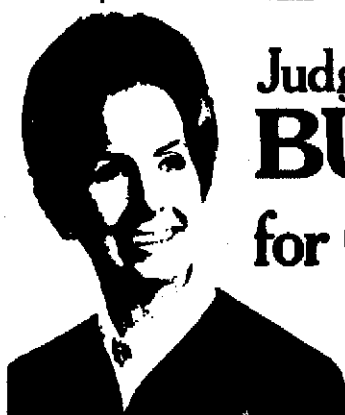

Under the new law, mining operators must file an advance mining plan with the state and meet minimum environmental standards to get their permits.

There will be continuous monitoring of the mining and violators can lose their licenses.

To finance the legislation, mining operators will have to pay one cent per ton of sand mined within the dune area. The fees are expected to total $40,000 to $50,000 annually, Cawthorne said.

Judge Zoe Shaffer BURKHOLZ for CIRCUIT COURT

*Judge Zoe Shaffer Burkholz...
Doing a good job now as Probate and Acting Circuit Judge.*

Here's why Judge Burkholz is the best qualified candidate for Circuit Judge:

- practical experience as a working attorney — over 25 years experience in the private practice of civil law before our state courts at all levels. No other candidate has this experience.
- judicial experience as a probate judge — Probate and Circuit Court are the only two local courts with substantially similar applications of criminal and family law. No other candidate has this experience.
- actual experience as an acting circuit judge — Judge Burkholz has heard over 1,000 Circuit Court matters since being appointed an Acting Circuit Judge by the State Supreme Court in 1974. No other candidate has this experience.

In fact, Judge Burkholz has more years of legal and judicial experience than both other candidates combined. And, Judge Burkholz is the only candidate with actual Circuit Court judicial experience.

We are fortunate to have three well-qualified Circuit Judges now. Help us elect a fourth Berrien County Circuit Judge of equal caliber.

"All we can do is implement the law," said Supt. Thomas Ferguson as the Knox district was ordered dissolved.

"We have a classic instance of local control versus 'big government.' But the people didn't want the responsibility of local control," said Russell Gregory, another intermediate school board member.

DNR Rules Threatened

UAW Hits GM's 'Icy' Stance

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers charged Friday that General Motors' "icy" stance on demands for wage improvements has made the chances for a contract settlement without a strike this fall remote.

"The atmosphere at the bargaining table is as icy as I've ever seen," said UAW Vice President Irving Bluestone after union and company bargainers locked horns over proposed revisions in the auto industry's long-standing wage formula for hourly workers.

"All we've received at the table is obstinacy and a harsh line," added Bluestone, head of the UAW's General Motors department.

However, GM's top bargainer, Vice President George B. Morris Jr., accused the union of exaggerating its conflict with the company.

"This is not the time for hysteria," said Morris, noting that talks on a new contract covering 390,000 GM workers began only 11 days ago and the current pact doesn't expire until Sept. 14.

The union also is bargaining with Ford, Chrysler and American Motors on new agreements covering an additional 290,000 workers.

State rules against trash dumping, tree cutting, road building and other activities on state-owned lands may be invalid under an Ingham County Circuit Court ruling, state officials said Friday.

A decision by Judge Jack Warren has thrown the enforcement of hundreds of rules made by the Department of Natural Resources to protect state land into question, said DNR waterways official Ed Eckart.

The DNR plans to appeal the ruling, which said the DNR could not make rules barring canoe liveries from state lands.

Warren said the 1921 law which created the current DNR and allowed it to set rules was "impermissibly vague" to justify the livery rule.

But the decision, Eckart said, "spills over into a lot of different programs, beyond simply our concern for commercial canoe liveries. It puts in jeopardy every rule that we've ever written and attempted to enforce concerning the use and occupancy of state land."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Thomas Emery said Friday that if Warren's ruling is not challenged or is allowed to stand by other courts, rules promulgated under the 1921 statute would be, in effect, unenforceable.

"It's the basic statute," Emery said.

Rules pertaining to the use of state parks, however, are not threatened by the ruling since they were made under the authority of a different law.

Caan Has Surgery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor James Caan will spend the next few months hobbling around in a cast as the result of surgery to reconstruct ligaments in his right ankle that were originally injured while playing football as a teen-ager, a spokesman said.

Eckart said. Eleven per cent or 4.3 million acres of Michigan's land is state owned.

Eckart said if the ruling stands, the legislature would have to quickly amend the 1921 law, or write entirely new legislation that is more specific about what powers the DNR has.

The section of the 1921 law which Warren found to be vague

said the DNR "shall make rules for the protection of lands and property under its control against wrongful use or occupancy as will insure the intent of carrying out this act, to protect the same from depredation and to preserve such lands and protect them from molestation, spoliation, destruction or any other improper use or occupancy."

Sand Miners Must Restore Dunes Under New State Law

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Beginning April 1, sand mining companies must restore Michigan's lakeshore dunes to their original condition after mining operations are finished.

Under a law signed Friday by Gov. William Milliken, dune miners will also have to get permits before mining and must file environmental impact statements.

The law specifies that the Department of Natural Resources will be able to ban dune mining in areas it determines are too fragile.

Rep. Dennis Cawthorne, R-Manistee, sponsor of the legislation, said that up until now, Michigan has been one of 15 states in the country with no regulations on sand dune mining. About 4.5 million tons of sand are mined in Michigan annually.

The new law applies only to the dune area within 1.5 miles of the lake shorelands. Currently, Cawthorne said, there are about six mining operators working in approximately 10 areas along Lake Michigan.

The measure's most important feature, Cawthorne said, is the one making restoration of mined areas mandatory.

Under the new law, mining operators must file an advance mining plan with the state and meet minimum environmental standards to get their permits.

There will be continuous monitoring of the mining and violators can lose their licenses.

To finance the legislation, mining operators will have to pay one cent per ton of sand mined within the dune area. The fees are expected to total $40,000 to $50,000 annually, Cawthorne said.

PAYS $4,188-PLUS ARREARAGE

Delinquent Father Avoids Jail

A Pennsylvania man with a $4,188 child support arrearage avoided a six-month jail sentence this week in Berrien Circuit court by paying off the entire arrearage and then some. Edward Patrick, special investigator for the Berrien friend of the court's office, reported Robert K. McLain, of Lansdale, Pa., paid $4,500 to avoid a contempt citation and the jail term.

McLain was brought before Judge William S. White for the arrears for two children not on ADC, but White told him his sentence could be vacated if he paid off the arrearage. White also ordered McLain to make regular support payments of $165 per week.

In other cases before Judge White:

Henry Wilkerson, of 1947 Eastland avenue, Benton township, avoided a 30-day jail sentence by paying $300 towards an arrearage of 1986 for one child on ADC. Wilkerson was held in contempt and placed on two years probation, and ordered to find work and sign a wage assignment of $14 weekly support plus $5 each week on the arrearage. Charles L. Holloway, of 830 Washington, Benton Harbor, was held in contempt and sentenced to one year probation for $370 arrears for one child on ADC, and told to find work in 30 days or spend 30 days in jail. He was also ordered to pay $10 support and $30 on the arrearage each week. Jerry L. Price, of 1911 Eastland, Benton Harbor, was held in contempt and placed on one year probation for $1,582 arrears for one child on ADC, and given 45 days to find employment or spend 45 days in jail. Patrick said Price has not made a support payment since January, 1974.

AAA Kickbacks To Sec. Austin Are Disclosed

DETROIT (AP) — As much as $22,000 from state auto license fees collected by the Automobile Club of Michigan in 1975 was used to bankroll political activities of Secretary of State Richard Austin, an aide has reported. Norman Berkowitz, deputy secretary of state, said Friday he did not know exactly how much Auto Club revenue went into Austin's political fund in 1975, but estimated the figure could be as high as $22,000.

Austin is the acknowledged front runner in next Tuesday's Democratic primary contest for the Senate seat being vacated by retiring Philip A. Hart.

Berkowitz said about $10 million in state revenue collected by the Auto Club from 1975 sales of auto license plates and tags were funneled through branch offices operated by political appointees of Austin. The revenues were added to the ap-

City police indicated barricades would be erected until repairs are made. No deaths or injuries were reported from storm that moved eastward across Berrien and Cass counties. No storm damage was reported in Van Buren or Allegan counties. In Cass county, Dowagiac was without power from 12:16 a.m. until 5:45 a.m. Twin Cities police said many streets were flooded over curbs from sudden rain. (Staff photo)

It's NEWS TODAY In MICHIGAN

Costlier For Some At MSU

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University juniors and seniors will pay almost $66 more a year to attend the school under a tuition hike approved by the MSU Board of Trustees. Upperclassmen will pay $945 a year, while freshmen and sophomore fees remain at current levels of $877.50 a year. Michigan graduate students will pay $26 per credit, an increase of $2. Non-resident undergraduates and graduate students will pay $23 more per credit than Michigan residents, an increase of $2 per credit. MSU President Clifton R. Wharton said the fee hike was necessary because of underfunding by the state legislature in comparison with other institutions in Michigan.

Arson Costs $34 Million?

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Arson or suspected arson accounted for some $34 million in fire damage last year in Michigan, or nearly one-fourth of the total reported. Michigan State Police investigators reported 9,083 arson fires in 1975 caused $14 million in losses. Another 9,172 fires in which arson was suspected caused $20.1 million in damage. Altogether, some 74,970 fires in Michigan last year took 318 lives and caused record damages of more than $145 million. The death toll was 16 less than in 1974, according to State Police figures. But the property loss was up about half a million dollars from 1974. Included among the 294,910 runs fire departments made in 1975 were 40,367 false alarms, police said.

He Hasn't Decided

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken said it will be next week at least before he decides whether to remove indicted Eaton County Sheriff Eugene Hoag from office. A special grand jury Monday indicted Hoag on charges of perjury, obstruction of justice and neglect of duty stemming from his testimony in a murder case. The grand jury also asked Milliken for Hoag's immediate removal from office. "We are reviewing the request," Milliken said. "It may very well be that I will first request an updated review by the attorney general. It would be at least next week before there's any kind of decision." Hoag was indicted along with Larry Hamilton, one of his former deputies and an opponent in Tuesday's primary election.

Mayor Raises Tempo

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Coleman Young has raised the tempo of the city's war against youth gangs by ordering authorities to file formal charges against any youth involved in a felony, even if it is a first offense. Past practice has been to warn and release a youth after his first offense. Young also said the state and the Juvenile Court will take part in a co-ordinated effort to rid the streets of violent gangs. Any youth involved in a felony, such as murder, robbery or assault, will be taken to a juvenile crime center being set up by the police department's gang squad, said Young. Police will then file formal charges against the youth in Juvenile Court.

Judge Dismisses Recall Challenge

saying "I'm not coming but I can come another day."

"I also can't understand Mr. Canaday's failure to appear — he has an obligation to the City of Benton Harbor to resolve this matter," the judge said.

"I can't recall any civil case given a greater priority because of the public interest involved," Byrns added.

Davidson had been ordered by Byrns to remain on the case as Joseph's attorney even though Davidson had asked to withdraw. Byrns noted Davidson had sent a letter saying he would be involved in arbitration with the City of Kalamazoo on behalf of a labor union at the time the pre-trial hearing was to take place. The judge said Canaday's office yesterday said he was in court in Lansing.

Of Davidson's absence, Byrns stated: "This is the first time in my 25 years as a lawyer that I've ever seen a lawyer tell a judge he wouldn't attend a hearing set by the court."

The dismissal, however, still leaves a question of whether Joseph can re-file his suit.

In his suit challenging the recall Joseph contended petitions seeking his recall were filed too early and asked the court to overturn the election results pertaining to him.

Byrns in mid-July had granted Joseph leave to proceed "qua warrant" which is a legal procedure in which a private citizen must first get the court's permission to file a suit challenging election results. But at that same hearing the judge warned: "I'm not going to play games with this — there have been too many games played with this already and they're not going to be played in court."

Letters Get Him Fired

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — A Macomb County Health Department worker — described by his boss as an excellent employee — has been fired for writing letters questioning the operations of the county bureaucracy. John Pilarowski, 31, a $14,800-a-year administrative assistant, was fired after sending letters over the past 18 months to county politicians and a local newspaper. Pilarowski's wife, Jenny, and 40 health department employees picketed Friday outside the county building, protesting the dismissal as a threat to their free speech. Pilarowski latest letter was sent to county officials, asking for a public hearing on his dismissal. "I'm stating that I believe a county employee does have a right to an opinion," Pilarowski said. Health Department Director Leland Brown, who fired Pilarowski, said the letters were "causing some reaction. He was writing material which was not enhancing our relationships with the political structure of the county," Brown said. "We have to work with those people."

Wayne Walkout Averted

DETROIT (AP) — A walkout by 4,500 Wayne County workers was averted just before the midnight strike deadline Friday after county and union bargainers reached tentative settlement on a new contract. The agreement came as contingency plans were being put into effect to keep offices, hospitals and youth facilities operating. Settlement between the county Board of Commissioners and Council 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) came at 11 p.m. The cost of the two-year pact was put at $12 million. The economic provisions, the chief stumbling block in the negotiations, provides a 25 cents an hour wage increase, an average four per cent across the board.

Aftermath Of A Raid

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — A Mount Morris Township man has been charged with possession of an explosive device in the aftermath of a raid seven months ago on a home police described as a bomb factory. Joseph M. DeArman, 25, was arrested as he boarded a Chicago-bound airliner. DeArman was not carrying explosives at the time of his arrest. But investigators have traced to DeArman a partially assembled bomb seized in a raid at a Flint home last December, according to a spokesman from the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. DeArman was arraigned before Bay City Magistrate Irvin F. Hauffee II and jailed in lieu of $20,000 bond. A hearing has been set for Aug. 11 in Flint.

The Sheriff Stays

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The governor says that although Ontonagon County's ailing 70-year-old sheriff ran his office improperly, he should not be removed from his job. Gov. William Milliken refused to institute removal proceedings against Sheriff Donald Powelson, who is retiring when his term runs out at the end of this year. Milliken said he found "insufficient reason" to remove Powelson and that the public interest would not be served by such action. Ontonagon County Prosecutor J.B. Jenkins, had asked Milliken to remove Powelson, citing various allegations that the attorney general's office investigated. Kenneth Frankland, Milliken's legal advisor, called it "a pathetic case. It's partly just that you have an individual in poor health who was the subject of a lot of discontent. He did not want to resign under fire because he thought it would be an admission."

Charges Against 2 Dropped

HESPERIA, Mich. (AP) — Two men accused of stealing 10,000 tons of gravel were released from jail Friday after charges against them were dropped. Robert Carey 40, of Grand Rapids and Franklin Koehn, 32, of Howard City were arrested and arraigned earlier this week on charges of felonious larceny stemming from the disappearance of the gravel from a construction site between Shelby and Hart. ## Ford Claims It's All Wrapped Up

Carter spent the day at home in Plains, Ga., meeting with advisers.

Despite Ford's apparently intense effort at stacking up more delegate strength, he claims to have enough votes to win the GOP nomination on the first ballot.

Ford campaigners claim the President has 1,135 delegates. Reagan forces claim their candidate has 1,140.

But the latest Associated Press count of delegates shows Ford with 1,104 votes, 20 short of the 1,130 needed. Reagan has 1,021, and 132 were uncommitted.

Schweiker and Reagan planned a tour of the Northeast and South next week.

Schweiker said the two would concentrate on stopping any creation of delegates who have deserted Reagan for Ford since the running mate announcement.

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Ronald Reagan's Michigan campaign chairman said Friday President Ford should immediately announce his vice presidential choice to eliminate questions about "closed-door" politics.

State Sen. Jack Welborn, R-Kalamazoo, made the request in a letter Friday.

He said Reagan's choice of liberal U.S. Sen. Richard Schweiker of Pennsylvania "has not overjoyed all of us who are Reagan supporters."

"However, we recognize it as a courageous effort to unify the Republican party and that it reflects his efforts to be open and honest with the American people."

Woody Hayes Admits Turning In Michigan State

CHICAGO (AP) — Woody Hayes, Ohio State's controversial football coach, grabbed the spotlight at the Big Ten's kickoff football luncheon by admitting he turned in Michigan State last fall for recruiting violations.

Warming up to the task, the crusty dean of football coaches spoke Friday about baseball drawing its one billionth fan this weekend, about the integrity baseball had displayed since the Black Sox scandal, and harked back to the days of Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

"Last fall I sat up to watch the greatest World Series I've ever seen and for me to do that during the football season is something," said Hayes. "There was no question the two teams were playing to win. It was integrity all the way through. It was integrity all the way through and we have to keep the same integrity in our sport."

Hayes then looked up and down the speakers' table and said "If someone gets out of line, we have to put them back in line. If I catch any of you cheating, I'll turn you in."

"Did I turn in the team that cheated in our league?" said Hayes, obviously referring to Michigan State. "Your damned right I did and I'll do it again."

Michigan State recently was found guilty of 34 recruiting violations by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Head Coach Denny Stolz and several assistants were forced to resign and several top players have been barred from playing various amounts of time including this season's opener against Ohio State.

Darryl Rogers, the new MSU coach, was the second speaker after Hayes made his admission and said, "I want to thank Woody for turning us in. Otherwise I wouldn't be here."

Everyone, including Hayes, laughed at the remark. Rogers went on to make a few more uncomplimentary one-liners about Hayes and the Ohio State coach's expressions went from smiles to a jut-jawed glare.

Later, the Big Ten coaches were split into shifts, with one group going to one room for radio-TV interviews and the others into a large room for press interviews.

It was learned that while Hayes was in the radio-TV room, he got into personal arguments with Bob Page of WJR of Detroit and Ed Runders, sports editor of the Michigan State News, a campus publication.

After Hayes had completed his press interview in which he only referred to his team's prospects, he was asked if there had been a ruckus in the radio-TV room.

"Yes there was and we'll leave it right there," said Hayes. "I don't care to comment any further."

Big Ten Commissioner Wayne Duke later said, "Mr. Hayes did not provide the original information for the Big Ten investigation. I do not know who provided the NCAA with its information."

The Big Ten has not taken action in the case but as far as the NCAA is concerned, Michigan State has been placed on probation for three years, has been banned from bowl participation and is forbidden from having its games televised.

WANT DEFECTOR RETURNED

Soviets Threaten Pullout

MONTREAL (AP) — The threat of a Russian withdrawal hung over the troubled Olympic Games today while American Bruce Jenner proudly wore the tag World's Greatest Athlete, fantastic Finn Lasse Viren was ready to challenge in the marathon and officials worried about keeping dogs on the leash.

The Russians have demanded that Sergei Nemtsanov, a 17-year-old diver who left the Olympic Village Thursday, be returned at once to Russian officials or the Soviet Union would feel free to withdraw from the last two days of the Olympics and cancel participation in the World Ice Hockey Tournament here next September.

The Russians were imprecise, though, about a deadline and said they at least wanted to talk to Nemtsanov. The Canadians were firm about rejecting the kidnap charge — they called it an unwarranted accusation — but promised the Russians to try to locate the diver. They also said they would let him talk to his coach in the presence of a Canadian witness.

The explosion of Soviet anger, coming after a series of incidents involving cheating and fix allegations and the defection of two Romanian team members, was another blow to the future of the Olympics, already shaken by the political disputes that led to the withdrawal of 39 nations since the Games began two weeks ago.

But the vice president of the Soviet Olympic Committee, Vitaly Smirnov, said the Soviet Union would "maintain its pledges" as host country to the 1980 Summer Games.

The Russians seemed determined to turn around the embarrassment involved in Nemtsanov's defection. "We call it a kidnapping of a Soviet athlete," Smirnov said Friday night. "We call it a planned provocation."

After a meeting on the defector in Ottawa between Soviet Ambassador Alexander Yakovlev and the Canadian undersecretary for external affairs, P.A. Bissonnette, the Russians said, "We've had no reasonable replies until now."

The Canadians told Yakovlev, government sources said, that Nemtsanov was traveling in central Canada. They said he had inquired at an immigration center about remaining in the country and had been informed of the requirements. Nemtsanov was also informed that his Olympic documents made it legal for him to remain in Canada as a visitor until Aug. 30.

The Russians stressed that it was illegal for the youth to seek political asylum because he was a minor, but Canadian authorities said federal laws make no distinctions about the age of people seeking to become residents.

The Russians had originally asserted that Nemtsanov, a European junior diving champion, was lured away from the Village by a hostess, but the assertion was not repeated when Smirnov stated the Soviet position at a news conference.

The Russians already have clinched the victory in over-all medals despite Jenner's world record decathlon victory Friday, archery gold medals by 19-year-old Darrell Pace, Reading, Ohio, and Luann Ryon, Riverside, Calif., and the assurance of six medals, either gold or silver, from American boxers tonight.

Going into the last full day of competition, the Russians had 39 gold medals, 38 silver and 29 bronze, 106 overall. East Germany was second with a 34-21-25 count, 80 over-all, and the United States had 27-27-23, 77 total.

The highlight of today's program figured to be the last-minute challenge of Viren to defending champion Frank Shorter, Boulder, Colo., in the 26-mile, 385-yard marathon.

The event starts and ends in the Olympic Stadium but winds most of its course over the hills and through the streets of Montreal. The International Olympic Committee, in an appeal to the Montreal public, solemnly asked "people...to keep all dogs tied up and inside if possible. The reasons for this are self-evident."

Viren, a skinny policeman, didn't really enter the marathon until after he'd won the 5,000 meters, making him the first man ever to win both the 5,000 and 10,000 runs in consecutive Olympics. Now he'll try to duplicate the 1952 feat of Emil Zatopek in adding the marathon to that list of titles. "I'd planned to run the marathon all along," he insisted after his driving, sprinting victory in 13:24.76 over Dick Quax of New Zealand and Klaus Hildenbrand of West Germany.

Hildenbrand fell across the finish line, just beating Bob Dixon of New Zealand for third.

Jenner, 26, a 6-foot-2, 196-pounder from San Jose, Calif., reached up in a victory salute just before he crossed the finish line in the 1,500-meter run, the last event of the two-day marathon.

Jenner set a world record of 8,454 points. Guido Kratschmer of West Germany was second and Nikolay Avilov of Russia, the former record holder, was third.

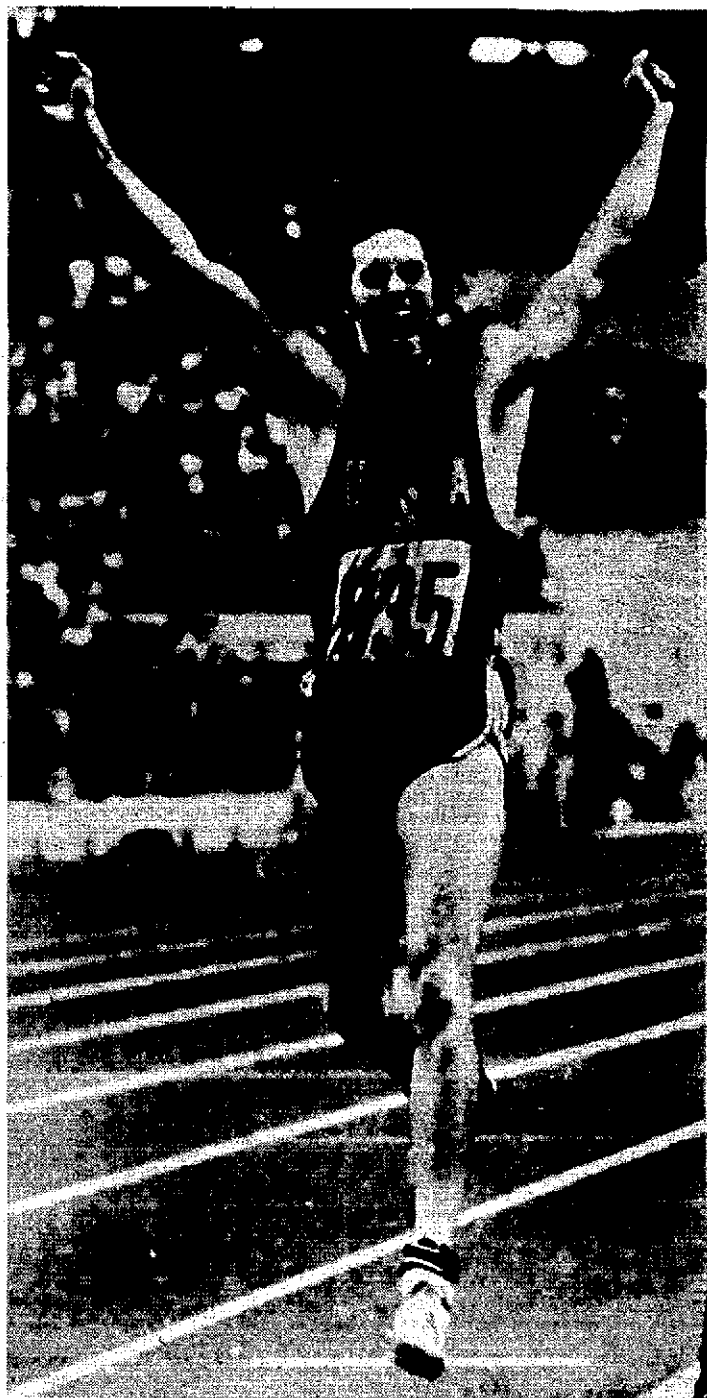

James Butts, Los Angeles, picked up a silver medal with a leap of 56-4 1/2 in the triple jump, finishing back of Russian Viktor Saneyev, who won his third consecutive gold medal at 56-8 3/4. Tatyana Kazankina of Russia won the only other track and field gold with a 4:05.46 time in the women's 1,500 meters.

The United States was blanked from medals in other sports. Russia won three of the six canoeing events and East Germany took two. Hector Rodriguez of Cuba won the judo lightweight division, Christine Stueckelberger, Switzerland, took the individual dressage equestrian event, New Zealand beat Australia 1-0 for the gold in field hockey, Japan took the women's volleyball gold, and Poland beat Russia in five sets for the men's title.

In addition to Shorter's anticipated battle with Viren in the marathon, the United States also expects medal performances today from world record holder Dwight Stones, Huntington Beach, Calif., in the high jump and the 1,000-meter relay quartet of Johnny Jones, Lampasas, Tex., Harvey Glance of Auburn, Millard Hampton of UCLA and Steve Riddick of Philadelphia, which had the fastest qualifying times.

The Americans also have six freestyle wrestlers who are unbeaten and untied and are almost certain of gaining some medals there.

U.S., Cuba Fight For Boxing Title

MONTREAL (AP) — The United States, led by Howard Davis and Sugar Ray Leonard, and Cuba, powered by Teofilo Stevenson and Sixto Soria, find out tonight which has the most clout in the Olympic boxing championships.

Each country has six finalists, but only one could win six gold medals. Americans and Cubans face each other in three of the 11 divisions.

"When the bell rings, I'm ready," says Davis. He and Leonard are the two most talked-about U.S. boxers here because of their showmanship — backed up by ability.

Davis, 20, of Glen Cove, N.Y., a world champion at 126 pounds, will try to win the gold in the 132-pound class against Simon

Cutov of Romania.

The other U.S.-Cuban matchups are Leo Randolph, 18, of Tacoma, Wash., against left-handed Ramon Duvalon at 112 pounds, and Marine Cpl. Leon Spinks of Camp Lejeune, N.C., against Soria at 167.

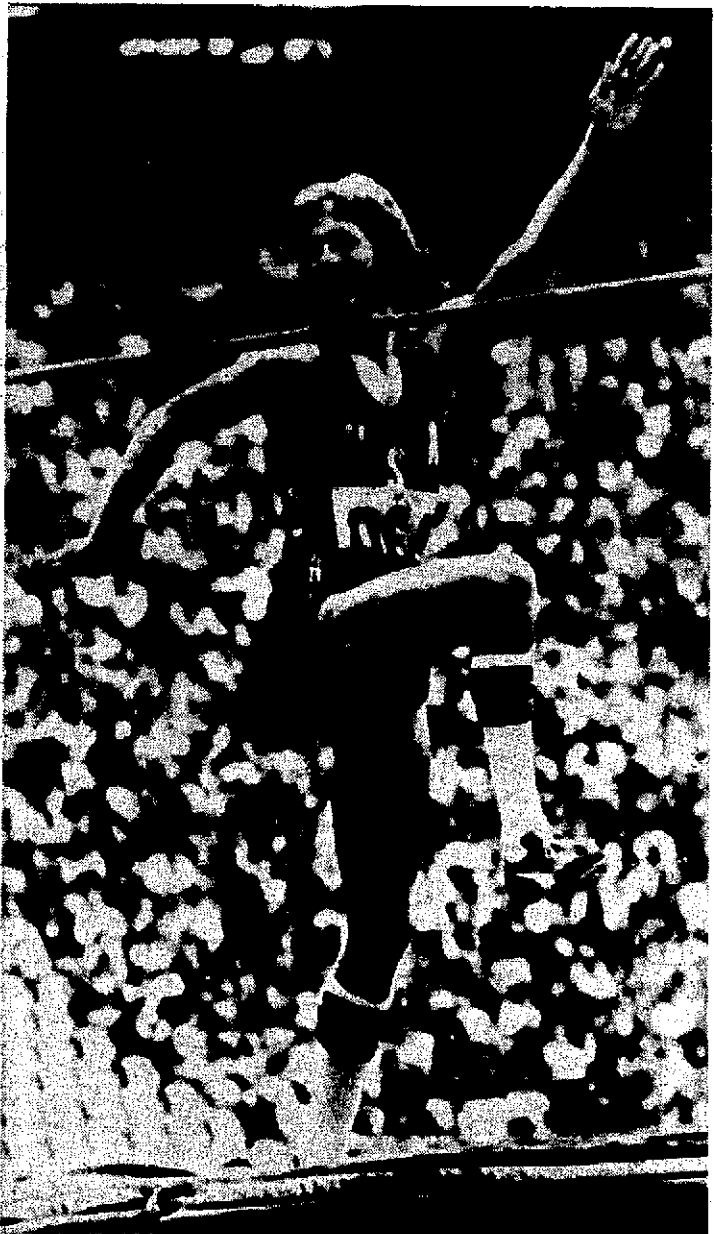

While Stevenson expects to become the first man to win two Olympic heavyweight golds when he fights Mircea Simion of Romania, the story of the Cuban team could be Soria.

Randolph will be the first American to try for a gold. He will be followed by Army Sgt. Charles Mooney of Fort Bragg, N.C., who will have to overcome a minor cut over the right eye, a bad cold and Young Jo Gu of North Korea.

The other U.S. finalist is Mike Spinks, Leon's younger brother, who will be in only his second fight of the tournament, against world champion Ruffat Riskiev of the Soviet Union, who could have problems with a cut over the right eye.

Mike drew a first-round bye, got a forfeit victory because of the African pull-out, won an easy decision and then got another forfeit when Alec Nautac of Romania wasn't allowed to compete in the semifinals because of a cut suffered in his quarter-final bout.

SHOW MAN: Dwight Stones of Huntington Beach, Calif., does a jig for the audience after clearing the bar at seven feet, one inch, to qualify for the final high jump event Friday at the Montreal Olympics. ## Comaneci Is Coming To Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The Romanian women's gymnastics team, featuring 14-year-old Olympic gold medalist Nadia Comaneci, will perform in Chicago around Oct. 9, city officials say.

Jack Reilly, Mayor Richard J. Daley's special events director, said Thursday that the Chicago appearance will be the first of several in the United States for the touring Romanian team.

Nadia, who won three gold and two other medals in competition, received seven perfect scores of 10 at the Montreal games.

U.S., Cuba Fight For Boxing Title

MONTREAL (AP) — The United States, led by Howard Davis and Sugar Ray Leonard, and Cuba, powered by Teofilo Stevenson and Sixto Soria, find out tonight which has the most clout in the Olympic boxing championships.

Each country has six finalists, but only one could win six gold medals. Americans and Cubans face each other in three of the 11 divisions.

"When the bell rings, I'm ready," says Davis. He and Leonard are the two most talked-about U.S. boxers here because of their showmanship — backed up by ability.

Davis, 20, of Glen Cove, N.Y., a world champion at 126 pounds, will try to win the gold in the 132-pound class against Simion

Cutov of Romania.

The other U.S.-Cuban matchups are Leo Randolph, 18, of Tacoma, Wash., against left-handed Ramon Duvalon at 112 pounds, and Marine Cpl. Leon Spinks of Camp Lejeune, N.C., against Soria at 167.

While Stevenson expects to become the first man to win two Olympic heavyweight golds when he fights Mircea Simion of Romania, the story of the Cuban team could be Soria.

Randolph will be the first American to try for a gold. He will be followed by Charles Mooney of Fort N.C., who will have to make a minor cut over the rigorous bad cold and Young, North Korea.

The other U.S. finalists Spinks, Leon's younger brother who will be in only his first fight of the tournament world champion Rufat of the Soviet Union, who have problems with a right eye.

Mike drew a first-round forfeit victory over the African pull-out, easy decision and another forfeit when a Romanian wasn't to compete in the semifinal because of a cut suffered in a quarter-final bout.

Oldtimers Steal Spotlight In Western Qualifying

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDER
Sports Editor

The Western Amateur is usually the game of the young lions — collegians who will go on to the pro tour — but a pair of oldtimers stole the spotlight in pre-qualifying action Friday at Berrien Hills Country Club.

Fred Knutel, a 39-year-old River Valley high school teacher who has coached the Mustang golf team the past 10 years, and Chuck Welter, a 29-year-old banker from Valparaiso, Ind., took medalist honors with 72s.

Pre-qualifying action will continue Monday at Lake Michigan Golf Hills in Benton Harbor and Hampshire Country Club in Dowagiac. Survivors will join exempt players in Western Amateur championship competition Aug. 4-8 at Point O' Woods Golf & Country Club in Benton Harbor.

Friday's pre-qualifying at Berrien Hills was the first ever for the course, and the Benton Harbor links which played at 36-55—71 over 6,143 yards proved to be challenging by allowing no par rounds.

Six players qualified for championship competition. Following Knutel and Welter were Doug Burke of Kalamazoo and Jim Laing of Dowagiac with 73s and Jim Peterson of Dowagiac, Marty Schiene of Chicago Heights, Ill., and Jeff Smith of Valparaiso, Ind., with 74s.

The 74 scores were matched in a playoff. Peterson won a spot on the first hole with a par effort — the other two had bogeys (Smith missed about a three-foot putt). Smith lost out (he's now an alternate) with a bogey on No. 3.

Knutel, who has also been the River Valley junior varsity basketball coach and will coach the varsity girl eagles this fall, made the Western Amateur's championship field on his third try.

The former Northern Illinois University golfer, who teaches drafting, said hitting the ball straight on drives on the "tight" course was a key to his success. "I used irons off the tees (No. 1, 17 & 18) just to hit it straight," he declared. "And I also putted well."

Meanwhile, Welter was thanking the Almighty and Mother Nature for his place of honor as co-medalist.

Welter, a bank marketing director, didn't realize there was a time difference between Indiana and Michigan and almost missed his tee off time. And he would have missed it if a heavy blanket of fog hadn't delayed the start of play 20 minutes. "Thank God they were late today," said the former South Bend Adams baseball player and golfer who arrived at the Berrien Hills just in time, after also getting lost because of construction work on Napier avenue.

Welter, who didn't play competitive golf while doing undergraduate work at Indiana University and getting his masters at Notre Dame, now plays or practices at least five times a week.

"I think the key out there today was putting those damned greens," noted Welter after qualifying in his first attempt. "Those greens are so damned fast."

Making Welter's effort even more remarkable was the fact that he was playing the Berrien Hills course for the first time. He had wanted to come up Thursday and practice, but he had to stay home and work at the bank.

Burke and Laing played in the same threesome while making the championship field.

The 18-year-old Laing is a recent Dowagiac high school now headed for Stanford. He won the Big Six title as a junior and the Blossomland crown as a senior while playing for the Chiefs.

"Things went great the last three holes," declared Laing of three consecutive birdies which qualified him for Am championship competition for the second straight year.

Burke, a 20-year-old, will play golf for Wayland (Tex.) College this fall. He played for Cedarville (Ohio) College as a freshman and won conference and district honors and was an all-state golfer this past school year at Kalamazoo Valley Community College.

This is Burke's first Western Am tourney.

Peterson, 26, is a Dowagiac high school graduate who went on to earn all-state golf honors at Southwestern Michigan College. He is now a supervisor of Jesso, Inc., in Dowagiac. He made the Am field in his fourth try.

"I was hitting my drives good and my irons super...I didn't make a putt," declared Peterson, who had 15 pars and three bogeys.

Schiene is just 17 and headed to the University of Illinois on a golf scholarship. This is the first Am for the youngster who finished fourth as a senior in the Illinois high school meet.

He called his round Friday "very erratic," after having four birdies and double bogeys on the first and last holes.

Among those missing the playoff by one stroke were John Sieber of Niles, who once worked at Berrien Hills as a groundskeeper, Jim Erickson of St. Joseph, and Steve Wells of Dowagiac, who was a member of Cassopolis high school's 1972 state golf championship team.

The Lions went into today's game with one outing already under their belt — a 10-7 defeat by Denver in last week's annual Pro Football Hall of Fame Game at Canton, Ohio.

It was the first game of the season for the Bills who are trying to put together an offense without the services of rushing record holder O.J. Simpson. The Juice has decided not to play in Buffalo anymore, and Wilson is reportedly trying to work a trade for the troubled superstar.

Six-year pro Vic Washington has been given the task of trying to replace Simpson in the Buffalo backfield.

Saban said before the game he would split the quarterbacking between starter Joe Ferguson, who tied for the NFL lead in touchdown passes a year ago, and Gary Marangi, a third-year pro out of Boston College.

Detroit Coach Rick Forzano was expected to go with Joe Reed and Bill Munson at the throttle and indicated he might also give Greg Landry some work. Landry and Munson are coming off injuries that forced them out of the second half of last season. Landry did not play against Denver.

Forzano also was expected to take another look at rookie Gary Danielson, the former Purdue signal-caller who played his high school ball at Dearborn Divine Child.

Lion, Buffalo Tilt Has State Flavor

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Today's preseason National Football League game between the Detroit Lions and Buffalo Bills was sprinkled with a definite Michigan flavor.

The two clubs were slated to clash at 4 p.m. at Pontiac Stadium.

The Bills boast three offensive linemen who are natives of the Detroit area and products of Michigan colleges.

All-Pro guard Joe DeLamielleure graduated from Center Line St. Clement High School and later won All-America honors at Michigan State.

Guard Reggie McKenzie and tight end Paul Seymour were both standouts at the University of Michigan following prep careers at Highland Park and Royal Oak Shrine, respectively.

Buffalo rookie linebacker Dan Jilek — who is fighting for a spot on the Bills' roster — also was a star at Michigan where he twice earned All-Big Ten honors as a defensive end for Bo Schmebeckler. Jilek prepped at Sterling Heights Stevenson.

It even reaches into the Buffalo front office. The Bills are owned by former Detroiters and

And, of course, the Lions are all too familiar with Buffalo Coach Lou Saban.

It was Saban, then coach of the Denver Broncos, who engineered a triumph for the upstart American Football League against the Lions on Aug. 6, 1967, in the first game ever played between clubs from the NFL and AFL.

The Lions were years living down the embarrassment of that defeat.

Tiger Tracks

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Manager Ralph Houk appeared less than optimistic Friday about the Tigers' chances in a weekend series against Baltimore in the Orioles' home field.

"We face their two best pitchers over there, (Jim) Palmer (14-8) and (Wayne) Garland, (12-2)," Houk said. The Tigers will send Dave Lemmency, 2-2, and Ray Bare, 4-4, against the Orioles.

Houk said he hoped for a time Friday that loser Vern Riffe might handle the Orioles after a shaky first inning in which two runs were scored, but added he still has faith in the young right-hander from Livonia.

Riffe was hoping to extend his winning streak to two games after losing five straight.

"He pitched well in a lot of those ballgames but we just didn't score runs for him. He's got to be one of our better starters," he said.

Baltimore Coach Billy Hunter, acting as manager while Earl Weaver sits out a three-day suspension, said he hopes Reggie Jackson will be able to return to the lineup in the weekend series with Detroit.

Jackson was hit in the face by a pitched ball Tuesday and while no bones were broken he was injured severely enough to remain out of action.

Hunter said Jackson's presence should help the Orioles in their bid to catch first-place New York.

"Sure, there's 11 games between us but if we play like we've been playing..." he said, his voice trailing off wistfully. "We're going to have to beat them (New York) every time we play and hope somebody else can beat them too."

Baltimore took three straight from New York before sweeping two games from Detroit.

Mickey Stanley took some ribbing Friday from Bill Freehan, who kidded Stanley about his upcoming annual summer vacation.

However, Stanley's "vacations" the last two years have been due to injuries.

"I usually get hurt the last two days of July," he said.

Lone Unbeaten Teams In Tourney

SJ, Three Oaks Perfect

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

Favorite St. Joseph and strong contender Three Oaks emerged as the lone unbeaten teams Friday afternoon in the American Legion district baseball tournament.

St. Joseph used the strong pitching of Gary Meek to edge out South Haven 2-1 while Three Oaks banged out 20 hits and its hurlers only permitted seven in downing Hastings 7-4 and Lakeshore 4-2.

In other games Friday South Haven nipped Dowagiac 7-6 and then Hastings ousted Dowagiac

8-7 in nine innings.

St. Joseph and Three Oaks were scheduled to meet in an early showdown today at 1:00 p.m. at Lakeshore high school with the winner taking the driver's seat in the double-elimination affair.

In another game today South Haven was scheduled to play Lakeshore at 1:00 p.m. at St. Joseph high school. There was also a contest slated at 3:30 p.m. at St. Joseph high school.

The championship tilt will be played Sunday starting at 3:30 p.m. at Lakeshore.

Meek, a former star pitcher at Lake Michigan Catholic, was almost untouchable after the third inning as he grew stronger after a shaky start. The lefty, who ended with a four-hitter, gave up only one scratch hit in the last four frames and ended with six strikeouts.

South Haven took the lead in the first on a walk and a RBI double by Marty Capaccio.

St. Joe finally broke the ice in the fifth, thanks to some shoddy fielding by South Haven. Pat Weber was credited with a two-bagger which was misjudged by the right-fielder. Weber went to third and Carey Ross ran to first when the catcher missed a third strike. Weber then scored on a wild pitch and Ross went to third. Herb Ross brought the winning run home on a sacrifice fly to center field.

Tim Hoyt permitted only six hits but was charged with the hard-luck defeat. Kurt Felgner of St. Joe stroked two singles for the lone player with more than one safety.

Three Oaks rified 11 hits with Denny Busse collecting three in its win over Hastings. Jeff Jackson, Denny Zebell and Dave North all added two singles with Jackson getting three RBIs and Zebell two.

Mark Francis and Jeff Jackson combined for a three-hitter with Francis registering the victory.

Jeff Lenard tossed a four-hitter, fanning six, and his teammates belted nine hits in Three Oaks' triumph over Lakeshore. Randy Chase and Jeff Jackson both punched two singles while Howard Jackson hammered a single and double.

Three Oaks broke a 1-1 deadlock in the fifth with two runs coming home on a Lakeshore throwing error. Three of the four Three Oaks runs were unearned.

Lakeshore, which scored one run in the third and one in the fifth, had Craig Shafer with two singles. Tim Farrow was dealt the loss.

South Haven tallied three runs in the last frame to edge Dowagiac. All three runs were unearned and came without benefit of a hit. Dowagiac had rallied for six runs in the sixth to seize the lead.

Jerry Canonic took the mound win and Kevin Vanderbush the setback. Capaccio slugged two singles for the winners and Vanderbush two doubles for Dowagiac.

Hastings eliminated Dowagiac by scoring a run in the ninth inning on a passed ball. Jim Waalkes took the loss.

Todd Wilson, Jeff Nate, Mike Nole and Kurt Cox all delivered two hits in the 11-hit Dowagiac offensive. Armond Ronguetto slapped three hits for the winners while Al Allerdiak posted the pitching win.

Dowagiac ended the season with an overall mark of 14-18.

Maryland First Irish Foe

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The University of Notre Dame opens its 1976-77 basketball season at 11th-ranked Maryland on Nov. 27.

The Irish will also meet defending NCAA champion and top-ranked Indiana, No. 2 Marquette and fifth-ranked UCLA during their 27-game schedule.

Notre Dame was 23-6 last year and ended the season ranked 12th in the Associated Press poll.

The Irish will play UCLA at Los Angeles on Dec. 11, and then they'll come right home to face Indiana in South Bend on Dec. 14. Notre Dame will also play at Kentucky on Dec. 30 and at Marquette on Jan. 16. The rematch with UCLA at South Bend will be Dec. 23.

Sweet Gets Two Wins At Hartford

HARTFORD — Randy Sweet was a double-feature winner Friday night at the Hartford Motor Speedway here.

A double-feature program was scheduled Friday because rain washed out the July 23 card. Sweet edged out Bob Karnes of Kalamazoo in the bumper-to-bumper finish in the first feature for late model cars. He then won the regular feature, beating out Terry Senneker.

Karnes did post the last time of 18.88 seconds for late model cars. John Benson won the fast car dash and Gary Peoples took the first heat.

The first feature for semi-late models went to Dennis Bennett. Bob Dorstewitz was second. Dick Reynolds captured the second feature with Rick French second.

Dorstewitz did post the fast time of 23.44 seconds. The fast car dash went to Dale Harrington. Rick Thompson won the first, Dick Gross the second and Dale French the third.

Saban said before the game he would split the quarterbacking between starter Joe Ferguson, who tied for the NFL lead in touchdown passes a year ago, and Gary Marangi, a third-year pro out of Boston College.

Detroit Coach Rick Forzano was expected to go with Joe Reed and Bill Munson at the throttle and indicated he might also give Greg Landry some work. Landry and Munson are coming off injuries that forced them out of the second half of last season. Landry did not play against Denver.

Forzano also was expected to take another look at rookie Gary Danielson, the former Purdue signal-caller who played his high school ball at Dearborn Divine Child.

Lone Unbeaten Teams In Tourney SJ, Three Oaks Perfect

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

Favorite St. Joseph and strong contender Three Oaks emerged as the lone unbeaten teams Friday afternoon in the American Legion district baseball tournament.

St. Joseph used the strong pitching of Gary Meek to edge out South Haven 2-1 while Three Oaks banged out 20 hits and its hurlers only permitted seven in downing Hastings 7-4 and Lakeshore 4-2.

In other games Friday South Haven nipped Dowagiac 7-6 and then Hastings ousted Dowagiac

8-7 in nine innings.

St. Joseph and Three Oaks were scheduled to meet in an early showdown today at 1:00 p.m. at Lakeshore high school with the winner taking the driver's seat in the double-elimination affair.

In another game today South Haven was scheduled to play Lakeshore at 1:00 p.m. at St. Joseph high school. There was also a contest slated at 3:30 p.m. at St. Joseph high school.

The championship tilt will be played Sunday starting at 3:30 p.m. at Lakeshore.

Meek, a former star pitcher at Lake Michigan Catholic, was almost untouchable after the third inning as he grew stronger after a shaky start. The lefty, who ended with a four-hitter, gave up only one scratch hit in the last four frames and ended with six strikeouts.

South Haven took the lead in the fifth, thanks to some shoddy fielding by South Haven. Pat Weber was credited with a two-bagger which was misjudged by the right-fielder. Weber went to third and Carey Ross ran to first when the catcher missed a third strike. Weber then scored on a wild pitch and Ross went to third. Herb Ross brought the winning run home on a sacrifice fly to center field.

Tim Hoyt permitted only six hits but was charged with the hard-luck defeat. Kurt Felgner of St. Joe stroked two singles for the lone player with more than one sacrifice.

Three Oaks rified 11 hits with Denny Busse collecting three in its win over Hastings. Jeff Jackson, Denny Zebell and Dave North all added two singles with Jackson getting three RBI's and Zebell two.

Mark Francis and Jeff Jackson combined for a three-hitter with Francis registering the victory.

Jeff Lenard tossed a four-hitter, fanning six, and his teammates belted nine hits in Three Oaks' triumph over Lakeshore. Randy Chase and Jeff Jackson both punched two singles. Howard Jackson hammered a single and double.

Three Oaks broke a deadlock in the fifth with runs coming home on a Lakeshore throwing error. Three of the four Three Oaks runs were unearned.

Lakeshore, which scored run in the third and one in the fifth, had Craig Shafer with singles. Tim Farrow was the loss.

South Haven tallied three in the last frame to Dowagiac. All three runs unearned and came with benefit of a hit. Dowagiac rallied for six runs in the last frame to tie the game.

Jerry Canonic took the win and Kevin Vanderbusch slugger. Capaccio slugged singles for the winners. Vanderbusch two double Dowagiac.

Hastings eliminated Dowagiac by scoring a run in the ninth inning on a pitch. Jim Waalkes took the loss.

Todd Wilson, Jeff Nate, Nate and Kurt Cox all delivered two hits in the 11-hit Dowagiac offense. Armond Rong slapped three hits for winners while Al Allen posted the pitching win.

Dowagiac ended the season with an overall mark of 14-

Lion, Buffalo Tilt Has State Flavor

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Today's preseason National Football League game between the Detroit Lions and Buffalo Bills was sprinkled with a definite Michigan flavor.

The two clubs were slated to clash at 4 p.m. at Pontiac Stadium.

The Bills boast three offensive linemen who are natives of the Detroit area and products of Michigan colleges.

All-Pro guard Joe DeLamielleure graduated from Center Line St. Clement High School and later won All-America honors at Michigan State.

Guard Reggie McKenzie and tight end Paul Seymour were both standouts at the University of Michigan following prep careers at Highland Park and Royal Oak Shrine, respectively.

Buffalo rookie linebacker Dan Jilek — who is fighting for a spot on the Bills' roster — also was a star at Michigan where he twice earned All-Big Ten honors as a defensive end for Bo Schembechler. Jilek prepped at Sterling Heights Stevenson.

And, of course, the Lions are all too familiar with Buffalo Coach Lou Saban.

It was Saban, then coach of the Denver Broncos, who engineered a triumph for the upstart American Football League against the Lions on Aug. 6, 1967, in the first game ever played between clubs from the NFL and AFL.

The Lions were years living down the embarrassment of that defeat.

The Lions went into today's game with one outing already under their belt — a 10-7 defeat by Denver in last week's annual Pro Football Hall of Fame Game at Canton, Ohio.

It was the first game of the season for the Bills who are trying to put together an offense without the services of rushing record holder O.J. Simpson. The Juice has decided not to play in Buffalo anymore, and Wilson is reportedly trying to work a trade for the troubled superstar.

Six-year pro Vic Washington has been given the task of trying to replace Simpson in the Buffalo backfield.

Saban said before the game he would split the quarterbacking between starter Joe Ferguson, who tied for the NFL lead in touchdown passes a year ago, and Gary Marangi, a third-year pro out of Boston College.

Detroit Coach Rick Forzano was expected to go with Joe Reed and Bill Munson at the throttle and indicated he might also give Greg Landry some work. Landry and Munson are coming off injuries that forced them out of the second half of last season. Landry did not play against Denver.

Forzano also was expected to take another look at rookie Gary Danielson, the former Purdue signal-caller who played his high school ball at Dearborn Divine Child.

Blanks White Sox On Three-Hitter Ryan Snaps Loss String

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nolan Ryan fired a three-hitter to end a personal four-game losing streak and the California Angels scored three runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Chicago White Sox 3-0 Friday night.

Ryan, 31, walked two and struck out 10 in recording his first victory since July 7. The only Chicago hits were infield singles by Ralph Garr in the first and fourth innings and a clean single by Jorge Orta in the ninth.

It was the 27th shutout of Ryan's career and fourth this season. It also was the 78th time he has reached double figures in strikeouts.

In other games, the New York Yankees topped the Boston Red Sox 6-4; the Kansas City Royals edged the Texas Rangers 2-1; the Minnesota Twins nipped the Oakland A's 8-7; the Cleveland Indians downed the Milwaukee Brewers 7-2 in a rain-shortened seven-inning game.

Tom Poquette sprayed three singles, including a tie-breaking hit in the fifth inning following a triple by Frank White. Dennis Leonard limited the Rangers to three hits, two of them infield grounders, before he left with one out in the ninth after developing a blister.

The Royals are short of pitching these days with Steve Busby and Paul Splittorff sidelined. Hopefully, Leonard, 24, won't have to miss a turn.

Rookie Butch Wynegar ignited Minnesota's comeback from a 7-1 deficit with his first major league grand slam home run in the fifth inning and Larry Hisle's eighth-inning sacrifice fly drove in the winner. Pitcher Steve Braun tied the game with a single off A's relief ace Rollie Fingers before Hisle's game-winning fly. The setback dropped the A's nine games behind Kansas City in the AL West.

Rick Manning's two-run double capped Cleveland's four-run fourth inning and Milwaukee aided the Indians' cause by committing five errors in the game. Cleveland starter Dennis Eckersley struck out 12 in the rain-shortened game. The scheduled nightcap was rained out.

May, Orioles Trip Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — The home run tally after Friday's Detroit-Baltimore game read Mickey Stanley 2, Lee May 1, but in the end it was the streaking Orioles who ended up on top.

The second-place Orioles, who now have won five straight in their pursuit of the first-place New York Yankees, used May's three-run homer in the fifth inning to consolidate a 7-3 victory over the Tigers and keep pace the New York Yankees who beat Boston, 6-4.

Stanley played first base because of an ankle injury that has sidelined regular first baseman Jason Thompson, the Tigers' home run leader with 15.

The home runs were the second and third of the season for Stanley, who has played 41 games this season for the Tigers and who seems to have relegated himself to playing as a substitute after years as a Tiger regular.

"I've sort of conditioned myself to it," Stanley said of coming off the bench. He said he will play for a couple days, until Thompson can return to the lineup, "and then I'll probably hit the plank again."

Stanley, who accounted for all the Tiger runs, was naturally pleased with his homers, one a two-run shot in the second and the other a solo blow in the seventh, but noted:

"The last couple games when I've swung the bat pretty good we've lost, so it's hard to go out and celebrate."

The victory went to Ross Grimsley, who held the Tigers to six hits through seven innings and evened his record at 4-4. Grimsley was replaced after the seventh inning by Dyer Miller, who held the Tigers hitless for the final two innings.

May's blast was his 19th of the year and gave the Orioles a four-run cushion that guaranteed the victory, but he said he was surprised the hit cleared the left-field fence, eluding Alex Johnson's grasp.

"The pitch I hit was a good slider, down and in, and I was lucky to get the bat head on it," May said. "I think the wind might have helped it out."

The homer was the last straw for starting Tiger pitcher Vern Riffe, now 6-8, who was replaced by reliever Jim Crawford.

"Vern just wasn't sharp tonight," said Tiger Manager Ralph Houk.

"I just didn't have it," Riffe agreed. "Baltimore is playing good ball and you have to give them credit. They take advantage of mistakes."

The battle moves to Baltimore tonight, with the hot Orioles hoping to continue their streak. Oriole ace Jim Palmer 14-8, will face Dave Lemagay, 2-2.

Coch Billy Hunter, acting as manager in Earl Weaver's absence due to a three-day suspension, said if the Orioles stay hot, they might be able to catch the first-place Yankees.

"Our club has a reputation for putting on a drive near the end of the season and I'm sure the Yankees are aware of it," he said.

Baltimore also scored in the third on a solo homer by Doug DeCinces. After May's homer in the fifth, reliever Crawford gave up a run on a double by Mark Belanger and an RBI single by catcher Dave Duncan.

The Orioles opened the game with two runs on four hits in the first inning.

OSU, Michigan Hold Lock On Big Ten--Daugherty

By FRED STANLEY, Jr.
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Duffy Daugherty, the jovial Irishman, was completely serious as he talked about the future of Big Ten football.

"I don't see any way a team can consistently compete with Ohio State and Michigan," said Daugherty, 60, who resigned as head coach at Michigan State in 1972 after 26 seasons on the Spartan staff.

"When we were successful, we used to sell the school, its people and its campus to the parents as well as the student-athlete. Now, the NCAA won't let you pay for the parents on a visit," Daugherty said during a recent visit here. He was on a golfing tour with a group of friends and former coaches.

"Ohio State and Michigan are so well organized with well-to-do boosters all over the country, that it's next to impossible to compete on an even basis with them."

In Duffy's final two seasons at Michigan State, his Spartans were 6-6 and 5-5-1 for an 11-16-1 mark — the only team in the conference to break .500 outside of OSU and Michigan.

"You can't tell me that seven other coaching staffs were no good," Daugherty said. "Something's wrong with the system, and it won't get any better because Ohio State and Michigan are in a position to offer a prospect all the fringes that are within legality."

"They have wealthy and influential alumni everywhere, and when they can offer a prospect a summer job for $2,500 as opposed to $1,300, where do you think the kid's going to go?"

"It's legal, don't get me wrong. All the NCAA says about summer jobs is that the athlete get paid the same salary as the nonathlete."

What's the solution? "I really can't speak for the other schools, but I do know that Michigan State has got to work harder to get more support within the state of Michigan," Duffy said. "It has to find people who are willing to give good summer jobs, people who will go and sit down with parents on a regular basis and sell Michigan State."

"It takes a lot of planning by a lot of people to get a system molded like Ohio State and Michigan have. It just doesn't happen by accident."

Some felt he was leaving because of bad experiences at the end of an oft-brilliant coaching career that saw his Spartans finish in two Rose Bowls (1956 and 1966) and amass a record of 100-69-5.

But Duffy doesn't see it that way.

"I never subscribed to the theory that I left Michigan State football in a shambles, as some people would have you believe," Duffy said. "However, I realized in the middle of my last season that things weren't going to get any better under me."

"I thought maybe a complete change would sweep out the past and make things better for MSU football in the future. I felt the administration and public might support a new regime."

Daugherty was sorry to see his old school go on a three-year probation from the NCAA last winter.

"But," he said, "it's like I used to tell my football players, there's nothing you can do about the last play...just get ready for the next one.

"You have to accept the penalty from the NCAA, even if you don't like it. My hope is that this will unite the friends and alumni of Michigan State."

"I can remember all the support we had back in 1951 when we went on probation for two years. The players played harder than ever before, and we got off probation just in time to go to the Rose Bowl in 1954."

system, and it won't get any better because Ohio State and Michigan are in a position to offer a prospect all the fringes that are within legality.

"They have wealthy and influential alumni everywhere, and when they can offer a prospect a summer job for $2,500 as opposed to $1,200, where do you think the kid's going to go?"

"It's legal, don't get me wrong. All the NCAA says about summer jobs is that the athlete get paid the same salary as the nonathlete."

What's the solution? "I really can't speak for the other schools, but I do know that Michigan State has got to work harder to get more support within the state of Michigan," Duffy said. "It has to find people who are willing to give good summer jobs, people who will go and sit down with parents on a regular basis and sell Michigan State."

"It takes a lot of planning by a lot of people to get a system molded like Ohio State and Michigan have. It just doesn't happen by accident."

Some felt he was leaving because of bad experiences at the end of an oft-brilliant coaching career that saw his Spartan teams lay in two Rose Bowls (1956 and 1966) and amass a record of 109-69-5.

But Duffy doesn't see it that way.

"I never subscribed to the theory that I left Michigan State football in a shambles, as some people would have you believe," Duffy said. "However, I realized in the middle of my last season that things weren't going to get any better under me."

"I thought maybe a complete change would sweep out the past and make things better for MSU football in the future. I felt the administration and public might support a new regime."

Daugherty was sorry to see his old school go on a three-year probation from the NCAA last winter.

"But," he said, "it's like I used to tell my football players, there's nothing you can do about the last play... just get ready for the next one. "You have to accept the penalty from the NCAA, even if you don't like it. My hope is that this will unite the friends and alumni of Michigan State."

"I can remember all the support we had back in 1951 when we went on probation for two years. The players played harder than ever before, and we got off probation just in time to go to the Rose Bowl in 1954."

Blanks White Sox On Three-Hitter Ryan Snaps Loss String

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nolan Ryan fired a three-hitter to end a personal four-game losing streak and the California Angels scored three runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Chicago White Sox 3-0 Friday night.

Ryan, 8-13, walked two and struck out 10 in recording his first victory since July 7. The only Chicago hits were infield singles by Ralph Garr in the first and fourth innings and a clean single by Jorge Orta in the ninth.

It was the 27th shutout of Ryan's career and fourth this season. It also was the 78th time he has reached double figures in strikeouts.

In other games, the New York Yankees topped the Boston Red Sox 6-4; the Kansas City Royals edged the Texas Rangers 2-1; the Minnesota Twins nipped the Oakland A's 8-7; the Cleveland Indians downed the Milwaukee Brewers 7-2 in a rain-shortened seven-inning game.

Tom Poquette sprayed three singles, including a tie-breaking hit in the fifth, following a triple by Frank White. Dennis Leonard limited the Rangers to three hits, two of them infield grounders, before he left with one out in the ninth after developing a blister.

The Royals are short of pitching these days with Steve Busby and Paul Splittorff

sidelined. Hopefully, Leonard, 12-4, won't have to miss a turn.

Rookie Butch Wynegar ignited Minnesota's comeback from a 7-1 deficit with his first major league grand slam home run in the fifth inning and Larry Hisle's eighth-inning sacrifice fly drove in the winner. Pinch hitter Steve Braun tied the game with a single off A's relief ace Rollie Fingers before Hisle's game-winning fly. The setback dropped the A's nine games behind Kansas City in the AL West.

Rick Manning's two-run double capped Cleveland's four-run fourth inning and Milwaukee aided the Indians' cause by committing five errors in the

May, Orioles Trip Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — The home run tally after Friday's Detroit-Baltimore game read Mickey Stanley 2, Lee May 1, but in the end it was the streaking Orioles who ended up on top.

The second-place Orioles, who now have won five straight in their pursuit of the first-place New York Yankees, used May's three-run homer in the fifth inning to consolidate a 7-3 victory over the Tigers and keep pace the New York Yankees who beat Boston, 6-4.

Stanley played first base because of an ankle injury that has sidelined regular first baseman Jason Thompson, the Tigers' home run leader with 15.

The home runs were the second and third of the season for Stanley, who has played 44 games this season for the Tigers and who seems to have relegated himself to playing as a substitute after years as a Tiger regular.

"I've sort of conditioned myself to it," Stanley said of coming off the bench. He said he will play for a couple days, until Thompson can return to the lineup, "and then I'll probably hit the plank again."

Stanley, who accounted for all the Tiger runs, was naturally pleased with his homers, one a two-run shot in the second and the other a solo blow in the seventh, but noted:

"The last couple games when I've swung the bat pretty good we've lost, so it's hard to go out and celebrate."

The victory went to Ross Grimsley, who held the Tigers to six hits through seven innings and evened his record at 4-4. Grimsley was replaced after the seventh inning by Dyar Miller, who held the Tigers hitless for the final two innings.

May's blast was his 19th of the year and gave the Orioles a four-run cushion that guaranteed the victory, but he said he was surprised the hit cleared the left-field fence, eluding Alex Johnson's grasp.

"The pitch I hit was a good slider, down and in, and I was lucky to get the bat head on it," May said. "I think the wind might have helped it out."

The homer was the last straw for starting Tiger pitcher Vern Riffe, now 6-8, who was replaced by reliever Jim Crawford.

"Vern just wasn't sharp tonight," said Tiger Manager Ralph Houk.

"I just didn't have it," Riffe agreed. "Baltimore is playing good ball and you have to give them credit. They take advantage of mistakes."

The battle moves to Baltimore tonight, with the hot Orioles hoping to continue their streak. Oriole ace Jim Palmer 14-8, will face Dave Lemanczyk, 2-2.

Coach Billy Hunter, acting as manager in Earl Weaver's absence due to a three-day suspension, said if the Orioles stay hot, they might be able to catch the first-place Yankees.

"Our club has a reputation for putting on a drive near the end of the season and I'm sure the Yankees are aware of it," he said.

Baltimore also scored in the third on a solo homer by Doug DeCinces. After May's homer in the fifth, reliever Crawford gave up a run on a double by Mark Belanger and an RBI single by catcher Dave Duncan.

The Orioles opened the game with two runs on four hits in the first inning.

Four Sharing Top Spot In Valley Golf Classic

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Young Bob Gilder, bidding for fame and fortune as a rookie on the pro golf tour, figures patience finally is paying off for him — in foul or fair weather.

The 25-year-old Gilder, who had to travel throughout the world to play while trying to get his PGA player's card, laughed at a steady rain Friday for a share of a four-way tie at the halfway mark of the $200,000 Pleasant Valley Classic.

"It was very wet, but not as bad as I thought it might be," Gilder said after firing a three-under par-68 for a 36-hole total of 137. "I've played in rain so many times back home (Cornwallis, Ore.) that it doesn't both me a bit."

Gilder's second fine effort gave him a tie with Ben Crenshaw, the tour's top money winner this year; veteran Mac McLendon and Rex Caldwell, who barely retained his PGA card by earning $3,000 as a rookie in 1975. Crenshaw had a four-under-par 67, and McLendon and Caldwell 70 on Pleasant Valley Country Club's soggy 7,119-yard layout.

After playing as a youth in Oregon, Gilder honed his game at Arizona State. Then, unable to earn his PGA card, he went overseas "because I had no where else to play and I wanted to play as much as possible."

Gilder. Crenshaw. McLendon and Caldwell started the third round today with just a one-stroke lead over John Schlee, Dave Stockton and Mark Hayes, tied at 138. Schlee, who tied the course record of 65 in the first round, lost his lead with a double bogey and a bogey Friday, scoring a 73. Stockton had a 71 to go with his opening 67, while Hayes had a pair of 69s.

Another stroke back at 139 were Tom Jenkins, Bud Allin and Lee Elder. There was a six-way tie at 140 as the tournament turned into a horse race despite the harsh weather. The starting field of 156 was trimmed to 80, with a cutoff score of 145, for the final two rounds.

McKay Makes Pro Debut

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The team may be new, but the coach should be familiar to Los Angeles fans when the expansion Tampa Bay Buccaneers take on the Los Angeles Rams as part of the first full weekend of National Football League exhibition games.

The Saturday night game in Los Angeles, marks the pro coaching debut of John McKay, former coach of the University of Southern California Trojans. McKay will be coaching one former USC player — receiver J.K. McKay, coach McKay's son — and may be facing another, rookie Rams quarterback Pat Haden.

McKay won't be the only coach trying to prove that you can go home again. Former UCLA coach Dick Vermeil, who went pro last winter after leading his team to a Rose Bowl upset over Ohio State, will return to the West Coast as head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, who play the San Diego Chargers Saturday night.

San Diego coach Tommy Prothro used to be Vernel's boss. Vernel was assistant coach to Prothro with both the UCLA Bruins and the Rams.

The Eagles' quarterback will be another displaced westerner, former Stanford star Mike Boryla.

Another former Stanford star will make his first start for a Western pro team. Jim Plunkett, traded from the New England Patriots to the San Francisco 49ers in the off-season, is set to play Sunday when the 49ers take on the Seattle Seahawks.

Yet another former USC star, O.J. Simpson, won't be playing this weekend — and maybe not this season — because he hasn't been given a chance to play out west. Simpson, property of the Buffalo Bills, has refused to play unless he is traded to a West Coast team.

Buffalo will play Detroit in one of two games Saturday afternoon. In the other, Cleveland plays Baltimore AT Lincoln, Neb.

Saturday night, other games include Pittsburgh at New Orleans, Dallas at Oakland, Minnesota at Miami, Washington at Atlanta, the New York Jets and new coach Lou Holtz at St. Louis, Cincinnati at Green Bay and Chicago at Denver.

Sunday games include the San Francisco-Seattle game, which will be both the first game for the expansion Seahawks and the first game for their domed stadium. Larry Conka and the New York Giants play New England under the lights at Foxboro, Mass.

Houston travels to Kansas City for the first Monday night game of the season.

Tiny Iowa Town Plans Fight For Title As GOP Birthplace

By VAL CORLEY
Associated Press Writer

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Iowa (AP) — Gerald Ford and Ronald Reagan, step aside. Another fight may be brewing for the Republican National Convention. Crawfordville, Iowa, wants to challenge Ripon, Wis., for the title of birthplace of the Grand Old Party.

"Crawfordville is entitled to the distinction of being called the birthplace of this organization," says Iowa GOP chairman Tom Stoner. "We feel the matter should be openly and fairly investigated."

"I am not unmindful that the usual claim is that the party was born in Ripon, Wis., March 20, 1854. But the convention at Crawfordville antedated the Ripon meeting at least one month."

Not only are Iowa Republicans gathering documents to support their claim, Republicans from around the state are being summoned to a rally in Crawfordville next Saturday — the "Great Crawfordville Republican Reunion," they call it.

They will re-enact their version of the meeting that started it all as well as their version of the Lincoln-Douglas debates.

Stoner says that after the rally, the organizers will decide whether to take the town's case before the full Republican National Convention in Kansas City in three weeks.

"The people of Crawfordville feel ripped off by Ripon," says Robert Fleming of Des Moines, chairman of the Crawfordville Reunion Committee. "There were meetings being held all around the Middle West on the issues of slavery and all sorts of things and they are all sort of credited with bringing about the Republican party. Obviously, the first one held is the first meeting of Republicans."

Stoner does not dispute that an organizational meeting was held at Ripon on March 20, 1854. But he says a meeting here in the United Seceders Church on Feb. 23, 1854, was the GOP's true beginning.

"It was a meeting of free soilers, abolitionists, various groups of people concerned about the extension of slavery," Stoner said. And he says records show the group called itself the Republican party.

Crawfordville is a farming community of 288, and usually spends its time producing corn, soybeans and hogs.

Republicans in Wisconsin say they're not impressed.

"The people in Crawfordville must be eating something funny," says George Innes, executive director of the Republican party of Wisconsin. "I think the evidence is clear that the first time the word Republican was used in association with a political party in the 1850s was here in Wisconsin."

But even if the Iowa claim is turned aside, Ripon should not rest easy. Jackson, Mich., says it owns the title because the party's first platform was drawn up there in July 1854.

New Quake Warnings Issued

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Foreign Ministry warned foreign embassies today of possible strong aftershocks "within a day or two" and urged that full precautionary measures be taken for new earth tremors, Japanese newspapers reported.

Japanese correspondents reported from Peking that earthquake alerts continued in the Chinese capital and other parts of northeastern China following a devastating earthquake Wednesday.

Chinese authorities ordered millions of people in the quake-stricken areas into the streets early Friday in anticipation of new tremors, but no fresh shocks have been reported.

The Peking correspondent of one Japanese newspaper quoted Chinese sources saying the quake was "the biggest natural calamity in several hundred years in China."

The official Chinese news agency Hsinhua has said Tangshan, a coal-mining and industrial city about 80 miles east-southeast of Peking, "suffered extremely serious damage and losses." But no official casualty or damage figures have been released.

Reports from Western survivors indicated the city of about one million people was mostly destroyed, but the only confirmed deaths were those of three Japanese technicians and one French woman.

His Opponents Might Believe This Story

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Billy Milliken, the publication said, "runs his gang from a watershed in the rear of a flashy van equipped with a television set."

In addition, Milliken suffers an unhappy breakup with "a local beauty," Lisa Lenore, the article continued. But the Milliken mentioned has nothing to do with Michigan politics. Gov. William Milliken's coincidental namesake is a fictional character in the film "Drive-In," which was reviewed recently by several critics.

State Rep. Casmer Ogonowski, D-Detroit, ran into a multiple goof on a campaign gimmick he had manufactured for his re-election bid. He had pencils made with erasers on both ends and no lead and the words, "Make No Mistake — Support Ogonowski."

But the 5,000 pencils, manufactured at a cost of $420, misspelled Ogonowski's name.

"It's bad enough just having a Polish pencil, but the guy couldn't even spell the name right," said Ogonowski, who returned the bad batch and ordered 5,000 error-free, lead-free, eraser-filled pencils.

The production of the musical comedy "1776" in the state House chambers caused some worries but no major problems, says House Clerk Thomas Thatcher.

During the legislature's summer recess, a Lansing Community College production company took over the House chambers as an authentic setting for the play about signing the Declaration of Independence. A stage was built around the rostrum, powerful lights were installed in the balconies and quill pens and parchment paper popped up on desk tops.

Late-working state employees encountered bewigged men and bustled women in 18th century garb practicing their lines or tunes in the back hallways of the 97-year-old Capitol. One male worker was startled to hear women's voices as he headed for the men's room. They were using it as a makeup area.

"The director came up once and told me there was a machine with a box on the rostrum that he wanted taken out," Thatcher said. It turned out to be the computer which tallies the votes to the 110 House members. "I told him we paid $20,000 for the machine and if he goods it up it would cost $50,000 to replace. He left it where it was," Thatcher said.

Tiny Iowa Town Plans Fight For Title As GOP Birthplace

By VAL CORLEY
Associated Press Writer

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Iowa (AP) — Gerald Ford and Ronald Reagan, step aside. Another fight may be brewing for the Republican National Convention. Crawfordville, Iowa, wants to challenge Ripon, Wis., for the title of birthplace of the Grand Old Party.

"Crawfordville is entitled to the distinction of being called the birthplace of this organization," says Iowa GOP chairman Tom Stoner. "We feel the matter should be openly and fairly investigated. "I am not unmindful that the usual claim is that the party was born in Ripon, Wis., March 20, 1854. But the convention at Crawfordville antedated the Ripon meeting at least one month."

Not only are Iowa Republicans gathering documents to support their claim, Republicans from around the state are being summoned to a rally in Crawfordville next Saturday — the "Great Crawfordville Republican Reunion," they call it. They will re-enact their version of the meeting that started it all as well as their version of the Lincoln-Douglas debates. Stoner says that after the rally, the organizers will decide whether to take the town's case before the full Republican National Convention in Kansas City in three weeks.

"The people of Crawfordville feel ripped off by Ripon," says Robert Fleming of Des Moines, chairman of the Crawfordville Reunion Committee. "There were meetings being held all around the Middle West on the issues of slavery and all sorts of things and they are all sort of credited with bringing about the Republican party. Obviously, the first one held is the first meeting of Republicans."

Stoner does not dispute that an organizational meeting was held at Ripon on March 20, 1854. But he says a meeting here in the United Seceders Church on Feb. 23, 1854, was the GOP's true beginning.

"It was a meeting of free soilers, abolitionists, various groups of people concerned about the extension of slavery," Stoner said. And he says records show the group called itself the Republican party.

Crawfordville is a farming community of 288, and usually spends its time producing corn, soybeans and hogs.

Republicans in Wisconsin say they're not impressed.

"The people in Crawfordville must be eating something funny," says George Innes, executive director of the Republican party of Wisconsin. "I think the evidence is clear that the first time the word Republican was used in association with a political party in the 1850s was here in Wisconsin."

But even if the Iowa claim is turned aside, Ripon should not rest easy. Jackson, Mich., says it owns the title because the party's first platform was drawn up there in July 1854.

New Quake Warnings Issued

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Foreign Ministry warned foreign embassies today of possible strong aftershocks "within a day or two" and urged that full precautionary measures be taken for new earth tremors, Japanese newspapers reported. Japanese correspondents reported from Peking that earthquake alerts continued in the Chinese capital and other parts of northeastern China following a devastating earthquake Wednesday.

Chinese authorities ordered millions of people in the quake-stricken areas into the streets early Friday in anticipation of new tremors, but no fresh shocks have been reported. The Peking correspondent of one Japanese newspaper quoted Chinese sources saying the quake was "the biggest natural calamity in several hundred years in China."

A Colonial Plus Veranda, Deck

By LARRY FARNSWORTH
Note first its beautiful exterior. Even the garage, designed to be entered from the side, presents a pretty, non-utilitarian-looking face to the street. And on the side away from the street, not illustrated here, a first floor house-length veranda and corresponding second story deck add extra charm and living potential.

Now cross the pillared portico and step into the central entry. To the left a huge living room stretches from the front of the house to the charming veranda beyond sliding glass doors at the back.

On the other side of the stairs, at the front of the house, a good sized room for traditional dining is separated from the kitchen by a counter arrangement which allows for fast meal service and also adds a feeling of spaciousness to both rooms.

The kitchen's L-shaped work area leaves plenty of space for informal dining and other activities. It has a big storage closet and a convenient downstairs bathroom. And do not overlook the handy access to the laundry facilities in the big double garage and just a step through it to the rear yard and veranda.

Three bedrooms and two baths are found on the second story, with big closets, especially the cleverly designed dressing room-closet combination between the master bedroom and its private bath. Both baths have outside windows and are back-to-back for plumbing economy. The bedroom doorway opens to the wide sun deck.

You may purchase complete working drawings, materials lists and plan books from Larry Farnsworth, P.O. Box 1841, Las Vegas, Nev. 89101.

EARLY BLIGHT

The yellow leaves with dark spots that develop near the bottom of tomato plants are infected with the fungus early blight. When allowed to develop unchecked, the older leaves will shrivel and drop off. For early blight, spray or dust with maneb, zineb, or other tomato fungicide. Tomato hornworms are active now so look for feeding damage.

CORN BORER

The second brood of corn borer has arrived. Spray or dust sweet corn in silk with Sevin about every five days until Aug. 15. Corn borer will get into the ears like corn earworm. Corn earworm has not shown up in Michigan yet.

POTATOES
Early varieties of potato are about ready for digging.

Remember to kill or remove the vines 7 to 10 days before digging to set the skin on the potatoes. This way the skin doesn't rub off easily when dug and there is less injury.

This 'Cure' Needs H2O

NEW YORK (AP) — A primary cause of flaking in a new concrete patch job is the failure to "cure" the patch properly. Curing means wetting down the repaired area a couple times a day for several days. Or put wet burlap over the patch and remoisten it occasionally. This method is especially good when the patch will be in direct sunlight during the day.

SMOOTH AS GLASS

NEW YORK (AP) — Var-nished surfaces look their best when the wood has first been sanded until it feels almost as smooth as glass, then cleaned with turpentine or mineral spirits to pick up grit.

By ANDY LANG
AP Newscaster

Q. — Our basement is very damp, although there is no leakage through the foundation. I have been told that excessive moisture is coming up through the floor, which is a kind of clay type of soil. I have also been told the only solution is to have a concrete floor put down after first covering the floor with heavy roll roofing. Since this will be quite expensive, I wonder if I couldn't get by with just the roll roofing. Please advise.

A. — The roll roofing alone will keep most of the moisture from coming up into the basement, but this isn't practical. Walking on the roofing material would soon cause it to tear, permitting the moisture to rise into the area. Should you decide to leave the floor as it is, the dampness in the basement can be alleviated by ventilation, dehumidification or heat, perhaps all three.

Q. — If I put in a room air conditioner, will the wiring in our house be able to handle it?

A. — Only an electrician, after making tests, can determine that. Also, the manufacturer of the unit you select includes information on the necessity of new wiring. A lot depends on the horsepower of the chosen air conditioner.

Q. — I have to replace an old bedroom door. I want to get one of those flush doors. Any recommendations?

A. — Only that you will find solid flush doors more expensive than those with hollow cores. The latter are much lighter, but are fine for ordinary uses.

Q. — We have an extra room which is 15 feet by 10 feet. We soon will buy resilient floor tiles for it, the kind which are 9 inches by 9 inches. Can you tell us how many tiles will be needed?

A. — Your dealer has a chart which will give you the answer. But you can figure it for yourself. Multiply one dimension by the other to get the total square footage — in this case, 150 square feet. Multiply by two and that's the number of tiles you will need. This arithmetic takes into consideration that you will require a certain number of extra tiles for cutting and fitting around the irregularities in the room.

Q. — I have some old paint brushes which were used for oil paint a few years ago and have hardened. What can I use to soften them?

A. — All hardware dealers, paint stores and lumber yards carry paint brush softeners. Unless the brushes were fairly expensive when purchased, you might be better off buying new ones. I have found that good brushes can be restored to workable condition; cheap brushes sometimes can't.

A Constant Battle...

NEW YORK — Painters and varnishers wage a constant battle against dust on their finish coats.

So they try to avoid dust by wearing dust-free clothes, cleaning or vacuuming the room where painting will be done, and leaving the article to dry in a room no one will enter until the finish hardens.

Cost Of Owning House Is More Than Mortgage

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newscaster

It's the time of the year when a prospective house buyer may lose perspective when a rose-covered cottage is encountered. Determined to have it even if the bell must be tightened, a couple may forget to estimate those hidden costs.

One couple claims to be "starving to keep up with the high cost of maintenance" of their new home. Somehow they didn't figure beyond mortgage and utility payments.

A new home owner may need to rethink turning on an air conditioning or filling the swimming pool, if there is one, and more and more houses have such luxuries.

But you can't escape cleaning a septic tank or a chimney or acquiring house insurance. And such things add up.

Before deciding to buy a home find the answers to these potential maintenance costs:

— Does the house lap up water when it rains? You might walk about the basement and note whether there is a water mark on the walls. A damp house can be a big expense with sump pumps in operation and plumbers on tap. Often a damp house may be one nestled in a beautiful hilly area.

— What is the bug quotient? Some homeowners will admit they have mosquitos — it shows — or ants, or even that they once had termites, but everything, they may tell you, "is now under control." Check it out with an exterminator.

— Septic tanks must be cleaned every so often, depending on the size of the tank, the family, and such appliances as dishwasher and washing machines. An owner may not have had a tank serviced in many years, and it may be the first expense encountered by new owners.

— Find out how much it costs to clean the furnace in the house.

— If there is a fireplace it will need cleaning for safety every so often, depending on how often it is used.

— If the house uses oil and the tank is buried, it is fairly inaccessible and will cost more to repair than one that is at hand.

— Air conditioning can be great if you can afford it. If it is a big appliance, query the owners on the approximate cost of running it. Setting an automatic timer for the hours you may want to cool the house could be one way of curtailing the expense.

— Does the house have a dug well? In some areas dug wells are now considered unsafe because of pollution of local waters. You may want to have the water tested.

The age of the house is really no clue to its cost of upkeep. Some old houses are cheaply constructed. If you want to check on the materials in the house and how the innards of the house will function there are people who perform such services for a fee.

House Repairs Top BH List

The Benton Harbor building inspection department this week issued seven permits for projects totaling an estimated $4,600.

Sherriff-Goslin Roofing Co., reroof a single-family dwelling owned by Earl Curtis at 846 LaSalle avenue, $1,700. Courard King, reroof a single-family dwelling owned by Jason Alexander, 1181 Ogden avenue, $980. James Scruggs Sr., reroof a two-family dwelling he owns at 630-34 Pearl street, $600.

Fred Minkiel, repairs to a single-family dwelling he owns at 495 Edwards avenue, $500. Charles Moore, repair a carport he owns at 407 Clay street, $400. Cecil Herndon, window repairs at a two-family dwelling he owns at 1278 Broadway, $300.

Fred Butler, repairs to a single-family dwelling he owns at 172 Kirby, $150.

A Colonial Plus Veranda, Deck

By LARRY FARNSWORTH

Note first its beautiful exterior. Even the garage, designed to be entered from the side, presents a pretty, non-utilitarian-looking face to the street. And on the side away from the street, not illustrated here, a first floor house-length veranda and corresponding second story deck add extra charm and living potential.

the back.

On the other side of the stairs, at the front of the house, a good sized room for traditional dining is separated from the kitchen by a counter arrangement which allows for fast meal service and also adds a feeling of spaciousness to both rooms.

The kitchen's L-shaped work area leaves plenty of space for informal dining and other activities. It has a big storage closet and a convenient downstairs bathroom. And do not overlook the handy access to the laundry facilities in the big double garage and just a step through it to the rear yard and veranda.

Three bedrooms and two baths are found on the second story, with big closets, especially the cleverly designed dressing room-closet combination between the master bedroom and its private bath. Both baths have outside windows and are back-to-back for plumbing economy. The bedroom doorway opens to the wide sun deck.

You may purchase complete working drawings, materials lists and plan books from Larry Farnsworth, P.O. Box 1841, Las Vegas, Nev. 89101.

A Constant Battle . . .

NEW YORK — Painters and varnishers wage a constant battle against dust on their finish coats.

So they try to avoid dust by wearing dust-free clothes, cleaning or vacuuming the room where painting will be done, and leaving the article to dry in a room no one will enter until the finish hardens.

EARLY BLIGHT

The yellow leaves with dark spots that develop near the bottom of tomato plants are infected with the fungus early blight. When allowed to develop unchecked, the older leaves will shrivel and drop off. For early blight, spray or dust with maneb, zineb, or other tomato fungicide. Tomato hornworms are active now so look for feeding damage.

CORN BORER

The second brood of corn borer has arrived. Spray or dust sweet corn in silk with Sevin about every five days until Aug. 15. Corn borer will get into the ears like corn earworm. Corn earworm has not shown up in Michigan yet.

POTATOES

Early varieties of potato are about ready for digging. Remember to kill or remove the vines 7 to 10 days before digging to set the skin on the potatoes. This way the skin doesn't rub off easily when dug and there is less injury.

INFORMATION

Information on gardening, landscaping, home canning and nutrition is available from the Michigan State university Cooperative Extension service location in the courthouse, St. Joseph.

This 'Cure' Needs H2O

NEW YORK (AP) — A primary cause of flaking in a new concrete patch job is the failure to "cure" the patch properly. Curing means wetting down the repaired area a couple times a day for several days. Or put wet burlap over the patch and remoisten it occasionally. This method is especially good when the patch will be in direct sunlight during the day.

SMOOTH AS GLASS

NEW YORK (AP) — Var-nished surfaces look their best when the wood has first been sanded until it feels almost as smooth as glass, then cleaned with turpentine or mineral spirits to pick up grit.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q. — Our basement is very damp, although there is no leakage through the foundation. I have been told that excessive moisture is coming up through the floor, which is a kind of clay type of soil. I have also been told the only solution is to have a concrete floor put down after first covering the floor with heavy roll roofing. Since this will be quite expensive, I wonder if I couldn't get by with just the roll roofing. Please advise.

A. — The roll roofing alone will keep most of the moisture from coming up into the basement, but this isn't practical. Walking on the roofing material would soon cause it to tear, permitting the moisture to rise into the area. Should you decide to leave the floor as it is, the dampness in the basement can be alleviated by ventilation, dehumidification or heat, perhaps all three.

Q. — If I put in a room air conditioner, will the wiring in our house be able to handle it?

A. — Only an electrician, after making tests, can determine that. Also, the manufacturer of the unit you select includes information on the necessity of new wiring. A lot depends on the horsepower of the chosen air conditioner.

Q. — I have to replace an old bedroom door. I want to get one of those flush doors. Any recommendations?

A. — Only that you will find solid flush doors more expensive than those with hollow cores. The latter are much lighter, but are fine for ordinary uses.

Q. — We have an extra room which is 15 feet by 10 feet. We soon will buy resilient floor tiles for it, the kind which are 9 inches by 9 inches. Can you tell us how many tiles will be needed?

A. — Your dealer has a chart which will give you the answer. But you can figure it for yourself. Multiply one dimension by the other to get the total square footage — in this case, 150 square feet. Multiply by two and that's the number of tiles you will need. This arithmetic takes into consideration that you will require a certain number of extra tiles for cutting and fitting around the irregularities in the

Cost Of Owning House Is More Than Mortgage

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

It's the time of the year when a prospective house buyer may lose perspective when a rose-covered cottage is encountered. Determined to have it even if the belt must be tightened, a couple may forget to estimate those hidden costs.

One couple claims to be "starving to keep up with the high cost of maintenance" of their new home. Somehow they didn't figure beyond mortgage and utility payments.

A new home owner may need to rethink turning on an air conditioning or filling the swimming pool, if there is one, and more and more houses have such luxuries.

But you can't escape cleaning a septic tank or a chimney or acquiring house insurance. And such things add up.

Before deciding to buy a home find the answers to these potential maintenance costs:

— Does the house lap up water when it rains? You might walk about the basement and note whether there is a water mark on the walls. A damp house can be a big expense with sump pumps in operation and plumbers on tap. Often a damp house may be one nestled in a beautiful hilly area.

— What is the bug quotient? Some homeowners will admit they have mosquitos — it shows — or ants, or even that they once had termites, but everything, they may tell you, "is now under control." Check it out with an exterminator.

— Septic tanks must be cleaned every so often, depending on the size of the tank, the family, and such appliances as dishwasher and washing machines. An owner may not have had a tank serviced in many years, and it may be the first expense encountered by new owners.

— Find out how much it costs to clean the furnace in the house.

— If there is a fireplace it will need cleaning for safety every so often, depending on how often it is used.

— If the house uses oil and the tank is buried, it is fairly inaccessible and will cost more to repair than one that is at hand. — Air conditioning can be great if you can afford it. If it is a big appliance, query the owners on the approximate cost of running it. Setting an automatic timer for the hours you may want to cool the house could be one way of curtailing the expense.

— Does the house have a dug well? In some areas dug wells are now considered unsafe because of pollution of local waters. You may want to have the water tested.

The age of the house is really no clue to its cost of upkeep. Some old houses are cheaply constructed. If you want to check on the materials in the house and how the innards of the house will function there are people who perform such services for a fee.

A cartoon illustration showing a man in a hard hat and a woman sitting at a table. The man is pointing and asking, "WHY ARE YOU EATING ALL THAT JUNK?" The woman is eating a sandwich and replying, "I'M TRYING TO REDUCE." On the table are various food items, including a box of "Fritos", a bowl of "Tostitos", and a plate of "Quesitos". There are also bags of "Doritos" and "Mission" chips. A bowl of fruit is on the table. The background shows a simple room with a wall and a door.

$18.9 MILLION

Consumers' Gas Rate Bid Raised

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Consumers Power Co. was permitted Friday to add $18.9 million to a 20-month-old rate case in which $37 million in rate increases for natural gas customers is still being considered. The state Public Service Commission told the utility it could introduce new evidence in support of an extra $18.9 million because financial data originally submitted with the case is old.

Under a temporary rate increase awarded in June 1975, customers already are paying $29 million of the $37 million.

A PSC decision ultimately will decide the fate of the $29 million customers now pay and the fate of the other $8 million the company is seeking plus the new $18.9 million added to the case Friday.

If Consumers Power was allowed to collect $18.9 million in higher gas rates, bills for average residential customers would go up by about $1.95 in winter months.

The other $8 million that could be awarded in higher rates would affect only commercial and industrial customers.

Consumers is asking for the added $18.9 million because it says financial data included in its original rate request, filed in November 1974, is now too "stale" to accurately mirror the company's current costs.

Commissioner William Ralls voted with PSC Chairman Daniel Demlow to allow the new evidence. Ralls said it would be only fair to let the giant utility bring its financial figures up to date.

The entire Consumers gas case was to be decided before the winter heating season begins in November. But the introduction of new evidence will delay the case and could push a decision back into the winter months, giving customers a few fall months at current rates.

The big question in the case is whether Consumers' Marysville synthetic natural gas plant was worth its $154.5 million cost. The company suffered from massive cost overruns incurred by the contractor who built the plant, Lummus Co. of Bloomfield, N.J. Current rates reflect

Record First Half For Ford

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Ford Motor Credit Co. reported net income for the first six months of the year was a record $56.2 million, up 25 per cent from the $44.9 million for the same period a year ago.

The firm, which provides financing services to about 5,300 Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers in the United States and Canada, attributed the favorable showing to increases in the company's receivables.

Receivables stood at $10.1 billion June 30, compared to $9.1 billion the same day last year.

Ford Credit Chairman John C. Dean also said profits reflected the sale of the firm's common stock portfolio in the first quarter and a favorable credit-loss ratio.

Nursing Home Chief Defends Procedures

By LARRY MACINTYRE Staff Writer

DOWAGIAC — A spokesman for the Schato nursing home here has taken issue with claims of a Detroit-based consumers' group that the state has by default permitted unneeded nursing home construction. Raymond E. Tutwiler, administrator for the nursing home, said claims by Citizens for Better Care are "ridiculous," and that State Sen. John Otterbacher, D-Grand Rapids, "...is intent on driving the private nursing home out of business."

Tutwiler issued his comments in response to an Associated Press story on the consumers' group claims. The story appeared in the Saturday, July 24, edition of this newspaper. The Schato nursing home was one of several mentioned by name in the AP story.

The consumers' group claimed that the state health department, between August, 1974, and May, 1976, failed to hold requested hearings on applications for nursing home construction.

By failing to hold hearings on the applications, it was required to approve the applications by default. The failure to hold the hearings may lead to unnecessary construction that will cost taxpayers $19 million in Medicaid-Medicare payments over the next 25 years, the group claimed in a letter it sent to Otterbacher.

Otterbacher was quoted as saying his health, social services and retirement committee would formally question several health department members on the issue.

In May, 1975, the state health department turned down the application of the nursing home to build a $485,000 addition that would add 45 nursing beds to the 105 it already has.

Tutwiler said "We followed every procedure as required. When our application for additional beds was denied, we appealed their decision. The Department of Public Health had 30 days to respond, which they failed to do, thus giving us a favorable decision by their default."

The then head of the health department said at the time of the denial that the reason was that the proposed addition would have contributed to an excess of long-term care beds beyond beyond projected 1980 needs for the service area.

Tutwiler said the state made errors in judging bed needs in the Dowagiac area.

"Schato averages 88 per cent occupancy," Tutwiler said. In addition, 40 per cent of the patients originate from outside the Dowagiac service area and the Cass county medical facility's 63 beds are charged to the area "...even though they are not located in it and do not use our hospital or our doctors," Tutwiler said.

He added that claims of $19 million in unnecessary Medicare-Medicaid payments are "ridiculous."

"The state pays cost up to a maximum, so if you had a new 100-bed nursing home with only one patient, it would cost the state $25, which is what it would cost them if that patient were in an older home with 99 other patients," the Schato administrator said.

The state pays for qualified Medicare-Medicaid patients in private nursing homes.

Tutwiler said private nursing homes cost from $6 to $10 per day less than any other kind, county or non-profit.

He said the 45-bed addition to the nursing home is expected to be completed by Dec. 1.

Jones Is Target Of Frazer

Congressional Candidate David Frazer took strong exception Friday to a pre-primary endorsement of an opponent made Thursday by the chairman of the Fourth Congressional District Republican committee, F.A. (Mike) Jones of St. Joseph.

Frazer said Jones "violated the trust placed in him by Republicans of the Fourth district" by publicly endorsing David Stockman, one of four candidates seeking the party's nomination in next Tuesday's primary.

"Republicans have a right to an open primary not tainted by power politics so that the people can choose the candidate to best represent them in the November general election. They have certainly not delegated Jones to make that choice. If they had, no primary election would be necessary."

"I am confident the voters will see this as a desperate effort to protect the $75,000 investment made in Stockman's candidacy and voice their displeasure at the polls...by choosing a candidate who best represents their needs."

Gerbers To Market New Line

FREMONT, Mich. (AP) — Gerber Products Co. says it will market a new line of baby foods that do not contain artificial sweeteners.

Arthur J. Frens, the firm's president, told shareholders at this week's annual meeting that a naturally sweetened orange juice should be on store shelves by September. He said 13 more items without artificial sweeteners are slated to be available within the next year.

Frens insisted the new products were developed at the request of customers rather than because of criticism last year by some consumer groups. The criticism centered on baby food makers failing to disclose the amount of sugar and chemicals added to such products.

Gerber also announced Wednesday its net earnings rose more than 30 per cent to $6.5 million during the first quarter.

The year ending March 31 was the best in Gerber's 75-year history as sales rose 13.5 per cent to $72 million while earnings soared 40 per cent to almost $2.9 million.

Sales during this year's first quarter rose almost 8 per cent to just over $20 million.

Profit Drop

DETROIT (AP) — Huck Manufacturing Co. reported net earnings of $697,722 for the year ending May 31, down about $1.5 million from $2,395 million for the same period a year ago.

The manufacturer of fasteners for transportation systems attributed the decline in earnings to falling sales, which dropped nearly $10 million from $40.1 million for the 12 months ending May 31, 1975, to $30.4 million for the 12 months ending May 31.

Convict Takes Cyanide In Court

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Construction millionaire Jack Rose swallowed two cyanide capsules in front of a judge Friday after being sentenced to life in prison for attempting to hire a man to kill his former wife.

A spokeswoman at Pontiac General Hospital said today the 46-year-old Southfield man was in a coma and listed in "very critical" condition. She said he was unconscious when he arrived at the hospital Friday.

Rose took the two pills and was attempting to swallow a third when he was grabbed by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Ted Robinson.

Robinson and other deputies immediately escorted Rose to a basement detention center, where he collapsed and taken to the hospital. The Oakland County Medical Examiner's office determined the pills were cyanide.

Rose was convicted June 24 by an Oakland County Circuit Court jury after admitting twice on the witness stand that he tried to hire a professional gunman to kill his ex-wife Doris, in August 1974.

He swallowed the pills after Judge Ernest Oppiger pronounced the life sentence.

"He got to the detention area and hit the floor," said Deputy Charles Parker. "We gave him resuscitation right away and carried him to an ambulance. He was out."

The incident occurred after Oppiger, visiting judge from St. Clair County, told Rose he could not remain free on $150,000 bond pending an appeal.

Before swallowing the pills, witnesses said, Rose asked Oppiger, "If I were to appeal, Deputies said the Mornings-tars were not injured.

Gillespie's wife, Patricia, 35, was taken to Elkhart General Hospital, Elkhart, Ind., where she was treated and released for apparently minor injuries a hospital spokesman said.

Sheriff's officers issued Gillespie a ticket for failure to yield the right of way, and arrested him on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Cass county sheriff's deputies said the car driven by Dyke Gillespie, 45, Elkhart, smashed into the house of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Morningstar at about 3:51 a.m.

"No," Oppiger said. "What legal steps you take are in your own discretion."

"That is correct," the judge said.

Consumers' Gas Rate Bid Raised

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Consumers Power Co. was permitted Friday to add $18.9 million to a 20-month-old rate case in which $37 million in rate increases for natural gas customers is still being considered. The state Public Service Commission told the utility it could introduce new evidence in support of an extra $18.9 million because financial data originally submitted with the case is old.

Under a temporary rate increase awarded in June 1975, customers already are paying $29 million of the $37 million.

A PSC decision ultimately will decide the fate of the $29 million customers now pay and the fate of the other $8 million the company is seeking plus the new $18.9 million added to the case Friday.

If Consumers Power was allowed to collect $18.9 million in higher gas rates, bills for average residential customers would go up by about $1.95 in winter months.

The other $8 million that could be awarded in higher rates would affect only commercial and industrial customers.

Consumers is asking for the added $18.9 million because it says financial data included in its original rate request, filed in November 1974, is now too "stale" to accurately mirror the company's current costs.

Commissioner William Ralls voted with PSC Chairman Daniel Demlow to allow the new evidence. Ralls said it would be only fair to let the giant utility bring its financial figures up to date.

The entire Consumers gas case was to be decided before the winter heating season begins in November.

But the introduction of new evidence will delay the case and could push a decision back into the winter months, giving customers a few fall months at current rates.

The big question in the case is whether Consumers' Marysville synthetic natural gas plant was worth its $154.5 million cost. The company suffered from massive cost overruns incurred by the contractor who built the plant, Lummus Co. of Bloomfield, N.J. Current rates reflect

Record First Half For Ford

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Ford Motor Credit Co. reported net income for the first six months of the year was a record $56.2 million, up 25 per cent from the $44.9 million for the same period a year ago.

The firm, which provides financing services to about 5,300 Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers in the United States and Canada, attributed the favorable showing to increases in the company's receivables.

Receivables stood at $10.1 billion June 30, compared to $9.1 billion the same day last year.

Ford Credit Chairman John C. Dean also said profits reflected the sale of the firm's common stock portfolio in the first quarter and a favorable credit-loss ratio.

Nursing Home Chief Defends Procedures

By LARRY MacINTYRE
Staff Writer

DOWAGIAC — A spokesman for the Schato nursing home here has taken issue with claims of a Detroit-based consumers' group that the state has by default permitted unneeded nursing home construction. Raymond E. Tutwiler, administrator for the nursing home, said claims by Citizens for Better Care are "ridiculous," and that State Sen. John Otterbacher, D-Grand Rapids, "...is intent on driving the private nursing home out of business."

Tutwiler issued his comments in response to an Associated Press story on the consumers' group claims. The story appeared in the Saturday, July 24, edition of this newspaper. The Schato nursing home was one of several mentioned by name in the AP story.

The consumers' group claimed that the state health department, between August, 1974, and May, 1976, failed to hold requested hearings on applications for nursing home construction.

By failing to hold hearings on the applications, it was required to approve the applications by default. The failure to hold the hearings may lead to unnecessary construction that will cost taxpayers $19 million in Medicaid-Medicare payments over the next 25 years, the group claimed in a letter it sent to Otterbacher.

Otterbacher was quoted as saying his health, social services and retirement committee would formally question several health department members on the issue.

In May, 1975, the state health department turned down the application of the nursing home to build a $495,000 addition that would add 45 nursing beds to the 105 it already has.

Tutwiler said "We followed every procedure as required. When our application for additional beds was denied, we appealed their decision. The Department of Public Health had 30 days to respond, which they failed to do, thus giving us a favorable decision by their default."

The then head of the health department said at the time of the denial that the reason was that the proposed addition would have contributed to an excess of long-term care beds beyond beyond projected 1980 needs for the service area.

Tutwiler said the state made errors in judging bed needs in the Dowagiac area.

"Schato averages 98 per cent occupancy," Tutwiler said. In addition, 40 per cent of the patients originate from outside the Dowagiac service area and the Cass county medical facility's 63 beds are charged to the area "even though they are not located in it and do not use our hospital or our doctors," Tutwiler said.

He added that claims of $19 million in unnecessary Medicare-Medicaid payments are "ridiculous."

"The state pays cost up to a maximum, so if you had a new 100-bed nursing home with only one patient, it would cost the state $25, which is what it would cost them if that patient were in an older home with 99 other patients," the Schato administrator said.

The state pays for qualified Medicare-Medicaid patients in private nursing homes.

Tutwiler said private nursing homes cost from $6 to $10 per day less than any other kind, county or non-profit.

He said the 45-bed addition to the nursing home is expected to be completed by Dec. 1.

Jones Is Target Of Frazer

CONGRESSIONAL Candidate David Frazer took strong exception Friday to a pre-primary endorsement of an opponent made Thursday by the chairman of the Fourth Congressional District Republican committee, F.A. (Mike) Jones of St. Joseph.

Frazer said Jones "violated the trust placed in him by Republicans of the Fourth district" by publicly endorsing David Stockman, one of four candidates seeking the party's nomination in next Tuesday's primary.

"Republicans have a right to an open primary not tainted by power politics so that the people can choose the candidate to best represent them in the November general election. They have certainly not delegated Jones to make that choice. If they had, no primary election would be necessary."

"I am confident the voters will see this as a desperate effort to protect the $75,000 investment made in Stockman's candidacy and voice their displeasure at the polls...by choosing a candidate who best represents their needs."

Gerbers To Market New Line

FREMONT, Mich. (AP) — Gerber Products Co. says it will market a new line of baby foods that do not contain artificial sweeteners.

Arthur J. Frens, the firm's president, told shareholders at this week's annual meeting that a naturally sweetened orange juice should be on store shelves by September. He said 13 more items without artificial sweeteners are slated to be available within the next year.

Frens insisted the new products were developed at the request of customers rather than because of criticism last year by some consumer groups. The criticism centered up baby food makers failing to disclose the amount of sugar and chemicals added to such products.

Gerber also announced Wednesday its net earnings rose more than 30 per cent to $6.5 million during the first quarter. The year ending March 31 was the best in Gerber's 75-year history as sales rose 13.5 per cent to $372 million while earnings soared 40 per cent to almost $22.9 million.

Sales during this year's first quarter rose almost 8 per cent to just over $98 million.

CONDITION CRITICAL

Convict Takes Cyanide In Court

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Construction millionaire Jack Rose swallowed two cyanide capsules in front of a judge Friday after being sentenced to life in prison for attempting to hire a man to kill his former wife.

A spokeswoman at Pontiac General Hospital said today the 46-year-old Southfield man was in a coma and listed in "very critical" condition. She said he was unconscious when he arrived at the hospital Friday.

Rose took the two pills and was attempting to swallow a third when he was grabbed by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Ted Robinson.

Robinson and other deputies immediately escorted Rose to a basement detention center, where he collapsed and taken to the hospital. The Oakland County Medical Examiner's office determined the pills were cyanide.

Rose was convicted June 24 by an Oakland County Circuit Court jury after admitting twice on the witness stand that he tried to hire a professional gunman to kill his ex-wife Doris, in August 1974.

He swallowed the pills after Judge Ernest Oppinger pronounced the life sentence.

"He got to the detention area and hit the floor," said Deputy Charles Parker. "We gave him resuscitation right away and carried him to an ambulance. He was out."

The incident occurred after Oppinger, visiting judge from St. Clair County, told Rose he could not remain free on $150,000 bond pending an appeal.

Before swallowing the pills, witnesses said, Rose asked Oppinger, "If I were to appeal, would you grant a continuation of bond?"

"No," Oppinger said. "What legal steps you take are in your own discretion."

"As it stands now, I go to jail today?" Rose asked.

"That is correct," the judge said.

Sheriff's deputy Ted Robinson said he grabbed Rose as the millionaire tried to swallow a third pill.

Rose inherited money from his father Edward's Detroit construction firm, Edward Rose Builders.

EDWARDSBURG — The occupants of a house at the intersection of M-62 and Harris street near here escaped injury early this morning when an automobile driven by an Elkhart, Ind., man crashed into their living room.

Cass county sheriff's deputies said the car driven by Dyke Gillespie, 45, Elkhart, smashed into the house of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Morningstar at about 3:51 a.m.

There was about $1,000 to $1,500 in damages to the home, deputies said.

Deputies said the Morningstars were not injured.

Gillespie's wife, Patricia, 35, was taken to Elkhart General Hospital, Elkhart, Ind., where she was treated and released for apparently minor injuries a hospital spokesman said.

Sheriff's officers issued Gillespie a ticket for failure to yield the right of way, and arrested him on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Saw Woman's Car Destroyed, Witness Says

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A witness in the first-degree murder trial of Gerald C. Libertowski, 34, of South Bend, testified he saw the destruction of a car owned by a missing South Bend woman. Forrest Hunsberger of Elwood, told St. Joseph Superior Court Friday he was introduced to the defendant 2½ years ago by his brother, Myron Hunsberger of South Bend.

The pair came to his home and said a car had to be ripped apart, Hunsberger testified, adding he had been informed "someone had been killed over the car."

The witness said he saw a 1972 Mercury driven to the Franklin farm of another brother, James, and taken apart in his barn.

The missing woman, Janice Langs, 21, is believed dead, but her body has never been found. Libertowski, who is charged with first degree murder in the incident, said he had not seen Miss Langs since Nov. 7 when he was following her car and lost sight of it in traffic.

The victim was Libertowski's former girlfriend.

Libertowski also is charged in connection with the September disappearance of another girlfriend, Janice Kay Sanders of Niles, Mich.

James Hunsberger, also testifying in the third day of the trial, identified an engine and transmission exhibited in court as parts of Miss Langs' car.

Sentenced to 5 to 25 years in prison was Keith Foster, 17, of 470 Ohio street, for assault with intent to rob while armed. Foster was accused of assaulting Hazel Rye with a .35 caliber pistol May 14 in Benton Harbor. Willie Simmons, 18, of 385 Pipestone street, got 2 to 5 years in prison for entering the American Laundry, at 227 Territorial road, without breaking in June 18.

Gas Station Bandits Grab $120, BH Police Report

Two men, including one with a handgun, held up the East Main Zephyr station, 798 East Main street, Benton Harbor, and fled with about $120 about 8:35 p.m. Friday, according to city police.

No shots were fired and station attendant Ronnie Aldridge, 25, was not injured, police said. Aldridge told police he was inside an office area and the two approached from outside to a walk-up window. The gunman first asked for a pack of cigarettes and then pointed "an old scratched-up revolver," police were told. The second man stood behind the gunman, and both fled on foot after taking the money through the window, police reported. The money was in a bank bag, it was reported.

Benton Harbor police said a boy about 14 snatched $26 from the shirt pocket of Fred Conner, 80, while Conner sat on the front porch of his residence, 856 East High street, about 4:50 p.m. Thursday. Conner was reported unhurt.

City police Friday investigated reports of thefts of a television set from the home of Mary Johnson, 854 LaSalle avenue, and a ski jacket from the room of Sylvester Edwards, Colfax inn, 163 Colfax avenue.

Miss Helen Take, of St. Joseph, candidate for the Republican nomination for the Fourth Congressional District seat, today gave a further explanation of her views on abortion and national health insurance.

Other statements by Miss Take on campaign issues appeared in Friday's Herald-Palladium.

On abortion, she said: "The idea of abortion is revolting to me, but at this time I do not think it is appropriate to legislate the issue. "First, the moral attitudes of this nation must be changed. Women must be given more value than just a sexual object. Pornography should be banned. It gives people the wrong type of attitudes toward sex."

On national health insurance, "If we instituted national health insurance, I believe that people would be taking advantage of the situation, not only on the part of the physician, but also the public and administrative personnel. I also believe that

"Low tuition, closeness to home, and presence of a strong program and faculty in my interest field helped me decide to enroll at LMC," said Tim Cuprisin, Stevensville sophomore.

"The fact that LMC had a program I was interested in, the proximity of the college to my home, and its low tuition were the reasons I entered Lake Michigan college," Patricia Marshall, sophomore from St. Joseph, said.

LMC Expects Record Fall Enrollment Of 4,000

Lake Michigan college has announced enrollment in September is expected to reach a new high of 4,000 students.

The college said a record enrollment would be continuation of "dramatic growth" over the past decade — 2,285 students in 1966 to 3,865 in September, 1975, an increase of 69 per cent. The head counts include full-time and part-time students.

LMC attributes the growth to development of the Napier avenue campus and a low tuition rate — $12 per semester hour, the lowest permitted by state community college regulations without forfeiting state aid.

"The consistently low tuition charged by Lake Michigan college plus the school's generous share of state and federal funds have enabled literally thousands of young men and women to go to college at LMC who otherwise could not," Dr. Thomas P. McCourt, registrar, said.

The variety of programs offered at LMC and the quality of the faculty supporting such programs have attracted hundreds of young adults to the campus, according to Dr. Walter F. Browe, executive vice president.

In 1966, the college offered 223 classes in 23 academic areas taught in a relatively small main classroom building and two pre-fabricated structures on Britain avenue in Benton Harbor and in a nearby technologies building donated by the Whirlpool Foundation.

In 1976, LMC was offering more than 500 classes in 43 academic and vocational areas of study, had moved onto the Napier campus east of Benton Harbor, and had established nine extension centers throughout southwestern Michigan.

Browe said 10 members of LMC's faculty of 54 hold doctoral degrees in their special fields. "This is a higher percentage of doctoral teaching faculty members than found in most community colleges across the country."

Four students cited their reasons for attending LMC. "The low tuition plus the number of different college courses offered are what attracted me to LMC after high school," said Joanne Lutz, sophomore student from St. Joseph.

"The college's nearness to my home, availability of courses I am interested in, and the fact that tuition at LMC is very low persuaded me to enroll at Lake Michigan college. I also found a strong faculty there," Ron Rutkoskie, sophomore from Benton Harbor, said.

"Low tuition, closeness to home, and presence of a strong program and faculty in my interest field helped me decide to enroll at LMC," said Tim Cuprisin, Stevensville sophomore.

"The fact that LMC had a program I was interested in, the proximity of the college to my home, and its low tuition were the reasons I entered Lake Michigan college," Patricia Marshall, sophomore from St. Joseph, said.

Hospital Worker Turns To Writing At Midnight

By GUNNAR CARLSON
MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Con E. Barclay looks for all the world like a bouncer from a Las Vegas casino. Or an ex-linebacker for the Philadelphia Eagles. Or a successful new car salesman.

In fact, he looks like most anything except what he is — an aspiring poet, novelist, playwright, songwriter... dreamer.

By day, Barclay is a typical father-babysitter who works second shift. By night, he is an emergency ward clerk at Muskegon's Hackley Hospital.

But at the stroke of midnight, the year round, his Dr. Jekyll turns to Mr. Hyde. During the wee hours of the morning he closets himself away in his private study, an inner sanctum littered with pencils, scrap paper, envelopes and stamps.

He turns to a well-used typewriter and becomes one of those solitary, anonymous creatures of the night: the freelance writer.

On any given night, 37-year-old Barclay might be found working on one of the five books he has in progress. But he also might be polishing a poem, or writing a song lyric or a magazine article.

"I probably should limit myself," Barclay says, "but I like writing so much that I'm into all these things."

As it is for many freelance writers, writing is less a hobby or vocation for Barclay than it is an obsession.

It wasn't always that way, however. Barclay's road to writing was paved, by his own count, with 50 odd jobs in 44 states and Canada.

After a minor brush with the law as a Muskegon High School student in the mid-1950s, young and restless Barclay began a 15-year odyssey that spanned the country.

He was a busboy and shrimp peeler in Las Vegas, a grave-digger in Texas, bartender in Florida, acolyte to an Episcopal priest in Grand Rapids, a computer dating salesman, and a bar-bell attendant on Muscle Beach in Santa Monica, Calif.

Along the way, he picked up a degree from the University of Puerto Rico, and later a master's degree from Queens University in Kingston, Ont.

Finally, Barclay settled down for a seven-year stint as highly paid warehouse manager in Kentucky. He dabbled in freelance writing, and worked part-time covering the American Basketball Association's Kentucky Colonels for a newspaper in Kentucky. But he became increasingly dissatisfied.

"For seven years, I carried my job home 24 hours a day," he says. "After while, the money wasn't important anymore."

"I just said one day, 'I'm going back to Muskegon, and I'm going to write.'"

That was in 1971. He took his hospital job, at a third of his former salary, and he has been writing steadily ever since.

The atmosphere in Muskegon suits his lifestyle well, he says.

"It's good, easy living," says Barclay, who lives with his wife Jane, a lab technician at the hospital, and their 4-year-old daughter.

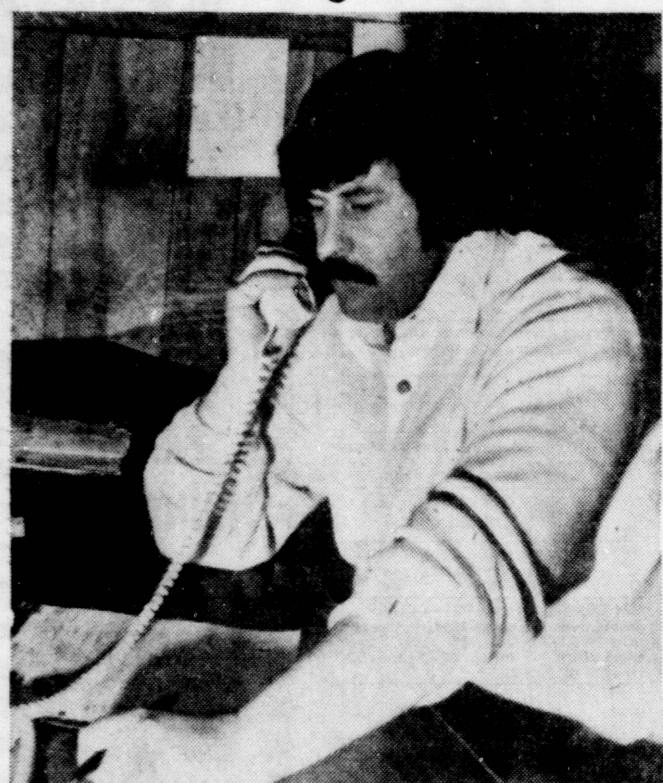

About 100 of Barclay's poems are in print, and he has published dozens of articles in newspapers and a wide variety of magazines.

An agent in New York is looking for a "home" for one of Barclay's plays, he says, and a mystery story he wrote may be adapted for television. Two of his song lyrics are being considered by a major county-western recording star.

Still, rejections outnumber successes, and Barclay is hard-pressed to tell why he keeps at his work, night after night.

It's not the money. Although he once received an $850 check for a women's magazine article, most checks range from $20 down to nothing. The sales are barely enough to keep Barclay supplied with a freelancers "tools" — typewriter ribbons, paper, and rolls and rolls of postage stamps.

"I never know what tomorrow's mail might bring. I'll have to admit I'm a dreamer — but I like it that way."

Ask Them Yourself

Want to ask a famous person a question? Send the question, on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR RAQUEL WELCH, star of the movie, "Mother, Jugs and Speed"

Was there ever a time you wished you weren't famous?—B.G., Pittsburgh, Pa.

● Only once, just recently, when I went to Brazil to see my boyfriend and we were pursued by the press everywhere we went. We finally escaped and managed to get some privacy in a tiny fishing village. But on the whole, the press is considerate. Besides, there are so many advantages to being "famous"—such as getting the best seats in restaurants and terrific service at airports—that I'd be a fool and a liar if I said I didn't like it.

FOR MICK JAGGER

Do you want to make another film?—E.L., Hollywood, Calif.

● Maybe. I've had offers, but nothing I couldn't refuse. I do want to improve my acting, but the stage is what I'm after because that's what I'm used to. At least there you don't have to do everything six times (as you do for movies) and hang around hours waiting for the sun to come out or go in. While I was making my two films, I had time to read 16 books!

FOR SHELLEY WINTERS

Who influenced you most in your career?—S.A., Asbury Park, N.J.

● My mother. She wanted to be a singer, but never made it because not many women had careers in those days. I guess she lived vicariously through me. She always encouraged me and made me feel that, when I applied for a job, I was doing them a favor—not the other way around.

FOR FANNIE FLAGG, TV personality

Do you ever date any of the single guys who are contestants on "The Match Game"?—T. C. Sims, Brownsville, Tex.

● No. Why should I? I have my own guy. But even if I wanted to, I couldn't. There's an FCC ruling that doesn't permit us to talk to anyone on the set. It makes sense because, if we socialized, we might give away the answers. The security is so tight that if we know the contestants, however slightly, they're disqualified.

FOR JACKIE GLEASON

What makes a woman desirable and attractive?—C.A., Boston, Mass.

● If she thinks you're the greatest!

FOR RON NESSEN, Presidential press secretary

How does the President feel about all the mimicry of him on TV?—Debbie Biddinger, Ashland, Ohio

● The President really doesn't have much time to watch TV. But he is very self-assured and has a sense of humor. He enjoys well-intentioned comedy, even if he is the object of that comedy.

FOR MONIQUE VAN VOOREN

Why are you so stuck-up that you ignore people on the street who want to talk to you?—S.A., Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

● I'm not a snob. I can't see! I'm nearsighted to the point of blindness: much too vain to wear glasses (and can't wear contact lenses). I try to bluff my way through, but, I still get into trouble. Recently, a man said hello to me. I hadn't the vaguest idea who he was. He couldn't imagine why I didn't know him, particularly since he was my first husband! I didn't feel all that bad; it had been 19 years since I last saw him, and even with my specs on, I didn't recognize him.

FOR SEN. WILLIAM PROXMIRE (D-Wis.)

How do you feel about foreign interests investing money in U.S. industries?—Mildred Stork, Canton, Ohio

● Provided they pay taxes, submit to all our regulations and recognize the sovereignty of our Government, I welcome them with open arms. Almost every industry can use the capital. Furthermore, we've been investing our money all over the world; it's about time we had some back!

FOR DR. MADALYN MURRAY O'HAIR, atheist movement leader

I read that you're giving up your fight on behalf of atheists.—J.M., Denton, Tex.

● I'm not retreating. I am alive and well and involved in my fight. This fall, I will be starting three major Federal suits: 1) to cause a disclosure of church business ownership; 2) to stop legislation which aids churches; 3) to curtail some scattered continuing religious services in our schools.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

Is Susan Sarandon, of the movie "Dragonfly," the same girl who did a nude scene in "Joe" some years ago? I think I love her, but I'm wondering why she consented to do that scene?—R.P., Rapid City, S.D.

● Yes, she's one and the same girl. Said Susan: "I didn't do it to advance my career; it was part of the script. That's the only time I stripped, and it didn't make me an instant star. I was young, frightened and embarrassed. I've been asked to pose nude for magazines, but all that does is publicize movies, so I refused. Audiences don't take stars seriously if they have a reputation for disrobing. I'm not ashamed of my body. I walk around unclothed in my house and sometimes at private swimming parties. I have no hang-ups. I'm more offended by blood and obscenity than I am by nudity. Another reason why I don't undress at the drop of a hat is that I don't want to be upstaged by my own body."

Ask Them Yourself

Want to ask a famous person a question? Send the question, on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR RAQUEL WELCH, star of the movie, "Mother, Jugs and Speed"

Was there ever a time you wished you weren't famous?—B.G., Pittsburgh, Pa.

● Only once, just recently, when I went to Brazil to see my boyfriend and we were pursued by the press everywhere we went. We finally escaped and managed to get some privacy in a tiny fishing village. But on the whole, the press is considerate. Besides, there are so many advantages to being "famous"—such as getting the best seats in restaurants and terrific service at airports—that I'd be a fool and a liar if I said I didn't like it.

FOR MICK JAGGER

Do you want to make another film?—E.L., Hollywood, Calif.

● Maybe. I've had offers, but nothing I couldn't refuse. I do want to improve my acting, but the stage is what I'm after because that's what I'm used to. At least there you don't have to do everything six times (as you do for movies) and hang around hours waiting for the sun to come out or go in. While I was making my two films, I had time to read 16 books!

FOR SHELLEY WINTERS

Who influenced you most in your career?—S.A., Asbury Park, N.J.

● My mother. She wanted to be a singer, but never made it because not many women had careers in those days. I guess she lived vicariously through me. She always encouraged me and made me feel that, when I applied for a job, I was doing them a favor—not the other way around.

FOR FANNIE FLAGG, TV personality

Do you ever date any of the single guys who are contestants on "The Match Game"?—T. G. Sims, Brownsville, Tex.

● No. Why should I? I have my own guy. But even if I wanted to, I couldn't. There's an FCC ruling that doesn't permit us to talk to anyone on the set. It makes sense because, if we socialized, we might give away the answers. The security is so tight that if we know the contestants, however slightly, they're disqualified.

FOR JACKIE GLEASON

What makes a woman desirable and attractive?—C.A., Boston, Mass.

● If she thinks you're the greatest!

FOR RON NESSEN, Presidential press secretary

How does the President feel about all the mimicry of him on TV?—Debbie Biddinger, Ashland, Ohio

● The President really doesn't have much time to watch TV. But he is very self-assured and has a sense of humor. He enjoys well-intentioned comedy, even if he is the object of that comedy.

FOR MONIQUE VAN VOOREN

Why are you so stuck-up that you ignore people on the street who want to talk to you?—S.A., Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

● I'm not a snob. I can't see! I'm nearsighted to the point of blindness; much too vain to wear glasses (and can't wear contact lenses). I try to bluff my way through, but, I still get into trouble. Recently, a man said hello to me. I hadn't the vaguest idea who he was. He couldn't imagine why I didn't know him, particularly since he was my first husband! I didn't feel all that bad; it had been 19 years since I last saw him, and even with my specs on, I didn't recognize him.

FOR SEN. WILLIAM PROXMIRE (D.-Wis.)

How do you feel about foreign interests investing money in U.S. industries?—Mildred Stork, Canton, Ohio

● Provided they pay taxes, submit to all our regulations and recognize the sovereignty of our Government, I welcome them with open arms. Almost every industry can use the capital. Furthermore, we've been investing our money all over the world; it's about time we had some back!

FOR DR. MADALYN MURRAY O'HAIR, atheist movement leader

I read that you're giving up your fight on behalf of atheists.—J.M., Denton, Tex.

● I'm not retreating. I am alive and well and involved in my fight. This fall, I will be starting three major Federal suits: 1) to cause a disclosure of church business ownership; 2) to stop legislation which aids churches; 3) to curtail some scattered continuing religious services in our schools.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

Is Susan Sarandon, of the movie "Dragonfly," the same girl who did a nude scene in "Joe" some years ago? I think I love her, but I'm wondering why she consented to do that scene?—R.P., Rapid City, S.D.

● Yes, she's one and the same girl. Said Susan: "I didn't do it to advance my career; it was part of the script. That's the only time I stripped, and it didn't make me an instant star. I was young, frightened and embarrassed. I've been asked to pose nude for magazines, but all that does is publicize movies, so I refused. Audiences don't take stars seriously if they have a reputation for disrobing. I'm not ashamed of my body. I walk around unclothed in my house and sometimes at private swimming parties. I have no hang-ups. I'm more offended by blood and obscenity than I am by nudity. Another reason why I don't undress at the drop of a hat is that I don't want to be upstaged by my own body."

'Enriched Flavor'<sup>TM</sup> breakthrough brings unprecedented taste to low tar smoking.

Today there's a way to get real taste from a cigarette without high tar.

That's the report on a new taste discovery called 'Enriched Flavor.' A way to pack flavor—extra flavor—into tobacco without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The cigarette packed with 'Enriched Flavor' is remarkable new Merit.

And in tests involving thousands of smokers of filter cigarettes, the majority reported Merit delivered more taste than five current leading low tar cigarettes having all the way up to 60% more tar.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, Merit Menthol was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette. Merit.

Unprecedented flavor at 9 mg. tar.

One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

Words About Our Country

The Winners of Family Weekly's Bicentennial Essay Contest

Here they are—excerpts of the prize-winning essays chosen from thousands of entries from almost every state in the union. And what a birthday gift they represent to our country—a celebration of small-town life, nostalgic childhood scenes, pictures of racial integration at work, an outpouring of reverence for grandfathers, mothers, fathers (and at least one uncle). But mainly the essays are a love song to "just plain people" and how they pull together in towns across the nation. Almost a quarter of the winners were students under 18. The youngest was a fourth-grader. The oldest entrant was 84-and-a-half years old. Both were fifth-place winners.

Contestants could write about any one of the following topics: 1) The Time in My Life I Was Proudest of Being an American; 2) Why America Thrives on the Right to Disagree; 3) What I Like Most About My Home Town; 4) The Greatest Unsung American I Have Known.

FIRST PLACE WINNER

Americanism Is Rampant Here

Mrs. Charles Folden, Pinckneyville, Ill.

I live in a community of 3,300 wonderful people with nine different active churches, their bells tolling out a welcome invitation each Sabbath Day. I enjoy the continuity that prevails in the families here, where numerous generations have been born and also laid to rest within a radius of five miles. I love the dirty face of the dear husband for whom I wait each day to come home from his job in an underground mine. We are surely blessed in our town, where the wives of the coal miners all share in the common fortune and dread that is inevitable in this industry. I like our town because we are fortunate enough to have small acreage plots from which we can enjoy the fruits of the land. Americanism is rampant here and I love it! The recipe for it consists of Religion, Humility, Pride, Thoughtfulness, Togetherness and Love, stirred constantly by all.

FIRST PLACE WINNER

Proud to Be a 50-Star American

Mrs. Wallace Calhoun, Moss Point, Mass.

I am an American the same way I am a female. I accept it naturally, without thought. It was only when my children started in gentle ways to mention things from their history classes about the rights of other countries and how the United States might have been aggressive at times, and that there might even be two sides to righteous battles with the "bloodthirsty" Indians, that I began to analyze this country with perspective. All the while the colored folks were trying to get into our schools, I was sorely tempted to go and sit in the schoolhouse door to block them myself. Now when I see the white girl cheerleaders on the football parade float with the black football players, I think, "Even so, too much polarization of the races wasn't good for the country," and when I see black people in restaurants, I think, "How ridiculous that we excluded blacks from even going into restaurants before." I suspected the Communists were somehow behind the blacks' rising up for their rights and, if this was so, I am proud of the way Americans outwitted them by supplying the blacks with those rights... America thrives on the right to disagree because changes are made in this way to improve the country. I am proud to be a red, white and blue 50-star American!

*Mrs. Thelma D. Thomas

For a black growing up in my home town during the 50's, the road was rough and rocky. Now when I return home to central Mississippi, I see many repairs under way, for which I am proud. Having stopped now at a gas station, I hear an attendant politely ask, "May I help you, ma'am?" "Yes, sir, but where is the rest room?" "To your left." ### GRAND PRIZE WINNER The Spirit of America Is in Her

Joyce M. Anders, East Alton, Ill.

Having been reared on a farm, one of six motherless children, earning her bread by the sweat of her brow was a way of life for this American. Getting an education wasn't exactly a piece of cake either, for she walked three miles to a one-room schoolhouse each day for the first eight years. I must admit I envy her youth when I hear the tales of skinny-dipping in the creek or jumping on the old horse bareback, heading higgledy-piggledy down the hill. I've accompanied her on many walks through woods and fields and learned far more about our native plants and animals from her than from any text. All the things I feel to be the spirit of America, I've seen in her—the opportunity and obligation of work, a love and reverence for a beautiful and productive land, and a sense of independence which isn't afraid to cultivate freedom of thought in others. I can think of no other "Unsung American" than this woman—my mother.

A Small Girl at a President's Birthday Ball

Mrs. Irene Breeden, Port Aransas, Tex.

Mrs. Irene Breeden

I was a very small girl in a blue silk dress, white Mary Jane shoes and short bobbed hair. I sat alone at the top of the gallery in the Presidential Ballroom in Washington, D.C. Below, exquisitely clad ladies and gentlemen swirled to the percussion of a fine orchestra. I had been granted a rare boon by my father, who was a member of the orchestra. He had let me come along to watch while he performed for the birthday ball of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. I promised to sit very still and quiet; and so I did. I was entranced by the grandeur of the ball and by the President. I clapped loudly when "Happy Birthday" was played and the President spoke.

My father brought me a soda during his intermission and moved me down further so I could see better. After he had left me, I looked down. FDR was looking up at me, nodding and smiling. I smiled and waved. The next thing I knew, my father carried me down to the floor below. I was standing before the President. He said, "Sit this young lady on my knee." My father did.

"Welcome to my Birthday Ball," he said. I replied, "Thank you—I'm an American." He said, "So you are—and that is the greatest thing to be."

I was proudest then to be an American. Though my body was small, I was 10-feet tall. Things like this only happen to little girls in America. We make mistakes—it's true—but then we admit them and use our great system to correct those errors. I'm proudest to be an American every day of my life.

to the back." At that time "back" was the password for blacks. Over the door would have been printed in big letters WHITE ONLY or COLORED. Touring this small town, I no longer see those signs. The lunch counters, restaurants, bus and train stations are open without a dividing line. Even the doctors' offices have closed their little back entrances for blacks. We are employed in department stores, banks, hospitals, the employment office, the post office and the fire station. Most impressive is the fact that a small Mississippi town, after years of segregation, has made an attempt to integrate schools without a blood bath. Although there is still much progress to be made in my home town, at least this place has made a beginning. Only through living and working together, agreeing and disagreeing, and still joining hands and loving our fellowman, can we tread the path toward future peace.

SECOND PLACE WINNER

In Our Town We Need Each Other

Virginia Mullery, North Chicago, Ill.

When I was a child growing up on the south side of Waukegan, I was unaware that mine was the best of all possible worlds. In retrospect I realize that my neighborhood, a microcosm of my town, was what America is all about. Swedes, Finns, Slovenians, Armenians, the black kids, the Mexicans were my classmates. Many of us spoke different languages when we started school, ate different foods, and our churches were far apart in ideology. But we kids took it all for granted. In our small town we needed each other, and we learned to coexist as Americans, at the same time preserving our unique customs. I'm married now, but my husband and I have chosen not to run to the suburbs but to raise our children in the same real world in which I grew up, a few blocks farther south, so that the name of the town is different. They are sister cities, however, alike in background and outlook... Our youngsters know tacos and poticas, polkas and soul music first-hand. Because of this, they see more clearly, perhaps, their own part in the multithreaded tapestry that is America. This is what our neighborhood, our town, is all about.

THIRD PLACE WINNER He Helps Kids in Trouble

Bill Wright, II, Durham, N.C.

My uncle, Gerry Wright, has started a business called Dynamic Action Residence Enterprise. DARE is a place where young people in trouble with the police are helped. But I did not really know what it was until Gerry's wedding. All the people from DARE were there. Then I knew it was something special. It's as if he has adopted all the people he works with. They all respect him, but, more important, he finds a way to respect them. Since I'm only 11 years old, I have a chance to change my mind, but now I want to finish college and help Gerry. I doubt it will happen, but I sure hope "The Greatest Unsung American I Know," will become known.

THIRD PLACE WINNER He Taught the True Meaning of Americanism

Mrs. Dan Allen, Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

I picture him as I saw him last, this grand old veteran of the Civil War. It was Independence Day, shortly before his 91st birthday. He stood straight and tall beneath the flag. This was my grandfather, who put patriotism foremost in his life. He taught us the true meaning of Americanism, respect for the flag and our duty toward our fellowmen. Born in Holland, he came to America at the age of 13. With other pioneers, he organized the town of Forestville [Wis.] in 1857 and became its town clerk. Later, Grandfather enlisted in the Union Army and fought in many battles. He helped build the first school in the district, becoming self-educated, while engaging in the hardest kind of labor. Although at times we feared Grandfather, we respected and loved him. Because of his outstanding career as a pioneer, soldier, worthy citizen, good neighbor, loving father and devoted grandfather, to me he will always be my "Greatest Unsung American."

THIRD PLACE WINNER My Home Town is Everywhere

*Rhett G. Wintch,
West Glacier, Mont.*

Unlike most boys, I do not have a "home town" as such, for I was born and raised in the national parks of America. In my nearly 16 years of life, I have lived in the heart of six national parks. I considered each "my home," or "my home town." Sometimes I would have a heavy heart, for it would seem that I had just gotten used to fishing in beautiful streams, making friends with some animals, hiking along trails in the backcountry under beautiful blue skies—then came another transfer, and I knew I had to go and not look back. But I always found a special happiness in whatever park was my home. "My home town" has taught me pride in America; it has taught me that every individual, regardless of race, religion or background, is an important person in this great country of ours. And it has made me realize that it's how each of us, as individuals, can make America great, by the pride we have in ourselves and for the area in which we live.

THIRD PLACE WINNER Every Day We Replenish Our Courage

*Sister Laura Morgan,

Bob Dylan once said: "He who's not busy being born is busy dying." The United States, celebrating its 200th birthday this year, continues to be reborn. Have you ever seen a passive infant who never cries? Or a toddler who never falls when learning to walk? Or a teenager who totally accepts criticism and advice without argument? We pride ourselves in our willingness to grow; we refuse to succumb to passivity, for we realize too well that passivity results in death. We are far from being a country of perfection. Yet our openness and freedom of spirit enable us to question, to discern, to disagree. We owe it to our ancestors to continue to challenge the ideas of men who think differently than we do. Every day we continue to be born; every day we realize the gift we have; every day we replenish our courage and defend our personal and national beliefs; every day we confront the opposition and again

Observations

The people speak—sensibly. By a 2-to-1 referendum vote, Californians have effectively chosen to permit construction and operation of nuclear power plants in the state. Clearly, the people decided that atomic energy, with tough safety precautions, is better than not enough energy.

So often, when the facts are out on the table, we Americans vote good sense. This vote was a recognition that our country's insecure dependence on foreign oil can be relieved only by striking a balance between environmental protection (which should be adequate) and development of additional U.S. supplies of energy (which are essential to a healthy economy and more jobs). And what makes sense for atomic power is also important to wider use of abundant coal and more drilling for oil and natural gas off our coasts.

Cooler heads. They're beginning to prevail over emotional demands to break up the larger oil companies. Connecticut's Rep. Ronald A. Sarasin, who believes in having government keep a weather eye on business, recently said: "...the facts simply do not support the arguments for divestiture." And Senator Adlai E. Stevenson III of Illinois, who originally favored the oil bust-up, now warns that smaller, divested companies "may be in a weaker position from which to bargain with foreign producers for supplies at reasonable prices."

"THIS REMINDS ME—WHAT DO YOU THINK OF DISMEMBERMENT OF THE OIL COMPANIES?"

Only in Washington. A federal agency recently wrote Senators and Congressmen for some help on a project and inadvertently included two lines of printing instructions in the letter. So they sent out a second letter correcting that error. Then, a letter of apology. The agency? The Commission on Federal Paperwork, which was soliciting the legislators' ideas for reducing same.

Observations, Box A, Mobil Oil Corporation, 150 East 42 Street, New York, N.Y. 10017

south side of Waukegan, I was unaware that mine was the best of all possible worlds. In retrospect I realize that my neighborhood, a microcosm of my town, was what America is all about. Swedes, Finns, Slovenians, Armenians, the black kids, the Mexicans were my classmates. Many of us spoke different languages when we started school, ate different foods, and our churches were far apart in ideology. But we kids took it all for granted. In our small town we needed each other, and we learned to coexist as Americans, at the same time preserving our unique customs. I'm married now, but my husband and I have chosen not to run to the suburbs but to raise our children in the same real world in which I grew up, a few blocks farther south, so that the name of the town is different. They are sister cities, however, alike in background and outlook . . . Our youngsters know tacos and poticas, polkas and soul music first-hand. Because of this, they see more clearly, perhaps, their own part in the multihued tapestry that is America. This is what our neighborhood, our town, is all about.

THIRD PLACE WINNER He Helps Kids in Trouble

Bill Wright, II, Durham, N.C.

My uncle, Gerry Wright, has started a business called Dynamic Action Residence Enterprise. DARE is a place where young people in trouble with the police are helped. But I did not really know what it was until Gerry's wedding. All the people from DARE were there. Then I knew it was something special. It's as if he has adopted all the people he works with. They all respect him, but, more important, he finds a way to respect them. Since I'm only 11 years old, I have a chance to change my mind, but now I want to finish college and help Gerry. I doubt it will happen, but I sure hope "The Greatest Unsung American I Know," will become known.

THIRD PLACE WINNER He Taught the True Meaning of Americanism

Mrs. Dan Allen, Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

I picture him as I saw him last, this grand old veteran of the Civil War. It was Independence Day, shortly before his 91st birthday. He stood straight and tall beneath the flag. This was my grandfather, who put patriotism foremost in his life. He taught us the true meaning of Americanism, respect for the flag and our duty toward our fellowmen. Born in Holland, he came to America at the age of 13. With other pioneers, he organized the town of Forestville [Wis.] in 1857 and became its town clerk. Later, Grandfather enlisted in the Union Army and fought in many battles. He helped build the first school in the district, becoming self-educated, while engaging in the hardest kind of labor. Although at times we feared Grandfather, we respected and loved him. Because of his outstanding career as a pioneer, soldier, worthy citizen, good neighbor, loving father and devoted grandfather, to me he will always be my "Greatest Unsung American."

THIRD PLACE WINNER My Home Town Is Everywhere

*Rhett G. Wintch,
West Glacier, Mont.*

Unlike most boys, I do not have a "home town" as such, for I was born and raised in the national parks of America. In my nearly 16 years of life, I have lived in the heart of six national parks. I considered each "my home," or "my home town." Sometimes I would have a heavy heart, for it would seem that I had just gotten used to fishing in beautiful streams, making friends with some animals, hiking along trails in the backcountry under beautiful blue skies—then came another transfer, and I knew I had to go and not look back. But I always found a special happiness in whatever park was my home. "My home town" has taught me pride in America; it has taught me that every individual, regardless of race, religion or background, is an important person in this great country of ours. And it has made me realize that it's how each of us, as individuals, can make America great, by the pride we have in ourselves and for the area in which we live.

THIRD PLACE WINNER Every Day We Replenish Our Courage

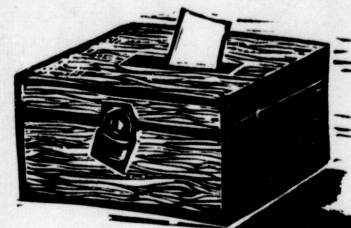

*Sister Laura Morgan,

Bob Dylan once said: "He who's not busy being born is busy dying." The United States, celebrating its 200th birthday this year, continues to be reborn. Have you ever seen a passive infant who never cries? Or a toddler who never falls when learning to walk? Or a teenager who totally accepts criticism and advice without argument? We pride ourselves in our willingness to grow; we refuse to succumb to passivity, for we realize too well that passivity results in death. We are far from being a country of perfection. Yet our openness and freedom of spirit enable us to question, to discern, to disagree. We owe it to our ancestors to continue to challenge the ideas of men who think differently than we do. Every day we continue to be born; every day we realize the gift we have; every day we replenish our courage and defend our personal and national beliefs; every day we confront the opposition and again

Observations

The people speak—sensibly. By a 2-to-1 referendum vote, Californians have effectively chosen to permit construction and operation of nuclear power plants in the state. Clearly, the people decided that atomic energy, with tough safety precautions, is better than not enough energy.

So often, when the facts are out on the table, we Americans vote good sense. This vote was a recognition that our country's insecure dependence on foreign oil can be relieved only by striking a balance between environmental protection (which should be adequate) and development of additional U.S. supplies of energy (which are essential to a healthy economy and more jobs). And what makes sense for atomic power is also important to wider use of abundant coal and more drilling for oil and natural gas off our coasts.

Cooler heads. They're beginning to prevail over emotional demands to break up the larger oil companies. Connecticut's Rep. Ronald A. Sarasin, who believes in having government keep a weather eye on business, recently said: "... the facts simply do not support the arguments for divestiture." And Senator Adlai E. Stevenson III of Illinois, who originally favored the oil bust-up, now warns that smaller, divested companies "may be in a weaker position from which to bargain with foreign producers for supplies at reasonable prices."

"THIS REMINDS ME—WHAT DO YOU THINK OF DISMEMBERMENT OF THE OIL COMPANIES?"

Only in Washington. A federal agency recently wrote Senators and Congressmen for some help on a project and inadvertently included two lines of printing instructions in the letter. So they sent out a second letter correcting that error. Then, a letter of apology. The agency? The Commission on Federal Paperwork, which was soliciting the legislators' ideas for reducing same.

A quote we like. From 19th Century clergyman/author James Freeman Clarke: "A politician thinks of the next election; a statesman, of the next generation."

THIRD PLACE WINNER The Right to Dissent— "Good for the Liver"

Gertrude M. Boatright,
Meridian, Idaho

I like to think that all Americans have a bullheaded, stubborn streak. The reason I like to think so is, I love company. Then, too, if we are bullheaded, we will fight to the finish to keep America the kind of country we can be proud of. I believe in the right to dissent. It's good for the liver. Bridling the American tongue would be as difficult as jarring Richard Nixon from executive privilege. America thrives on the right to disagree because people who talk together walk together. America has no counterpart—even with her faults she is the greatest.

Why? Because we all dared to have a voice in making and keeping America the greatest country on earth.

THIRD PLACE WINNER Soldier of the Confederacy

Frank P. Cauble, Lynchburg, Va.

He was a soldier of the Confederacy... the first to leave for the battlefield... wounded nine times and left for dead. One of "The Immortal Six Hundred" Southerners selected for months of "retaliatory" confinement and semistarvation... yet no one ever heard him call a Northerner a "damn Yankee." He never forgot that a Union soldier saved his life. My grandfather was an obscure, humble man, yet he proclaimed the glorious truth: Americans are one people, under God, able to overcome our greatest differences and work for a nobler and better land.

One of "The Immortal Six Hundred" Southerners selected for months of "retaliatory" confinement and semistarvation . . . yet no one ever heard him call a Northerner a "damn Yankee." He never forgot that a Union soldier saved his life. My grandfather was an obscure, humble man, yet he proclaimed the glorious truth: Americans are one people, under God, able to overcome our greatest differences and work for a nobler and better land.

How to Wake Up That Barbecued Steak!

"Everyone likes steak," says our Food Editor Marilyn Hansen. "But wouldn't you like to serve a steak at your next outdoor barbecue that's just a little different from what everyone else on the block is cooking?"

BARBECUED STEAK CALIFORNIA

2-2½ lbs. sirloin steak (1½-inch-thick)
½ cup California brandy
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon cracked pepper
¼ cup ketchup
2 teaspoons prepared mustard

The secret to the flavor of this Barbecued Steak California is in the tangy marinade.

1. Trim off excess fat and make slashes across meat at 4-inch intervals to prevent curling during cooking.
2. Place steak in a plastic bag. Combine brandy, lemon juice and pepper and pour over meat. Force out air and seal open end of bag with twister. Place in pan to insure against leaks and refrigerate for several hours or overnight. Turn bag over once during refrigeration.
3. Drain meat well, saving marinade. Blend ketchup and mustard with drained marinade.
4. Place steak on grill over hot coals. For rare meat, grill for 5 to 6 minutes on each side. Brush steak frequently with marinade as it cooks. Place on cutting board and slice crosswise. Makes 4 servings

½ teaspoon thyme leaves, crushed
¼ teaspoon seasoned salt
Few twists freshly ground black pepper

1. Preheat oven to 400°F.
2. At 1-inch intervals, make diagonal cuts in bread (do not cut through bottom crust).
3. In small bowl, combine remaining ingredients until well blended. Spread mixture between bread slices.
4. Wrap bread completely in foil; bake for 15 to 20 minutes, or until herb butter is melted and bread is hot. Or place wrapped bread on a grill for 15 to 20 minutes, turning often.

Makes 8 servings

PLUM CHEESY TART

2 sticks packaged pastry mix for 2-crust pie
1 cup sugar
1 pkg. (3 ozs.) cream cheese
1 lb. plums, pitted and quartered
Dash ground cinnamon

1. Preheat oven to 425°F.
2. Crumble pastry sticks in 10-inch pie pan or quiche pan. Stir in ½ cup sugar. Press mixture evenly in bottom of pan and half way up sides.
3. Dot cream cheese over bottom of pan. Arrange plum quarters evenly on crust. Sprinkle with remaining ½ cup sugar evenly. Sprinkle lightly with cinnamon.
4. Bake for 25 to 30 minutes until bubbly and fruit is tender. Serve warm.

They are really beautifully made of black pine wood and finished by hand with a glowing walnut wood finish. Careful attention has been paid to every detail—doors and drawers have been dovetailed to open smoothly just the way they do in your own fine furniture. Knobs are solid metal with an antique brass look. Every feature is authentic including dresser platforms, high legs, wood turnings, even finials. Each piece is fully assembled—these are not kits you must put together yourself. Sizes are really large—much bigger than we have room to show—(exact sizes listed under each illustration). An absolute joy for collectors and so solidly constructed, they are perfect for jewelry or desk caddies! Superb, of course, for a luxury doll house.

Who Really Steers Your Life-You or Fate?

True or False? People who feel their destiny is shaped by forces over which they have little or no control are afraid to take risks, even if the odds are in their favor. (See No. 3)

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. Your attitude toward fate depends on which of two personality groups you belong to.
2. The master-of-his-fate type of personality experiences more frustrations and disappointments because he seeks to control situations instead of letting them control him.
3. People who feel their destiny is shaped by forces over which they have little or no control are afraid to take risks, even if the odds are in their favor.
4. These two personality types tend to react in completely opposite ways when faced with making a decision.
5. The occupation you choose is influenced by which of these two personality types you are most like.
6. As people grow older, they tend to lose much of their sense of "being in control" of what happens to them.

ANSWERS

1. True. Research indicates that there are two personality types, and which one you belong to depends on the extent to which you consider yourself or external forces responsible for what happens to you. The person who considers his life situations largely controlled by other people or chance happenings believes that something outside of himself controls the throw of the dice, giving him little chance to be master of his own fate. On the other hand, the internally oriented person, who believes that he himself calls most of the shots, is described as "one who senses that he possesses the ability to control the contingencies which shape his behavior." He never thinks of himself as a pawn of circumstance—and he rarely is.
2. False. Psychological studies show just the opposite—that it's the pawn-of-his-fate-type who is most likely to experience a large sense of personal frustration. And research at West Virginia University has shown that these people spend more time watching TV and daydreaming, suggesting that they "experience more frustration in the management of their daily activities and utilize conscious and unconscious fantasy to gain satisfactions."

3. False. Since they believe that luck plays a large part in determining their fortunes, they are often more willing to gamble or play a hunch than the person who feels that success is largely dependent upon his own individual efforts. This has been demonstrated by psychological studies conducted at Canada's York University.

4. True. Kansas State University studies have shown that the "internally controlled" personality type—who feels he steers his own ship and reaps the rewards he earns—makes a point of gathering the pertinent facts and sifting and weighing them carefully before making a decision of any importance. On the other hand, the type who feels that what happens to him is largely influenced by outside forces is more disposed to act on impulse or settle the matter simply by flipping a coin.

5. True. A team of University of Maine investigators administered a standard attitude test to college students, workers in various categories (both skilled and unskilled) and professionals. The professionals scored highest in terms of belief in their own competence and personal control over events affecting them. Other studies show that the more a person believes he controls his own destiny, the more persistent he is in the face of failures and discouragements and the more apt his efforts are to be crowned with ultimate success.

6. False—as evidenced by East Carolina University studies, which subjected both university students and their parents to personality tests. Findings: the parents showed a significantly greater sense of competence, self-mastery and feeling of control over the circumstances affecting their lives.

Health Watcher® USA Announces Its Sensational Plan for...

WEIGHT LOSS BY THE HOUR

- 8 AM...126 POUNDS!
- 8 PM...124 POUNDS!
- 8 AM TOMORROW
...122 POUNDS!

"There's no more healthful way to lose so much weight so fast!"

Dr. Louis F. Castaldo, M.D.

There's no easier way to lose — no calories to count, no carbohydrates to watch, no special recipes to prepare, no expensive special foods to buy!

Yet, incredibly, on this fantastic new Health Watcher Weight-Loss Plan your hunger — often the problem with those 1,000-500 calorie starvation diets — actually disappears in as little as 24 hours. You feel great — and in an incredibly few days — you start to look great!

Imagine losing a full pound in the first 6 hours! 2 pounds between morning and night! Up to 5 pounds of fluid and fat in the first 24 hours! If that sounds unbelievable, get the entire program now and read what an eminent doctor says about it. Read what people who have tried it say happened to them! Read why it may very well be the fastest, most effective, safest way to lose weight that has ever been discovered.

What's the secret? It's as simple as 1-2-3! 1) You take a single high-powered diet supplement tablet containing natural bran, for bulk, plus natural vitamins for health. 2) You take it with your choice of any of a number of healthful, nutritious natural fruit juices! 3) You don't tease your body with low-calorie starvation diets that only stimulate your appetite and leave you constantly hungry. Instead you shut down your food intake and slow down your whole digestive process for a brief period — the duration is up to you! Anytime you want to stop you can. The Complete Health Watcher Weight Loss Plan tells you exactly how — precisely when. When you follow it, the weight loss results are so fast, so fantastic you'll be amazed!

How much can I lose? The most amazing part is that you lose the most weight in the first few days — from 2 to 5 pounds in the first 24 hours — up to 10 pounds in just one weekend. So if you're just 5 or 10 pounds heavier than your ideal, you can probably achieve in 100 hours or less what might take you 2 to 3 weeks or more on conventional "low calorie" or "low carbohydrate" diets that may leave you hungry, nervous and constantly famished! So on the Health Watcher Plan, you can lose as much as you need to — fast! It's up to you!

Suppose I want to lose a great deal, say 20 pounds? You could do it in as little as 7 days, depending on how overweight you are when you start. You could easily lose more — a 240 pounder might lose 10% to 15% of his body weight!

Will the Weight-Loss-by-the-Hour Plan interfere with my social life, or tennis, or golf? It needn't make the slightest difference. You could go on it for 5 week days, stop on the weekend, and resume the following week if you want — and keep the weight loss you've already achieved. The plan tells you exactly how! Or you can do it only on weekends if that suits you better. There's no need to give up any activity you enjoy — golf, tennis, swimming — whatever you normally like, you can do.

Will it affect my sex life? You bet it will — for the better! As you begin to shed all that extra weight, your energy level starts to increase. Not to mention the fact that you'll feel more desirable, and look it too!

Is the Weight-Loss-by-the-Hour Plan medically approved? Before beginning any weight loss program, says Dr. Louis F. Castaldo, M.D., you should consult your physician. But he continues "I do not hesitate to recommend Health Watcher's Weight-Loss-by-the-Hour Plan as the safest, healthiest way to lose pounds in the shortest period of time. Especially this is true for those frustrated people who have had little or no success with other methods of dieting. This amazing regimen, properly followed, may well be the beginning of a whole new life style!"

Send now for the plan, complete with everything you need on this no-risk guarantee. When you return the coupon, you've taken the first step toward being the trim, slim, attractive person you've always wanted to be! You will receive the complete plan, including precise instructions as to how to start, what you can expect to happen...how you'll feel, when to stop, and how to maintain the ideal weight you've achieved. You'll receive a 30-day supply of Health Watcher Diet Supplement Tablets containing healthful natural ingredients and no dangerous drugs — these provide vitamins and fiber while you're losing weight on the plan. And you receive instructions for a healthful exercise and weight maintenance program you can use to help maintain weight and feel great.

After you've received all this, you may follow and use this Plan for 14 days without obligation. If then you're not pleased, tickled, proud and delighted in every way, if you wish, you may return just the unused Health Watcher tablets and get a full refund of the purchase price. You may keep all the rest of the material in any case, as a gift!

But don't delay — mail the coupon at once! The sooner you start to follow and benefit from this amazing program, the sooner you'll have the trimmer, slimmer figure you've always wanted. Mail your order today!

Dr. Castaldo has been a practicing physician for over 30 years. A graduate of the University of Maryland, he received his medical degree at Tufts University, then interned at Stamford and Bridgeport Hospitals in Connecticut and Bellevue Hospital in New York.

Would you guess that Marie Glantz, President of Health Watcher USA and author of this plan, and a nationally known nutritionist and lecturer on health and weight loss, is a grandmother 4 times over? Or winner of numerous golf championships? And has more energy and pep than many people half her age? She follows her own advice — keeps her figure trim and slim, just as yours can be!

TRY THIS NEW PIPE FOR 30 DAYS!

..For cigar smokers and cigarette smokers alike a "Carey Pipe" can save hundreds of dollars a year.

..If you are a pipe smoker, a "Carey Pipe" can end forever your constant search for the most enjoyable smoke of your life.

So different that it's patented by the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT patent number 3287941

If you don't agree that it's the best smoke you've ever had, it won't cost you a dime. This top grade Mediterranean briar (Leco) paragon a sensational invention that contradicts every idea you've ever had about pipe smoking. It completely eliminates breaking-in. Tars, sludge, bite, and bitterness never reach your mouth. You get cleaner, cooler, tastier, moisture-free thoroughly enjoyable smoking.

E. A. Carey

It's the first pipe in the world that's guaranteed to give unadulterated pleasure to smokers.

Give it 30 days—

No cigarette, no cigar, nor any other pipe can give you the full rich flavor, aroma, deep down satisfaction, enjoyment, and peace of mind that you get from a Carey Pipe.

You may be a pipe smoker with a rack full of pipes and still searching for the ideal smoke, or perhaps you would like to switch to a pipe to cut down on cigarettes or expensive cigars.

The Carey Pipe may look like any ordinary pipe, but it's a lot different! In fact, there's nothing like it in the whole world. The Carey Pipe is made of the finest aged Mediterranean briar—but, its big secret lies in the exclusive patented "MAGIC INCH," cleverly concealed in a bite proof nylon stem.

It's Not a Filter

The "Magic Inch" is not a filter that gets soggy and loaded with foul smelling goo. A soggy, foul smelling filter transmits its stale foul odor into each successive puff of smoke, creating more problems than it solves.

It's Not a Trap

The "Magic Inch" is not a trap collecting moisture that gurgles with every draw. It is not a trap that must be cleaned after every smoke.

It's Almost Magic

Not my magic but NATURE'S OWN MAGIC. Warm winds pick up moisture by evaporation from the oceans, lakes, rivers, and streams, lift it high into the atmosphere where the cooler upper air squeezes it into drops of water that fall back to earth in its most perfect state of purity. Just as the colder upper air of the atmosphere causes rain, the cool air entering the "Magic Inch" chamber through the special louvers of the patented Carey stem, causes immediate condensation of the moisture in the smoke where it drops to the bottom of the chamber, is absorbed by the natural fiber sleeve of the "Magic Inch," and in turn, is evaporated into the outside air. No accumulation ever remains to form sludge or slugs of bitter tasting goo. The "Magic Inch" also mixes purifying oxygen with the smoke from the tobacco, in perfectly controlled proportions, cooling the smoke, eliminating all tongue bite, and creating MELLOWNESS, MILDNESS, and SWEETNESS that was never before enjoyed in pipe smoking.

Today, over one hundred and fifty thousand pipe smokers smoke Carey Pipes almost exclusively. They all got started by accepting my most unusual offer to test a Carey Pipe for 30 days, without any risk on their part whatsoever.

They were all granted the same option which is yours also. After 30 days, if you agree that the Carey Pipe is the best smoke of your life, you may keep it; if you don't agree, whack it with a hammer and return the broken pieces to me. The trial has cost you nothing! How many businesses are that sure of their product?

Is it true? This Amazing PSYCHIC PERCEPTOR brings you Wealth, Love and Power Beyond Belief!

Miraculous "Mental Instrument" offers instantaneous power to make your dreams come true! Power to see all, hear all, and command all!

Yes, Dr. Joseph Murphy's amazing secret of the Psychic Perceptor is here at last! After 20 years of mind research this miraculous psychic discovery is now yours!

Twenty years ago, the purposes and uses of this amazing psychic wonder were first perceived by Dr. Joseph Murphy of California. The amazing secret of the psychic Perceptor—the miraculous mental instrument of the mind that can be made to respond to your will and desires! The impossible had been achieved! As experiments progressed, thousands of poor, unhappy, discouraged men and women were having their lives transformed at last by one of the most magnificent discoveries in the history of the entire universe!

THOUSANDS HELPED!

Now, you too, says Dr. Joseph Murphy, can build up an enormous treasure of wealth, energy, power over others, and new friends... without rid yourself of fear, doubt, and evil psychic forces that may be blocking your road to fame and fortune.

All by using the one little secret of the Psychic Perceptor, that takes only minutes to learn—and can start working for you, automatically! You can forget your age, young or old, when I say that you can give orders to your Psychic Perceptor, tell it to make your life richer, healthier, and more productive, and actually get what you want.

A PROVEN METHOD!

Proof that this method works is supported by Dr. Murphy's personal witness and his files filled with thousands of true life case histories. A former secretary claims: "If someone had told me a year ago that I would be driving a Lincoln; wearing a mink coat, expensive diamonds and sapphires; living in my own home and married to a wonderful man, I would have laughed out loud."

Almost overnight, after using the secret of the Psychic Perceptor, wealth and happiness flowed to her in avalanches of abundance. To utilize this miraculous new-found power, you need to learn only one thing—just one—and if you can read a few simply-told, easy-to-follow instructions, this tremendous power-giving force is yours to command.

You Can Prove It Yourself At Our Risk—Just As These People Did!

CLAIMS PSYCHIC PERCEPTOR BRINGS HIM WINNING TICKETS! Dr. Murphy tells about a man who could not pay his bills. The man was three months past due and his purse was empty. Dr. Murphy gave him the Psychic Perceptor secret—and a friend gave him an Irish Sweepstakes ticket. One month later, he received a large sum of money, which solved all his problems!

PICKS WINNERS IN SIX RACES! Mr. J. J. of California, had been in the habit of losing $10 to $15 cash at the race track. Accordingly, he began using his Psychic Perceptor every night for about 15 minutes to ask for $50,000. On the fifth week, he went to the track and bet on six races. THEY WERE ALL WINNERS! And he received $50,000 cash!

STRANGER HANDS HER $100,000! Mrs. X., of Georgia, a widow who was living alone, could not keep up the payments on her home. Hearing of Dr. Murphy, she contacted him, and he gave her the secret of the Psychic Perceptor. After using this one simple secret—out of the blue—a stranger knocked on her door and she got the $100,000 she needed!

HOW SHE GOT A FREE VACATION! Mrs. Louise B. used her Psychic Perceptor to ask for a wonderful vacation. Shortly afterwards she received a gift of a European holiday for her entire family!

Perhaps You Are Wondering Who Is Dr. Joseph Murphy?

Dr. Murphy is one of the leading experts in the psychic field living on the face of the earth today. He has four doctorates.

He brings to you a wealth of information on the principles and practice of the laws of mind in action.

Dr. Murphy tells of "miraculous" healings, of men and women who were able to draw their loved ones to them—as bees to honey—with this secret, contact long-lost friends and relatives, strengthen and unite all family ties!

AMAZING SECRET Is Easy To Use!

According to Dr. Murphy, if you are poor, your Psychic Perceptor can give you the wealth of an emperor. If you are tired or rundown it can give you boundless strength and energy, if you lack friends it can surround you with an army of devoted men and women—boosters and supporters who will stand side by side with you against the world, if need be.

Yes, my friend, you can do it as surely as you can breathe, and almost as easily.

What looks like sheer magic to others is merely the operation of a newly discovered natural process WHICH YOU CAN MAKE THE SERVANT OF YOUR WILL.

Why It Must Work For You!

Best of all, your Psychic Perceptor is guaranteed to work for you automatically and endlessly for one simple reason... because it has working for thousands of ordinary men and women from all walks of life, no better, no smarter, no luckier or harder working than you—and it works for them right now!

- These people have received...
  - Wealth in avalanches of abundance, and discoveries of hidden treasure!
  - Psychic healing of maladies thought incurable!
  - Contact with long-lost friends and relatives!
  - Power to see and hear beyond walls and over great distances!
  - Freedom from fear of so-called voodoo or evil eye!
  - Happier marriages, and more joyful daily living!
  - Prevention of many unnecessary tragedies!
  - The joyous satisfaction of the answered prayer!
- According to Dr. Murphy, it can set you on the high road to happiness, quickly, easily, and automatically—just as it has for still thousands of others he tells you about!

Receives A Million Dollars!

"I had the most amazing telephone call from the husband of a woman we shall call Mrs. H.," says Dr. Murphy. "My wife just inherited a million dollars. You told her what to do!" She simply told her Psychic Perceptor she wanted $1 million—and at the end of about a month, she was advised by a stranger that she had inherited over a million dollars. It was, as her husband said, "completely out of the blue!"

Receives A Wonderful Healing!

Dr. Murphy reports how a medical doctor who had hurt his back, was sick in bed—and couldn't work or walk—was healed with his Psychic Perceptor! "Something happened to me," he said. "A strange feeling came over me; I felt a healing force flowing through me."

Reveals A Small Fortune In Dollar Bills!

How a Widow Of 72 Banished Loneliness!

Mrs. I., a widow, wanted desperately to re-marry. She complained that although she had written for prayers to all the New Thought Churches to pray for the right husband for her, all the effort had come to naught. She said that her children were grown up, married, and living as far as 3,000 miles away and that while she met many widowers, no one had proposed to her. On Dr. Murphy's instructions, she used her Psychic Perceptor. Shortly afterward, she met a wonderful retired physician—who proposed marriage, which she accepted!

"Let Wonders Happen In Your Life Beginning Now!"

Yes now, says Dr. Joseph Murphy, YOU can have the power of a mighty PSYCHIC PERCEPTOR—to see all, hear all, and command! Mighty Extrasensory Power, power beyond the range of normal sight and sound, power that knows no bound in time and space—

Power to command that which you wish to occur, as if by magic, easily, automatically, by unobserved means! And in the mighty PSYCHIC PERCEPTOR secret works for you, you will see this power emerging in your daily life!

For just as a magician's wand was said to cause miracles, the secret of the Psychic Perceptor can bring miracles such as these—according to Dr. Murphy:

- PROOF—A girl who was slowly dying due to a belief that someone in Tahiti had put the "flu" (a native curse) on her—received a wonderful healing and is now bubbling over with the joy of life!
- PROOF—Another reports she was immediately able to see her long-lost father, in a hotel room—thousands of miles away—and make him come back!
- PROOF—A young lady, whose doctor had given her 4 months to live, told her Psychic Perceptor to heal her. Six months later, her doctor said, "A miracle has happened." Two years have passed and she says she is completely cured!
- PROOF—A young lady from Wichita, Kansas, states that the Psychic Perceptor method enabled her to reduce and control her weight. Her goal was 110 pounds, and—true to the law—she reduced 40 pounds!
- PROOF—Another woman saw the man of her dreams, with her Psychic Perceptor, and he was automatically attracted to her!
- PROOF—A girl was able to protect herself completely from being hypnotized by an expert, who wanted her to disrobe in front of twelve men and women!
- PROOF—Another user reports using her Psychic Perceptor to free her—at long last—from an evil spirit who was constantly annoying her, pouring out vulgarisms, obscenities, commanding her to violate her sex code, as well as even scratching her at night. The spirit disappeared—not daring to return!
- And best of all, this power can work for you right now, according to Dr. Murphy. You need no special abilities or training. On the contrary, he says, it's the simplest thing in the world!

Try Dr. Murphy's AMAZING DISCOVERY At Our Expense—For 30 Days!

If the PSYCHIC PERCEPTOR can do all this for others, what amazing results can it also bring to you? You have nothing to lose! A whole new world to gain! If you don't agree this book transforms your life, return it and your purchase price will be immediately, fully and cheerfully refunded. Why not send in the No-Risk Coupon—TODAY!

Hearing of Dr. Murphy, she contacted him, and he gave her the secret of the Psychic Perceptor. After using this one simple secret—out of the blue—a stranger knocked on her door and she got the $100,000 she needed!

• HOW SHE GOT A FREE VACATION! Mrs. Louise B. used her Psychic Perceptor to ask for a wonderful vacation. Shortly afterwards she received a gift of a European holiday for her entire family!

Perhaps You Are Wondering, Who Is Dr. Joseph Murphy?

Dr. Murphy is one of the leading experts in the psychic field living on the face of the earth today. He holds four doctorates.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Joseph Murphy, D.D., D.R.S., Ph.D., LL.D.,

Dr. Joseph Murphy is an internationally-known author, teacher, and lecturer. He is one of the foremost speakers on mental and spiritual laws in the world today. He is Minister of the Church of Divine Science, Los Angeles, California, and speaks to an audience of about fifteen hundred every Sunday.

Dr. Murphy conducts a daily radio program on self-development and frequently appears on television. Hundreds of thousands have attended his classes on the power of the subconscious mind.

Dr. Murphy is the author of such popular, best-selling books as Secrets of the I Ching, Your Infinite Power to Be Rich, The Amazing Laws of Cosmic Mind Power, The Power of Your Subconscious Mind, The Miracle of Mind Dynamics. He brings to you a wealth of information on the principles and practice of the laws of mind in action.

Dr. Murphy tells of "miraculous" healings, of men and women who were able to draw their loved ones to them—as bees to honey—with this secret, contact long-lost friends and relatives, strengthen and unite all family ties!

AMAZING SECRET Is Easy To Use!

According to Dr. Murphy, if you are poor, your Psychic Perceptor can give you the wealth of an emperor, if you are tired or rundown it can give you boundless strength and energy, if you lack friends it can surround you with an army of devoted men and women—boosters and supporters who will stand side by side with you against the world, if need be.

Yes, my friend, you can do it as surely as you can breathe, and almost as easily.

What looks like sheer magic to others is merely the operation of a newly discovered natural process WHICH YOU CAN MAKE THE SERVANT OF YOUR WILL.

Why It Must Work For You!

Best of all, your Psychic Perceptor is guaranteed to work for you automatically and endlessly for one simple reason... because it has worked for thousands of ordinary men and women from all walks of life, no better, no smarter, no luckier or harder working than you—and is working for them right now!

- These people have received —
- Wealth in avalanches of abundance, and discoveries of hidden treasure!
- Psychic healing of maladies thought incurable!
- Contact with long-lost friends and relatives!
- Power to see and hear beyond walls and over great distances!
- Freedom from fear of so-called voodoo or evil eye!
- Happier marriages, and more zestful daily living!
- Prevention of many unnecessary tragedies!
- The joyous satisfaction of the answered prayer!

According to Dr. Murphy, it can set you on the high road to happiness, quickly, easily, and automatically—just as it has for still thousands of others he tells you about!

Receives A Million Dollars!

"I had the most amazing telephone call from the husband of a woman we shall call Mrs. H.," says Dr. Murphy. "My wife just inherited a million dollars. You told her what to do!" She simply told her Psychic Perceptor she wanted $1 million—and at the end of about a month, she was advised by a stranger that she had inherited over a million dollars. It was, as her husband said, "completely out of the blue!"

Receives A Wonderful Healing!

Dr. Murphy reports how a medical doctor who had hurt his back, was sick in bed—and couldn't work or walk—was healed with his Psychic Perceptor! "Something happened to me," he said, "A strange feeling came over me; I felt a healing force flowing through me."

Reveals A Small Fortune In Dollar Bills!

How a Widow Of 72 Banished Loneliness!

Mrs. I., a widow, wanted desperately to re-marry. She complained that although she had written for prayers to all the New Thought Churches to pray for the right husband for her, all the effort had come to naught. She said that her children were grown up, married, and living as far as 3,000 miles away and that while she met many widowers, no one had proposed to her. On Dr. Murphy's instructions, she used her Psychic Perceptor. Shortly afterward, she met a wonderful retired physician—who proposed marriage, which she accepted!

"Let Wonders Happen In Your Life Beginning Now!"

Yes now, says Dr. Joseph Murphy, YOU can have the power of a mighty PSYCHIC PERCEPTOR—to see all, hear all, and command! Mighty Extrasensory Power, power beyond the range of normal sight and sound, power that knows no bound in time and space—

Power to command that which you wish to occur, as if by magic, easily, automatically, by unobserved means! And as the mighty PSYCHIC PERCEPTOR secret works for you, you will see this power emerging in your daily life!

For just as a magician's wand was said to cause miracles, the secret of the Psychic Perceptor can bring miracles such as these—according to Dr. Murphy:

- PROOF — A girl who was slowly dying due to a belief that someone in Tahiti had put the "fix" (a native curse) on her—received a wonderful healing and is now bubbling over with the joy of life!
- PROOF — Another reports she was immediately able to see her long-lost father, in a hotel room—thousands of miles away—and make him come back!
- PROOF — A young lady, whose doctor had given her 4 months to live, told her Psychic Perceptor to heal her. Six months later, her doctor said, "A miracle has happened." Two years have passed and she says she is completely cured!
- PROOF — A young lady from Wichita, Kansas, states that the Psychic Perceptor method enabled her to reduce and control her weight. Her goal was 118 pounds, and—true to the law—she reduced 40 pounds!
- PROOF — Another woman saw the man of her dreams, with her Psychic Perceptor, and he was automatically attracted to her!
- PROOF — A girl was able to protect herself completely from being hypnotized by an expert, who wanted her to disrobe in front of twelve men and women!
- PROOF — Another user reports using her Psychic Perceptor to free her — at long last — from an evil spirit who was constantly annoying her, pouring out vulgarisms, obscenities, commanding her to violate her sex code, as well as even scratching her at night. The spirit disappeared — not daring to return!

And best of all, this power can work for you right now, according to Dr. Murphy. You need no special abilities or training. On the contrary, he says, it's the simplest thing in the world!

Try Dr. Murphy's AMAZING DISCOVERY At Our Expense—For 30 Days!

If the PSYCHIC PERCEPTOR can do all this for others, what amazing results can it also bring to you? You have nothing to lose! A whole new world to gain! If you don't agree this book transforms your life, return it and your purchase price will be immediately, fully and cheerfully refunded. Why not send in the No-Risk Coupon—TODAY!

SEN. EDWARD KENNEDY
Cool and formal with Dad

Teddy Kennedy not a favorite son? Joseph Kennedy's sons naturally responded to their father's teachings and example in the order of their ages. There was a permanent distance between Teddy and Joe, dictated not so much by personal choice as by the chasm of the years, and by the fact that the old man, guided by the practical demands of the family seniority system, saved most of his enthusiasm and advice and succor for the elder sons, who were already deeply imbedded in politics. By the time Teddy was first elected to office, his father was a crippled husk—he had suffered a stroke the year before and could not speak. The two were tied with the velvet cord of Mandarin affection, cool and formal and distant. Even his mother, Rose, once said, "We tried to keep everything more or less equal. But you wonder if the mother and father aren't quite tired when the ninth one comes along. There are 17 years between my oldest and youngest child, and I have been telling bedtime stories for 20 years." Teddy was their ninth and last child. From "The Last Kennedy," by Robert Sherrill (Dial, $8.95).

KATHARINE HEPBURN AND AVA GARDNER
"Kate stood up to all the madness; Ava was destroyed by the system," says their biographer.

The madness that was Hollywood—Author Charles Higham talking: "While many movie-goers bemoan the end of the star system, few of today's actors would wish for its revival. Ava Gardner is a classic example of how harmful that period was to the actors and actresses who were part of it. Hollywood took that untalented but very beautiful young girl from Smithfield, N.C., and molded her into a star. She was a poor, barefoot girl from the tobacco fields when she was discovered, and I think she would have been better off if she had stayed there. Success brought her numerous disastrous marriages and pathetic attempts at mingling with the intellectuals who wrote screenplays in the 40's. Today, she's all alone and embittered. But coming from poverty as she did, and then becoming an overnight star, she couldn't ever go home again. She had to keep up the façade, even though being a star was destroying her personal life. Katharine Hepburn is really the only actress who was not broken by the system—because she refused to be standardized. While her peers painted their faces and came up with bizarre hairstyles and costumes, Hepburn chose to be herself. She has remained a symbol of sanity and intelligence because she correctly saw that Hollywood was ephemeral. . . . Her independence has been her salvation and her trademark." Charles Higham is a literary and film critic and the author of numerous movie biographies ("Kate" and "Ava" among them). The most recent is "Charles Laughton: An Intimate Biography" (Doubleday, $8.95).

Jock was in a jam

For 26 hours, firemen and mechanical diggers worked to free a Jack Russell terrier named Jock who was stuck inside a 12-inch round drainpipe that went 30 feet underground. "We were out for a walk," explained Jock's 13-year-old owner, Jane Kent, "when suddenly he shot off after a small rodent. Jock followed the animal into a drainpipe and then couldn't get out. It took the workers more than a day to locate the other end of the pipe and then break it

VOTERS' GUIDE

This non-partisan election guide contains description of candidates and proposals appearing on Southwestern Michigan ballots Tuesday, Aug. 3.

There are also maps of voting districts.

The primary election in Michigan is a grass roots exercise of franchise to select candidates for November's general election all the way from town hall to congress.

There are many candidates and issues involved. To clarify proposals and identify candidates, this voters' guide strives to present "the whole thing" on paper for careful perusal. Consult the guide, mark it up and even take it to the polls if you like. That's what it's for.

Polls Open 13 Hours

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. Tuesday. Give yourself plenty of time; there's a lot on the ballot. It's an election which will finalize the list of candidates in November. This newspaper and the firms whose names appear at right bring you this non-partisan guide as a public service. The guide, a tradition for the past ten years, is one of the most popular, most looked-forward-to features this newspaper has ever published. The sponsoring "good neighbor" firms make it possible.

VOTERS' GUIDE

This non-partisan election guide contains description of candidates and proposals appearing on Southwestern Michigan ballots Tuesday, Aug. 3.

There are also maps of voting districts.

The primary election in Michigan is a grass roots exercise of franchise to select candidates for November's general election all the way from town hall to congress.

There are many candidates and issues involved. To clarify proposals and identify candidates, this voters' guide strives to present "the whole thing" on paper for careful perusal. Consult the guide, mark it up and even take it to the polls if you like. That's what it's for.

Polls Open 13 Hours

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. Tuesday. Give yourself plenty of time; there's a lot on the ballot. It's an election which will finalize the list of candidates in November. This newspaper and the firms whose names appear at right bring you this non-partisan guide as a public service. The guide, a tradition for the past ten years, is one of the most popular, most looked-forward-to features this newspaper has ever published. The sponsoring "good neighbor" firms make it possible.

Candidates For U.S. Senate

RICHARD AUSTIN
Democrat Senate candidate

Retirement of U.S. Sen. Philip Hart, a Democrat, has touched off four-way primary races for a nominee to succeed him in both his own party and also in the Republican ranks.

Democratic party candidates are Richard H. Austin, secretary of state; James Leonard Elsmann, a Birmingham attorney; U.S. Rep. James G. O'Hara of Utica and U.S. Rep. Donald W. Riegle Jr., of Flint.

Republicans seeking nomination in the Aug. 3 primary are Deane Baker, an Ann Arbor building contractor; Thomas E. Brennan, a former justice on the Michigan Supreme court; U.S. Rep. Marvin L. Esch of Ann Arbor and Robert Huber of Troy, a former state senator and congressman.

Austin, 62, has served as secretary of state since January, 1971. He was re-elected to that post in November, 1974. Austin was also Wayne county auditor from 1966 to 1970. He was a candidate for mayor of Detroit in 1969, and still lives there, with his wife, Ida, and a daughter.

Elsmann, 39, was also a Democratic party candidate for the U.S. Senate in the 1966 primary and ran in the 1970 Democratic party primary for the nomination to the U.S. House of Representatives in the 18th Congressional district. He lives in Bloomfield Hills with his wife, Janice, and two children.

O'Hara, 50, was first elected to Congress in November, 1958. He and his wife, Susan, have seven children. O'Hara is a member of the education and labor committee and the committee on the budget and a joint U.S. House of Representatives Senate Committee on Congressional Operations.

Riegle, 38, was first elected to the U.S. House of Representatives as a Republican in November, 1966. But in 1973 Riegle changed his affiliation to the Democratic party. He served as a member of the U.S. House appropriations committee until the same year and is now a member of the committee on foreign affairs. Riegle was appointed to a Democratic task force on economy and energy by Speaker Carl Albert in February, 1975. He and his wife, Meredith, have three children.

On the Republican side, Baker, 51, was elected to the University of Michigan Board of Regents in November, 1972. He has been active in Republican party affairs since 1968 and was even considered by the Republican State Central committee as a U.S. Senate candidate in 1970 and 1966. Baker and his wife, Marilyn, have four children.

Brennan, 47, served as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court in 1969 and 1970. He was elected to the court in November, 1968 and served until Jan. 1, 1975. Brennan was also a common pleas court judge in Detroit from January, 1962 to September, 1963 and circuit judge in Wayne county from September, 1963 to December, 1965. He and his wife, Pauline, and their six children live in East Lansing.

Esch was first elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in November, 1966. Prior to that he served as a member of the Michigan House of Representatives for a two-year term. Esch is a member of the education and labor and the science and technology committee in the U.S. House of Representatives. He serves as the ranking Republican on the manpower subcommittee of the education and labor committee. He is 46 and has a wife, Olga, and three children.

Huber, 53, is president of Michigan Chrome and Chemical Co., Detroit. He was elected to the Michigan Senate in 1964 and 1966, serving until 1970. Huber also served in the U.S. House of Representatives in 1973 and 1974 from the 18th Congressional district. He was also a candidate in the 1970 Republican party primary for the U.S. Senate. He also served as mayor of Troy from 1959 to 1964 and was a member of the Oakland county board of supervisors from 1959 to 1963. Huber and his wife, Mary, do not have any children.

9th U.S. Congressional Candidates Unopposed

Candidates for the Ninth U.S. Congressional seat have no opposition in the August primary election and will meet in the November general election.

The district is made up of Allegan, Lake, Leelanau, Manistee, Mason, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana and Ottawa counties and parts of Benzie and Wexford counties.

Incumbent Republican Guy A.

Vander Jagt of Cadillac will be opposed by Democrat Stephen E. Fawley of Hudsonville in November.

Vander Jagt, 44, served a term (1965-68) in the state senate before being elected in November, 1966, to the Congressional seat vacated by Sen. Robert Griffin. He has been re-elected to two-year terms ever since.

An attorney and former newsman, he is a graduate of Hope college, Yale and the University of Michigan law school. He and his wife Carol have a daughter.

Fawley, 34, is a teacher of the mentally impaired at the junior high level in the Holland school system. He is a graduate of Goshen college in Goshen, Ind., and received his master's degree from Western Michigan university. He and his wife Judith have two sons.

No Races In 43rd, 54th Legislative Districts

Of the five State House of Representative districts in southwestern Michigan, only two, the 43rd and the 54th, have no primary races.

In the 43rd district, incumbent Republican Harry Gast, 56, St. Joseph, is seeking a fourth, two-year term in Lansing.

He will be opposed in November by Democrat Laurel P. Groenke, 66, a Baroda area farmer who has been a frequent candidate for office over the last 20 years. Gast defeated Groenke in the 1972 election.

The 43rd district includes the western and southern portions of Berrien county.

In the 54th district, Republican incumbent Edgar J. Fredricks, 32, Holland, is seeking a second, two-year term. In November, he will be opposed by Democrat Michael L. Villwock, a Holland welder.

4th District Congressman

Seeking the GOP party nod for the seat currently held by retiring Congressman Edward Hutchinson (R-St. Joseph) are Dave Stockman, David S. Frazer, Atty. Lee Boothby and Helen R. Take.

Richard "Mike" Daugherty, 55, of Sister Lakes, is the only candidate for the Democrat nomination. He will face the winner of the Republican runoff in November.

Hutchinson announced early this year that he would not seek re-election.

Stockman, 29, 5337 Scottdale road, St. Joseph, is a 1964 graduate of Lakeshore high school and 1968 cum laude graduate of Michigan State University. He attended graduate school at Harvard University divinity school, but interrupted his graduate studies in 1970 to take a position in Washington D.C., as a congressional staff aide. In January, 1972, he was appointed executive director of the House Republican conference, a position he held until June, 1975. Stockman is a bachelor.

Boothby, 43, route 2, Berrien Springs, is a Berrien Springs attorney. A graduate of Andrews University, he received his law degree from Wayne State University. He has been an attorney for 18 years. This will be Boothby's second bid for the GOP nomination for the congressional post. He was defeated in a primary election when Hutchinson was first elected in 1962. However, Hutchinson has endorsed Boothby as his replacement. Boothby has been active in local GOP activities and served as a constitutional convention delegate. A former assistant prosecutor of Berrien county, he is also attorney for various local governmental units and school boards. He and his wife, Carole, have two teenage daughters.

Frazer, 35, 1466 US-33 North, Benton township, has been accounts manager for Benton Harbor Engineering, a division of Koehring company for the past four years. Prior to that he was associated with Parker-Hannifin Corp., Cleveland, Ohio. A native of Maryland, Frazer graduated from Archmore academy, a Catholic school for boys at Claymont, Del., and attended John Hopkins University, Baltimore, where he was awarded a four-year scholarship by the school of engineering. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the Benton Harbor school board in 1974. He and his wife, Ethel, have six children.

Miss Take, 26, 2835 Lake Shore drive, St. Joseph, has worked for the past three years as a permanent substitute teacher for the Benton Harbor school district, while continuing her graduate studies. A political newcomer, she is a graduate of Eau Claire high school and Western Michigan University, majoring in sociology. Miss Take has traveled extensively throughout the United States and the Middle East.

Daugherty, is a native of Portland Ore., a wounded and decorated World War II veteran and has presided over UAW Local 1290 at Clark Equipment Construction Machinery division, Benton township, the past 17 years. He's a jig and fixture welder there. Daugherty was defeated by Hutchinson for the Fourth District seat in the 1974 election. He and his wife, Rae, have four grown children.

The Fourth District includes all of Berrien, Cass, Van Buren, Branch, and Lenawee counties; all of St. Joseph county except Leonidas township, all of Hillsdale county except for Litchfield township; and two townships, Tekonsha and Claredon, in Calhoun county.

TO VOTE

Democrats Voting For Precinct Delegates, Too

Democratic party voters will elect precinct delegates in the Aug. 3 primary election in addition to choosing their party's nominees for the November general election.

The delegates will represent their precincts at all Democratic county conventions during the next two years.

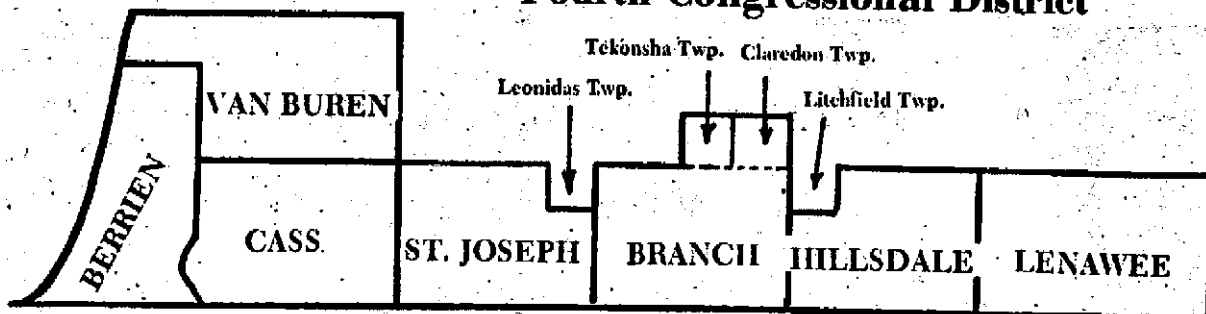

The number of delegates allocated to each precinct was based on the turnout of Democratic voters in that precinct during the November, 1974, general elections. Write—in candidates can also be elected, but they must receive at least three votes.

County delegates choose state convention delegates and the party's county executive committees. In precincts where the number of candidates exceed the allocation, the candidates receiving the highest number of votes will win.

The Republican party elected its precinct delegates in the May 18 Presidential primary election.

42nd DISTRICT STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Eight Republicans and a lone Democrat will be seeking their respective party nominations in the August primary for state representative from the 42nd district.

The large Republican turnout came after incumbent Republican DeForrest Strang of Sturgis announced in April he would not seek re-election to the office he has held for 10 years. Strang is 74.

Republican candidates vying in the Aug. 3 primary will be Paul P. Brady of Three Rivers; Fred R. Charlton of Sturgis; John I. Middaugh of Dowagiac; James W. Roberts of Three Rivers; L.D. Ryan of Vicksburg; Mark D. Siljander of Three Rivers; Harold Sparks of Cassopolis; and Denton Van Der Weele of Constantine.

The lone Democrat on the primary ballot is Mrs. Dixie Almasi, a 33-year-old Edwardsburg housewife and Elkhart, Ind., factory worker.

The 42nd district includes most of Cass and St. Joseph counties plus Keeler, Hamilton, Decatur and Porter townships in Van Buren county.

Brady, 56, was for two years a St. Joseph county commissioner (1973-74) and has served on the county board of public works and county recreation, parks and planning commission. He is production control and traffic manager of Essex International, Inc., at Three Rivers. He and his wife Doris have three children.

Charlton, 62, an ex-aide to Congressman Edward Hutchinson, is a former Sturgis city commissioner and for 20 years was a reporter, editor or manager for four newspapers in Michigan. He recently retired from the Kirsch company in Sturgis. His wife's name is Jean.

Middaugh, 24, is a history and business student at Andrews university and served for two years in the U.S. Army. He remains a member of the reserves and is a bachelor.

Roberts, 41, is a heavy equipment operator making his first bid for political office. He is a life resident of Three Rivers and attended Western Michigan university and East Tennessee university. He and his wife Jeanette have five children.

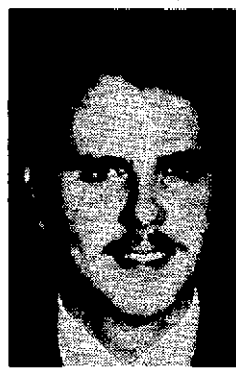

Ryan, 41, is a professor of engineering at Western Michigan university in Kalamazoo. In addition, he owns a farm, an egg-processing ranch and a company which produces solar heating Siljander, 24, a distributor for Chalet Homes, Inc., is making a second attempt to get the GOP nomination for the state legislative seat after losing to Strang in the 1974 primary. He has served as a Fabius township (St. Joseph county) trustee and on the township's zoning board of appeals. He has also served as a lay minister at the Three Rivers First United Methodist church.

Sparks, 60, was in Cass county area extension work for 24 years, including 11 years as Cass county agent. He presently is radio farm director for Station WLKM in Three Rivers (after having originated similar programs at radio stations in Niles and Dowagiac) and also operates a 1,100-acre rural Cassopolis farm with several of his sons. He and his wife Rose have five children.

Van Der Weele has owned his own printing and publishing business in Vicksburg for some 23 years. Before moving to Constantine five years ago, he served on the Vicksburg village council, was hospital board chairman for four years and was active in Scouting programs. Van Der Weele 52, and his wife Mary have four children.

Candidates For U.S. Senate

RICHARD AUSTIN
Democrat Senate candidate

Retirement of U.S. Sen. Philip Hart, a Democrat, has touched off four-way primary races for a nominee to succeed him in both his own party and also in the Republican ranks.

Democratic party candidates are Richard H. Austin, secretary of state; James Leonard Elsmann, a Birmingham attorney; U.S. Rep. James G. O'Hara of Utica and U.S. Rep. Donald W. Riegle Jr., of Flint.

Republicans seeking nomination in the Aug. 3 primary are Deane Baker, an Ann Arbor building contractor; Thomas E. Brennan, a former justice on the Michigan Supreme court; U.S. Rep. Marvin L. Esch of Ann Arbor and Robert Huber of Troy, a former state senator and congressman.

Austin, 62, has served as secretary of state since January, 1971. He was re-elected to that post in November, 1974. Austin was also Wayne county auditor from 1966 to 1970. He was a candidate for mayor of Detroit in 1969, and still lives there, with his wife, Ida, and a daughter.

Elsman, 39, was also a Democratic party candidate for the U.S. Senate in the 1966 primary and ran in the 1970 Democratic party primary for the nomination to the U.S. House of Representatives in the 18th Congressional district. He lives in Bloomfield Hills with his wife, Janice, and two children.

O'Hara, 50, was first elected to Congress in November, 1958. He and his wife, Susan, have seven children. O'Hara is a member of the education and labor committee and the committee on the budget and a joint U.S. House of Representatives Senate Committee on Congressional Operations.

Riegle, 38, was first elected to the U.S. House of Representatives as a Republican in November, 1966. But in 1973 Riegle changed his affiliation to the Democratic party. He served as a member of the U.S. House appropriations committee until the same year and is now a member of the committee on foreign affairs. Riegle was appointed to a Democratic task force on economy and energy by Speaker Carl Albert in February, 1975. He and his wife, Meredith, have three children.

On the Republican side, Baker, 51, was elected to the University of Michigan Board of Regents in November, 1972. He has been active in Republican party affairs since 1960 and was even considered by the Republican State Central committee as a U.S. Senate candidate in 1970 and 1966. Baker and his wife, Marilyn, have four children.

Brennan, 47, served as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court in 1969 and 1970. He was elected to the court in November, 1966 and served until Jan. 1, 1975. Brennan was also a common pleas court judge in Detroit from January, 1962 to September, 1963 and circuit judge in Wayne county from September 1963 to December, 1965. He and his wife, Pauline, and their six children live in East Lansing.

Esch was first elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in November, 1966. Prior to that he served as a member of the Michigan House of Representatives for a two-year term. Esch is a member of the education and labor and the science and technology committee in the U.S. House of Representatives. He serves as the ranking Republican on the manpower subcommittee of the education and labor committee. He is 48 and has a wife, Olga, and three children.

Huber, 53, is president of Michigan Chrome and Chemical Co., Detroit. He was elected to the Michigan Senate in 1964 and 1966, serving until 1970. Huber also served in the U.S. House of Representatives in 1973 and 1974 from the 18th Congressional district. He was also a candidate in the 1970 Republican party primary for the U.S. Senate. He also served as mayor of Troy from 1959 to 1964 and was a member of the Oakland county board of supervisors from 1959 to 1963. Huber and his wife, Mary, do not have any children.

No Races In 43rd, 54th Legislative Districts

Of the five State House of Representative districts in southwestern Michigan, only two, the 43rd and the 54th, have no primary races.

In the 43rd district, incumbent Republican Harry Gast, 56, St. Joseph, is seeking a fourth, two-year term in Lansing.

He will be opposed in November by Democrat Laurel P. Groenke, 66, a Baroda area farmer who has been a frequent candidate for office over the last 20 years. Gast defeated Groenke in the 1972 election.

The 43rd district includes the western and southern portions of Berrien county.

In the 54th district, Republican incumbent Edgar J. Fredricks, 32, Holland, is seeking a second, two-year term. In November, he will be opposed by Democrat Michael L. Villwock, a Holland welder.

44th DISTRICT STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Benton Harbor high school teacher Charles F. Henderson will have to overcome a Democratic primary election battle with Lawrence C. Sherman before he can have a second shot at unseating Ray Mittan, the incumbent Republican state representative of the 44th district.

Two years ago, the 28-year-old Henderson lost by 110 votes with Mittan's victory margin determined in a recount by the elections committee of the State House of Representatives. Henderson had asked for the recount.

Mittan, 64, formerly of Benton Harbor and now of Niles, has no primary election foes on the Republican side of the ticket. He is seeking his fifth full term as state legislator.

Henderson, of 822 McAllister, is a Benton Harbor native and a 1966 graduate of Benton Harbor high school. He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Western Michigan university and is working on a doctorate in educational administration through Michigan State university.

He is a speech teacher at Benton Harbor high school where he has taught since 1973. He and his wife Rosemary have three children.

Sherman, 24, -Box 157B, Townline road, Benton township, is making a fourth bid for a public office.

In 1971 he announced his candidacy for office of president of the United States. In 1972 he said he was a sticker candidate for the 44th district state legislator's seat. He was defeated last year as a candidate for the Benton Harbor school board.

A bachelor, he is a 1971 Benton Harbor high school graduate and for 2½ years attended Lake Michigan college. He describes himself as a free lance writer and historian.

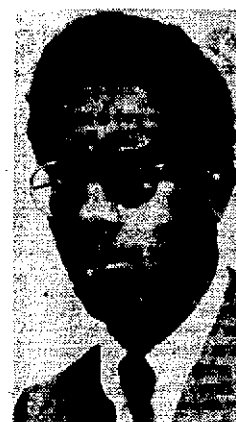

He was also a member of a

Sherman is also a volunteer worker with the Greater Benton Harbor Youth Assistance committee, an organization to coordinate youth services. It is sanc-

The 44th district includes that area in Berrien county south from Benton Harbor to Niles on the east side of the St. Joseph river (except for Sodus), plus Dowagiac and two townships in Cass county.

45th DISTRICT STATE REPRESENTATIVE

BELA KENNEDY

BANGOR — Democrats Ronald K. DeCook of Grand Junction and Merle B. Hamre of Paw Paw will clash in the party's Aug. 3 primary election to determine which of them will face 45th district State Rep. Bela Kennedy in November.

Republican Kennedy is unopposed for his party's nomination.

The 45th district includes most of Van Buren county, a southeastern portion of Allegan county, a southwestern corner of Barry county and the northern tip of Berrien county.

DeCook, 22, is on the second year of a two-year term as a county commissioner.

A 1971 graduate of Bangor high school, he is presently a senior at Michigan State university where he is studying political science. He is a bachelor.

On the county board, he has served as the board's representative to the Headstart program, the Van Buren mental health board and Keymen's organization and is a member of the finance and public works committees.

Kennedy, 58, is seeking a third, two-year-term in Lansing. He was first elected to the seat in 1971.

Berrien Circuit Judge Race

There are candidates for judge in each of Berrien county's three types of courts — circuit, probate, and district — but only those seeking the circuit court post will appear on the primary ballot.

Vying for a place on the November ballot for the new circuit judgeship are Probate Judge Zoe S. Burkholz, District Judge Ronald J. Taylor, and Atty. Yvonne Hughes.

Voters in the non-partisan election will vote for one circuit judge candidate, with the two receiving the highest total going on to the general election in November.

Unopposed in their bids for reelection are Probate Judge Ronald Lange and District Judge John T. Hammond, both of whom serve as presiding judge of their respective courts. However, their names will not appear on the primary ballot because the posts are uncontested.

The additional seat on the circuit bench was created earlier

Chester J. Byrns, cited an increasing backlog of cases and a heavier workload. Candidates are competing for a six-year term.

Judge Burkholz, 51, of 94 Hlgman Park, Benton township, was elected to the probate bench in 1972 and has also served as an acting circuit judge since appointment by the Michigan Supreme Court administrator in 1974.

Before ascending the bench, she practiced law for 25 years in Berrien county. She is married to Berrien County Commissioner R.J. Burkholz and they have two children. A graduate of Benton Harbor high, Judge Burkholz received a bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and earned her law degree from the U-M law school.

Taylor, 40, of Hlgman Park, Benton township, was elected district judge in 1974 after serving two terms as Benton township clerk and two terms as Berrien county prosecuting attorney.

As a lawyer, he has practiced before all state and federal levels of court, including the U.S. (See page 7, column 1)

4th District Congressman

Seeking the GOP party nod for the seat currently held by retiring Congressman Edward Hutchinson (R-St. Joseph) are Dave Stockman, David S. Frazer, Atty. Lee Boothby and Helen R. Take.

Richard "Mike" Daugherty, 55, of Sister Lakes, is the only candidate for the Democrat nomination. He will face the winner of the Republican runoff in November.

Hutchinson announced early this year that he would not seek re-election.

Stockman, 29, 5337 Scottdale road, St. Joseph, is a 1964 graduate of Lakeshore high school and 1968 cum laude graduate of Michigan State University. He attended graduate school at Harvard University divinity school, but interrupted his graduate studies in 1970 to take a position in Washington D.C., as a congressional staff aide. In January, 1972, he was appointed executive director of the House Republican conference, a position he held until June, 1975. Stockman is a bachelor.

Boothby, 43, route 2, Berrien Springs, is a Berrien Springs attorney. A graduate of Andrews University, he received his law degree from Wayne State University. He has been an attorney for 18 years. This will be Boothby's second bid for the GOP nomination for the congressional post. He was defeated in a primary election when Hutchinson was first elected in 1962. However, Hutchinson has endorsed Boothby as his replacement. Boothby has been active in local GOP activities and served as a constitutional convention delegate. A former assistant prosecutor of Berrien county, he is also attorney for various local governmental units and school boards. He and his wife, Carole, have two teenage daughters.

Frazer, 35, 1466 US-33 North, Benton township, has been accounts manager for Benton Harbor Engineering, a division of Koehring company for the past four years. Prior to that he was associated with Parker-Hannifin Corp., Cleveland, Ohio. A native of Maryland, Frazer graduated from Archmore academy, a Catholic school for boys at Claymont, Del., and attended John Hopkins University, Baltimore, where he was awarded a four-year scholarship by the school of engineering. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the Benton Harbor school board in 1974. He and his wife, Ethel, have six children.

Miss Take, 28, 2835 Lake Shore drive, St. Joseph, has worked for the past three years as a permanent substitute teacher for the Benton Harbor school district, while continuing her graduate studies. A political newcomer, she is a graduate of Eau Claire high school and Western Michigan University, majoring in sociology. Miss Take has traveled extensively throughout the United States and the Middle East.

Daugherty, is a native of Portland Ore., a wounded and decorated World War II veteran and has presided over UAW Local 1290 at Clark Equipment Construction Machinery division, Benton township, the past 17 years. He's a jig and fixture welder there. Daugherty was defeated by Hutchinson for the Fourth District seat in the 1974 election. He and his wife, Rae, have four grown children.

The Fourth District includes all of Berrien, Cass, Van Buren, Branch, and Lenawee counties; all of St. Joseph county except Leonidas township, all of Hillsdale county except for Litchfield township; and two townships, Tekonsha and Claredon, in Calhoun county.

Democrats Voting For Precinct Delegates, Too

Democratic party voters will elect precinct delegates in the Aug. 3 primary election in addition to choosing their party's nominees for the November general election.

The delegates will represent their precincts at all Democratic county conventions during the next two years.

The number of delegates allocated to each precinct was based on the turnout of Democratic voters in that precinct during the November, 1974, general elections.

Write-in candidates can also be elected, but they must receive at least three votes.

County delegates choose state convention delegates and the party's county executive committees. In precincts where the number of candidates exceed the allocation, the candidates receiving the highest number of votes will win.

The Republican party elected its precinct delegates in the May 18 Presidential primary election.

Supreme Court. He and his wife, Nancy, have two children. Taylor was graduated from St. Joseph Atty. Hughes, 27, of Benton Harbor, became Benton Harbor city attorney in August, 1975, and now is in private law practice in Benton Harbor. She is single.

A native of Ithaca, N.Y., Atty. Hughes was graduated from Oberlin college in Oberlin, Ohio, and holds a law degree from the University of Michigan law school, from which she was graduated in 1973. She has also served as director of a land/tenant clinic for the Detroit Legal Aid society.

Berrien Countywide Offices

Berrien county will have no primary contests for countywide offices on either party ticket, and Berrien Republicans will be opposed for only one office in the November general election.

The lone Democrat seeking a county post is Jesse W. Howard, who is unopposed for his party's nomination for sheriff. Howard, 59, of 10201 Gordon drive, Union Pier, will be paired on the November ballot against Republican Incumbent Sheriff Forrest "Nick" Jewell.

Six other GOP candidates, all but one an incumbent, will be unopposed and are assured of election barring an unprecedented tide of write-in votes.

Jewell, 46, of 3489 Valley View drive, St. Joseph township, is seeking his third four-year term as sheriff. Jewell in the general election, four years ago, accumulated more votes than any other county candidate while running unopposed.

Others Republicans unopposed in the primary and general elections include:

Prosecutor — John A. Smietanka, 34, 5181 Notre Dame road, Lincoln township. He seeks his first full term after being appointed and later elected in 1974.

Clerk — Forrest H. Kesterke, 55, 473 South Ottawa road, Fairplain, seeking a fourth term.

Treasurer — William C. Heyn, 63, Jericho road, Lake township, seeking a third term.

Register of Deeds — Judith Litke Hecht, 33, 701 Shaker Farm road, Berrien Springs, seeking a third term.

Drain commissioner — Carl Gnodtke, 40, Sawyer, seeking his first full term after being appointed to fill a vacancy earlier this year.

Surveyor — Maurice R. Rushlow, 43, 2105 Morton avenue, St. Joseph. Rushlow, the present deputy surveyor, seeks the position that will be vacated by the retirement of incumbent G. Lynn Wightman.

Berrien Commissioner Districts

There are primary election contests in only three of Berrien county's 13 county commissioner districts, with two involving Democratic races and the third a Republican battle.

The Democratic races are in the 4th and 13th districts where two men each seek the nomination. The GOP contest is in the 11th district where three are vying for the party nod.

In the 4th, the Democrat candidates are Victor E. Greer and Morgan L. Hager. In the 13th, the candidates are Mowitt S. Drew and Richard L. Camp. The GOP contest pits D. Keith Welsh, Ernest A. Chase and Joseph Garbert II against each other for the party nomination in the 11th.

Greer, 44, of 1130 Salem avenue, Benton Harbor, is seeking his fifth term in the district which includes most of Benton Harbor. He is president of Durable Products Inc., Benton Harbor. His opponent, Hager, 30, 205 Parker avenue, is making his first bid for elective office. He's a laborer at Superior Steel in Benton Harbor. The winner will be unopposed in November since no Republicans filed for the office.

In the 13th, the two Democrat candidates, Drew and Camp, and Republican Ralph H. Tuttle, Niles, are seeking to succeed Leslie Fischer who is not seeking re-election. Tuttle, 57, of 730 Colony court, Niles, is unopposed in seeking the GOP nomination. The 13th district includes all of Niles city and part of Niles township.

Camp, 53, of 618 South St. Joseph avenue, Niles, is running for his first term on the county board. He is semi-retired and previously owned and operated Camp's drug store in Niles for 20 years. Drew, 57, of 712 Brown street, Niles, is also making his first bid for a county board seat. Drew has practiced as an attorney in Niles for 27 years, and was mayor of the city from 1956 to 1964.

In the three-way GOP contest in District 11 Garbert, Chase, and Welsh all seek the nomination for the seat being vacated by incumbent Frank Poorman who is not seeking re-election. The district includes Galien and Buchanan townships, Buchanan city and parts of Niles and Bertrand townships.

Garbert, 28, 503 West Roe, Buchanan, is a former Buchanan mayor and the youngest person to seek nomination this year. He is manager of the Sexton Furniture company in Buchanan.

Chase, 45, US-12 East, Galien, was a county commissioner in Berrien from 1968 to 1972, and served as chairman of the board's finance committee during his tenure. He owns two businesses in Galien—Chase Accounting Service and Chase Insurance Service Center.

Welsh, 43, 304 Lake street, Buchanan, is making his first bid for the county board. He is the owner of the Stationery Center in Buchanan, and served as president of the Buchanan

The only Democrat seeking the nomination for the District 11 seat is Lewis (Jerry) Mason, 54, 409 Meccasin avenue, Buchanan. He also ran unopposed in the 1964 Democratic primary for the commission seat.

Running unopposed in the primary and general election are incumbents:

R.J. Burkholz, Republican, 94 Higman Park, Benton township, for District 1; Bill Joseph, Democrat, 599 Green street, Benton Harbor, in District 3; Nancy Clark, Republican, 178 Meadow Terrace, Fairplain, for District 5; Lad Stacey, Republican, 423 South Kimmel, Berrien Springs, in District 6; and Roland Oselka, Republican, 515 Lake drive, New Buffalo, in District 10.

Benton Harbor high school teacher Charles F. Henderson will have to overcome a Democratic primary election battle with Lawrence C. Sherman before he can have a second shot at unseating Ray Mittan, the incumbent Republican state representative of the 44th district.

Two years ago, the 28-year-old Henderson lost by 110 votes with Mittan's victory margin determined in a recount by the elections committee of the State House of Representatives. Henderson had asked for the recount.

Mittan, 64, formerly of Benton Harbor and now of Niles, has no primary election foes on the Republican side of the ticket. He is seeking his fifth full term as state legislator.

Henderson, of 822 McAllister, is a Benton Harbor native and a 1966 graduate of Benton Harbor high school. He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Western Michigan university and is working on a doctorate in educational administration through Michigan State university.

He is a speech teacher at Benton Harbor high school where he has taught since 1973. He and his wife Rosemary have three children.

Sherman, 24, Box 157B, Townline road, Benton township, is making a fourth bid for a public office.

In 1971 he announced his candidacy for office of president of the United States. In 1972 he said he was a sticker candidate for the 44th district state legislator's seat. He was defeated last year as a candidate for the Benton Harbor school board.

A bachelor, he is a 1971 Benton Harbor high school graduate and for 2½ years attended Lake Michigan college. He describes himself as a free lance writer and historian.

He was also a member of a

BANGOR — Democrats Ronald K. DeCook of Grand Junction and Merle B. Hamre of Paw Paw will clash in the party's Aug. 3 primary election to determine which of them will face 45th district State Rep. Bela Kennedy in November.

Republican Kennedy is unopposed for his party's nomination.

The 45th district includes most of Van Buren county, a southeastern portion of Allegan county, a southwestern corner of Barry county and the northern tip of Berrien county.

DeCook, 22, is on the second year of a two-year term as a county commissioner.

Berrien Circuit Judge Race

There are candidates for judge in each of Berrien county's three types of courts — circuit, probate, and district — but only those seeking the circuit court post will appear on the primary ballot.

Vying for a place on the November ballot for the new circuit judgeship are Probate Judge Zoe S. Burkholz, District Judge Ronald J. Taylor, and Atty. Yvonne Hughes.

Voters in the non-partisan election will vote for one circuit judge candidate, with the two receiving the highest total going on to the general election in November.

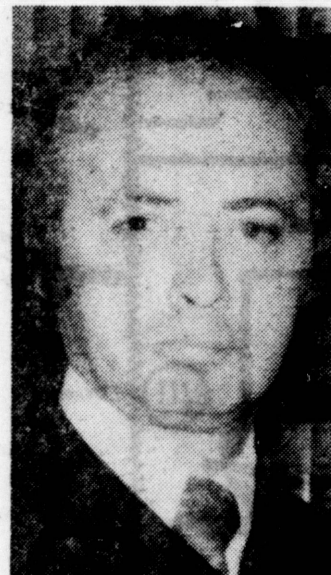

Unopposed in their bids for reelection are Probate Judge Ronald Lange and District Judge John T. Hammond, both of whom serve as presiding judge of their respective courts. However, their names will not appear on the primary ballot because the posts are uncontested.

The additional seat on the circuit bench was created earlier

Chikaming

LAKESIDE—Republican races for Chikaming township treasurer and trustee face voters in the township's Aug. 3 primary election with two GOP candidates for treasurer and three for trustee.

Incumbent Treasurer Virginia Sperry, 57, Wolcott avenue, Sawyer is being challenged by Frederick R. Cluster, route 2, Three Oaks for nomination for the two-year seat. Mrs. Sperry, a housewife, has two grown sons. Cluster, 47, works at Bendix in St. Joseph. He and his wife, Freida, have three children.

The four-year trustee nomination is sought by incumbent Arthur Sandtveit, 52, of Harbert; Bert M. Granke, 44, of Sawyer and Arthur Hauch, 49, route 1, Sawyer. Sandtveit is employed by Lakeside Vineyards and he and his wife, Barbara, have two children. Granke, an operator for Operating Engineers Local 324, and his wife, Inez, have five children. Hauch, on leave from Fruitbelt Motors, St. Joseph, and his wife Edith have five children.

Other candidates on the ballot, all Republicans, are unopposed, in seeking nominations.

They are incumbent Supervisor Donald C. Peterson, 45, Sawyer; incumbent clerk Clerk Lena Abrahamson, 69, 5340 Warren Woods road; Dennis H. Klemchen, 28, route 1, Sawyer, for constable; C. William Denk, Harbert, and John Frambach, Sawyer, for two, six-year park board nominations; and Elsie Priest, Three Oaks, a two-year Park board nomination. No Democrats filed.

Voters will also be faced with two property tax proposals totaling 1.5 mills.

The first proposal asks voters for approval of a one-mill levy for two years to raise funds for the purchase of a new pumper truck and other equipment for the township fire department.

The second proposal asks voters for approval of a half-mill levy for two years to pay policemen for additional hours of patrol.

The one-mill levy, if passed, would raise about $35,000 a year, and the half-mill would raise about $17,500 a year, township officials have said.

A similar proposal, asking a three-year levy of 1.5 mills for the fire department, was defeated in the May 18 Presidential primary election.

Coloma

COLOMA — Coloma township Republicans will decide which candidates will be nominated for the posts of supervisor, two-year trustee and two constables during the primary election, Tuesday, Aug. 3.

Three people seek the supervisor nomination. They are incumbent Ewald W. Eckblom, and challengers Harold (Brigg) C. Johnson and Edward F. Ladwig. The trustee contest pits incumbent William Kennedy against Jacob Thar.

Eckblom, 64, of 6755 Pine Court, a widower, seeks his first two-year term as supervisor after being appointed to the position last November when the former supervisor resigned.

Eckblom was elected township clerk in November, 1974. He had been appointed to that post initially in January, 1974.

Johnson, 35, is employed by the Berrien county road commission as an equipment operator. He and his wife Karen and five children reside at 5719 Little Paw Paw Lake road. He seeks his first public office.

Ladwig, 69, of 6940 48th avenue, a widower, is a retired production engineer for Fisher body, division of General Motors, at Warren, Mich., and presently trains Labrador retrievers. Ladwig was defeated for the Republican nomination for supervisor in the August, 1974 primary election by one vote to then incumbent Supervisor Roger Carter.

In the trustee race, Kennedy, 46, of 5624 Springhill road, is a drafting supervisor for the St. Joseph division of Whirlpool corp. He was appointed to the board in November, 1975, to fill a portion of an unexpired four-year term and now seeks the remaining two years of that office. Kennedy and his wife Millie have one child.

Thar, 57, of 4975 Red Arrow highway, is a general mechanic at the Clark Equipment Co., Benton Harbor. A chief steward for Local 1289, UAW, Thar and his wife, Kathleen Ruby, have four children.

In the constable race, Michael D. Stewart, Willard Parmer and Harold Nitz are seeking the two available GOP nominations. The top two vote-getters will be the winners. Stewart lives at 5938 Front street, while Nitz resides at 5274 Coloma road and Parmer at 5455 DeField road.

Also appearing on the ballot will be two other GOP contests, but in each case one of the two candidates involved has died. They are John Ferris, incumbent clerk, and John McCreery, incumbent trustee.

The deaths leave Jack Page, 38, 7110 Angling road, seeking the GOP clerk's nomination and Nona Stewart, 39, 6901 Island court, seeking the four-year trustee nod. Page is former township police chief and is now a fruit farmer. Miss Stewart is an employee at the Coloma post office. She is a sister of the Stewart seeking a constable nomination.

On the ballot without primary opposition are incumbent treasurer Robert Palmer, Republican, seeking nomination for re-election and Richard V. Hazen Sr., seeking the Democratic treasurer's nomination. Palmer, 63, lives at 6786 Sunset drive. Hazen, 59, lives at 50-49 Coloma North road. They will face each other in November.

Galien

GALIEN — Republican voters in Galien township have the only contested race to settle in the Aug. 3 primary. Two men are seeking the party nod for the one available township board trustee post up in this year's balloting.

The two Republican candidates are Warren R. Hickok, 53, 203 Southeastern avenue and Stephen M. Nichols, 28, 203 South Cleveland avenue, both of Galien. They are seeking a post being vacated by trustee Clark Sherman. Hickok, an accountant at Kawnoor in Niles, and his wife, Joyce, have six children. Nichols, an electrical technician at Leco, St. Joseph, and his wife, Ann, have one child.

The winner will face Democratic opposition in November from Francis James, 49, route 1, Galien, the incumbent supervisor who is unopposed on the Democratic ticket for the trustee's seat.

Candidates for the supervisor's post being vacated by James are Republican Clyde Carr, 44, and Democrat Daniel Derbas, 29, both of route 1, Galien, who are unopposed in seeking their party's nomination in primary balloting.

Other unopposed primary candidates are Republican Helen Lutz, 34, and Democrat incumbent Russell Babcock, 70, both of route 1, Galien, seeking party nominations for clerk; and Democratic incumbent Dorothy Murdock, 46, and Republican Joyce Chase, 41, both of route 1, Galien, seeking nominations as treasurer.

Hagar

Two Republicans seek their party's nomination for township trustee during the Hagar township primary election, Aug. 3.

Berrien Countywide Offices

Berrien county will have no primary contests for countywide offices on either party ticket, and Berrien Republicans will be opposed for only one office in the November general election.

November ballot against Republican Incumbent Sheriff Forrest "Nick" Jewell.

The winner will be unopposed in November since no Republicans filed for the office.

BRANDYWINE CHARTER BALLOTING

NILES — Voters in a major portion of Niles township and a small section of Bertrand township could establish the second largest city in Berrien county by approving a charter for the proposed city of Brandywine in the Aug. 3 primary election.

Voters will decide whether to approve a charter that calls for elected offices of mayor, treasurer, clerk and five at-large councilmen. All candidates would be elected on a non-partisan basis.

Benton Harbor City Election

Benton Harbor city voters will ballot Aug. 3 in a special election to fill four recalled seats on the city commission.

The date is the same as the state primary election. But the city election is not a primary or nominating election. Top vote-getters in city balloting will take office without a runoff election.

Only a plurality, not a majority is required to win the mayoral seat for which there are three candidates. There are two candidates each for one commissioner-at-large post and the Third

Ward commissioner seat.

Terms are for the balance of the terms of the recalled officials. The mayoral, commissioner-at-large and Second Ward commissioner terms expire in December, 1979; the Third Ward commissioner term in December, 1977.

Also on the ballot is a recall proposition on Helen Ford, commissioner-at-large, and a member of the Clean State that included recalled former Mayor Charles Joseph and three city commissioners.

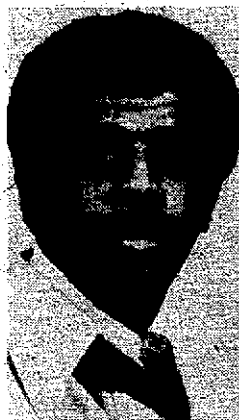

Candidates for mayor are Donald Finley, 36, 132 Robbins avenue; Ralph Lhotka, 57, 444 Division street; and Joel Patterson, 34, 258 East Empire avenue. All three candidates are married and have children.

Finley, a Bendix Corp. employee, was laid off from the Benton Harbor police department earlier this year because of budget cuts. He also is a former city fireman.

Lhotka, an assistant supervisor at Heath Co., was a city commissioner 18 years up to 1971. He also was a member of the city charter commission.

Patterson is owner of Village Variety store which he opened in 1974. He formerly was regional manager for sporting goods for 34 stores in the K-mart chain.

BRANDYWINE CHARTER BALLOTING

NILES — Voters in a major portion of Niles township and a small section of Bertrand township could establish the second largest city in Berrien county by approving a charter for the proposed city of Brandywine in the Aug. 3 primary election.

Ballots will also be cast for a full slate of candidates who will be elected to city offices should the charter be approved.

If approved, the new city would take in all but 12 square miles in north Niles township, or about 85 to 90 per cent of the township, and a two square mile section of northeast Bertrand township. The new city would have an estimated population of 16,000 — the second largest city in Berrien county.

Voters will decide whether to approve a charter that calls for elected offices of mayor, treasurer, clerk and five at-large councilmen. All candidates would be elected on a non-partisan basis.

This will be the second time voters have been asked to approve a charter for the proposed city. In 1970, the proposal was defeated. A new charter commission was elected in 1974 and drafted the charter that will be before voters in the primary.

Seeking the mayor's post will be Wayne R. Stevens, Dr. Robert B. Jessen and Robert G. Wilson.

Van Buren Commissioners, Millage

PAW PAW — A proposal to renew for two years a four-tenths mill property tax levy for ambulance operations will be decided by Van Buren county voters in the Aug. 3 primary.

Voters will also pick Republican nominees for seats on the county board of commissioners in Districts Five and Eight. In the other seven county commission districts Democrats and Republicans are unopposed in the primary.

In District Five, newcomer Bill Kemp will challenge incumbent Gerald Rendel, while the District Eight race matches a pair of brothers-in-law, Robert J. Wellman and Wesley W. Wickett. Incumbent Donald Hanson is not seeking re-election.

The ambulance millage was first approved by county voters in 1972 and renewed in 1974. If approved, it would generate an estimated $129,403 in the first year.

The money is distributed on a per capita basis in each of the county's eight ambulance districts to support services.

Rendel, 61, route 1, Gobles, has served on the board of commissioners for 26 years and is presently chairman of the finance committee. He operates a blueberry farm and is also employed at a Kalamazoo paper mill. He and his wife, Mary, have six children.

Benton Harbor City Election

Benton Harbor city voters will ballot Aug. 3 in a special election to fill four recalled seats on the city commission.

The date is the same as the state primary election. But the city election is not a primary or nominating election. Top vote-getters in city balloting will take office without a runoff election.

Only a plurality, not a majority is required to win the mayoral seat for which there are three candidates. There are two candidates each for one commissioner-at-large post and the Third

Ward commissioner seat.

Terms are for the balance of the terms of the recalled officials. The mayoral, commissioner-at-large and Second Ward commissioner terms expire in December, 1979; the Third Ward commission term in December, 1977.

Also on the ballot is a recall proposition on Helen Ford, commissioner-at-large, and a member of the Clean Slate that included recalled former Mayor Charles Joseph and three city commissioners.

Candidates for mayor are Donald Finley, 36, 132 Robbins avenue; Ralph Lhotka, 57, 444 Division street; and Joel Patterson, 34, 258 East Empire avenue. All three candidates are married and have children.

Finley, a Bendix Corp. employee, was laid off from the Benton Harbor police department earlier this year because of budget cuts. He also is a former city fireman.

Lhotka, an assistant supervisor at Heath Co., was a city commissioner 18 years up to 1971. He also was a member of the city charter commission.

Patterson is owner of Village Variety store which he opened in 1974. He formerly was regional manager for sporting goods for 34 stores in the K-mart chain.

- Move the RED HANDLE to the RIGHT, and LEAVE IT THERE. This CLOSES CURTAINS and UNLOCKS the MACHINE.
- To Vote for a Proposal, turn DOWN a pointer over the word "YES" or "NO" for each Proposal (if any) at the top of the machine. Leave voting pointers DOWN.
- To Vote in the Partisan Section of the Ballot: NOTE! There are THREE Sections to this Ballot.
  - DEMOCRATIC PARTY
  - REPUBLICAN PARTY
  - PARTY QUALIFICATION Section.
 You may vote in only ONE Partisan Section of the Ballot.
 Select the Section of the Partisan Ballot of your choice by turning DOWN the Party Lever located on the LOWER RIGHT HAND SIDE of the machine. (On newer machines numbered above 128216, this step is not necessary, as the first voting pointer turned down selects the section of the Partisan Ballot on which you may vote.)
  - If you choose to vote in the Democratic or Republican Party, TURN VOTING POINTERS DOWN OVER THE NAMES of Candidates of your choice. Vote for not more than the number of candidates as indicated under the Office Titles. LEAVE VOTING POINTERS DOWN.
  - If you choose to Vote in the Party Qualification Section of the Ballot, TURN VOTING POINTER DOWN OVER THE NAME OF THE PARTY you wish to qualify for a position on the next General Election Ballot. LEAVE VOTING POINTER DOWN.
- To Vote in the Non-Partisan Section of the Ballot, turn Voting Pointers DOWN over the names of the Candidates of your choice. Vote for not more than the number of Candidates as indicated under the Office Titles. LEAVE VOTING POINTERS DOWN.
- To Vote for a person whose name is not printed on the machine, raise the metal slide directly over the name of the office for which that person is a candidate and write or place the name of that person on the paper exposed. (SEE EXAMPLE)
- LEAVE VOTING POINTERS DOWN and MOVE the RED HANDLE to the LEFT. This RECORDS YOUR VOTE and opens the curtains.

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION

As no votes are registered until the curtain lever is moved by you to open the curtain you can make as many changes as you wish while the curtain lever is at the right side.
 The machine is so arranged that you cannot turn down any more Pointers than the proper amount for each office, therefore you need have no fear of spoiling your ballot by voting for too many candidates.
 Each candidate's Pointer is located just above the name; so be sure to turn down the Pointer over the name of the candidate you wish to vote for and leave it down.
 There is no danger of anyone knowing how you vote as the movement of the curtain lever returns the Pointers to their unvoted position before the curtain begins to open, so be sure to leave the Pointers down.
